

popular refrain which is neither fair nor intelligent. A girl who knows nothing of world or local affairs cannot call her own education complete and cannot be an enlightened, and therefore useful, member of her community.

POETRY TO BE READ TONIGHT

The Saint Mary's broadcast of poetry readings was forced to give up its allotted time to a speech of national importance made by Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary. Nevertheless, the program is definitely scheduled for tonight at 10:45.

It is hoped that the entire student body will take fifteen of its crowded minutes to listen to a program that represents an enterprise of fellow-students who are poetry lovers and who will bring to you the very best of their own inspirations.

When Mr. Ralph Burgin, who calls himself the "Old Night-Watchman," read over the poetry from which tonight's program will be selected, he said the poems were excellent and representative of real talent. He also admitted frankly that he was surprised at the high calibre of the work and much pleased at the variety of style, subject, and treatment.

CAMPUS NOTES

On January 12, Dean Ramundo de Ovies of the Cathedral of Atlanta will speak to the student body on "Personality."

* * *

On December 5, Miss Wilburta Horn sang the soprano solos in Haydn's Oratorio, "The Seasons," which was presented in the Hill Music Hall at Chapel Hill.

* * *

On December 2, 1938, Miss Mary Ruth Haig presented a piano concert to students and guests as the second in a series of faculty recitals.

Miss Haig's first selection was Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, which is familiar to and much loved as a particular favorite of music lovers. She played the three movements, calling attention to the striking contrast of the second and third. The second group of selections was made up of four romantic compositions by Chopin, Brahms, Debussy, and Liszt. Miss Haig concluded her recital with Schumann's Concerto in A Minor, being assisted by Miss Scott at the second piano in orchestral accompaniment.

Miss Wilburta Horn assisted Miss Haig with the program with a group of four songs in which she was accompanied on the piano by Mr. William H. Jones, head of the Music Department.

* * *

The closed Saturday night on December 3, 1938, with formal dress for dinner, was really enjoyed by Saint Mary's. The important event was the presentation of a program by the University of North Carolina Glee Club.

Among the selections they sang were "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Him," by Bach; "Adoramus Te," by Mozart; and "The Nightingale," by Weelkes. They presented a few folk songs of which "The Little Shepherdess," an old French ballad, brought tremendous applause. "Hame, Hame, Hame," an old Scotch song, was also enjoyed. The ever-popular "Ma Lindy Lou" by Strickland was presented in a beautiful arrangement.

Supplementing the performance of the Glee Club, Mr. William Klenz, graduate of the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, played four excellent cello solos.

After the concert, the Carolina Glee Club was entertained in the parlor by the students, who found them as charming dancers as singers.

* * *

In honor of that very special week in lives of all present at Saint Mary's girls and Faculty, many lovely, special selections and anthems have been played and sung in Chapel. Last Sunday morning the Choir sang the Benedictus Es by Matthews. The anthem was Father Most Merciful by Cesar Franck, solo part sung by Annie Hyman Bunn and with violin obligato by Mrs. Dorothy Alden. At Evensong the Nunc Dimittis by Maunder; the organ selection was March of the Wise Men by Dubois, which becomes even more a favorite of Saint Mary's every year.

* * *

On Sunday, December 4, the flowers on the altar were given in memory of Louise Floyd Wickham, who gave many books to the library of this school. Miss Wickham was not a student of Saint Mary's, but she was baptized and confirmed in the Chapel and loved the school dearly.

* * *

On December 4, the Doctors' Daughters' Club attended the Early Communion Service in the Chapel. The Club is doing excellent work at this time for they have donated generously to a poor family in Raleigh and carried out the Tuberculosis Seal Drive in this school.

* * *

At the regular meeting of the Y. P. S. L. held on December 11, Vice President Harriet Corbitt presided. The program committee, headed by Mary Kistler, presented several interesting talks based on the four ideals of the Y. P. S. L.: Worship, Service, Fellowship, and Study. Merrie Haynes, Hallie Townes, and Adelaide Curtis told what has been done and what can be done in service to the home, parish, and the diocese respectively. By helping with our Christmas box to the children at Sewanee and with the Birthday and Thank Offerings, Saint Mary's can feel that it is performing real service.

GYM NOTES

Everyone is very sorry that the athletic field has not been dry enough to continue the soccer lessons, but Miss Harvey hopes to start the game off after the holidays. Everyone is also looking forward to having tumbling, volley ball, and basketball in January.

* * *

The creative dancing that was started this week in class seems to have stirred up a real interest among the girls. In the advanced class they are making up their own routines, and seem to be doing very well.

* * *

Ping-pong matches should be played off as soon as possible.

ALUMNÆ NEWS

The new nominees for Saint Mary's Alumnae Council are: Mrs. Bennett H. Perry (Katherine Drane), of Henderson; Mrs. T. W. M. Long (Minnie Burgwyn), of Roanoke Rapids; Mrs. Tom Powell (Katherine Duff), of Raleigh; Mrs. Gordon Thomas (Betty Rose Phillips), of Raleigh; Mrs. Ross Sigmon (Marie Hardin), of Salisbury; and Mrs. Theo. Thomas (Catherine Miller), of Wilson.

'34

Mary Kitty Atkins, now of Queenstown, Maryland, was here on November 30.