

Saint's Sallies

Those long dreaded exams are over! Thank goodness! But most of us left for week-ends after our st exams.

Bobby Jean, Mary Holmes, and Zuzette Callum went to Chapel Hill and had a grand time at the Bowery all. They certainly played the parts of Can-Can girls. . . . Most of the other seniors went home, in fact most of us did, and they all really looked up some excitement. . . . Barthe saw her "onliest one"; he just walked in from New York—she didn't even know he was coming.

Ruth Hayes thinks she's in love, last, with her ensign that was come on leave. . . . Stuart dated that arling lieutenant that looks like an Johnson, every night that she has home. She ought to know how he's being envied. . . . Betty Griffin and THE navy lieutenant had a glorious time until they had to say good-bye; he left for overseas Friday. . . . Betty Lou dated that cute sailor boy after she got home, but he stopped by to see a certain medical student in Richmond when she was flying home. . . . Maria dated the major—naturally. . . . and naturally Phyllis' Wake Forest interests went to Portsmouth to see her. . . . Eleanor's eyes are still starry looking from her big times with the new ensign. Getting serious, El? . . .

Bettie and Amie had fun at home too, ask them about the hour that they got in and where they went. Those who didn't go to Carolina for home took off on visits. A big crowd went to Goldsboro. . . . Dee and Bee and Nan went to Tarboro to see Dale and Kate. We hear that Bee made a conquest. . . . Loula and Spot visited in Roanoke Rapids, Ponce and Jane C. in Roanoke, and Wee, Susan and May Taylor in Lynchburg. . . . Sarah Buchanan must have had a glorious time—she was spellbound when she got back.

Sally Ann wrote a fan letter last week and in return mail she received a "nice" letter and a picture. . . . Carolyn Hill has just acquired a new picture and a live kitten. Mary Tom's taking off for West Point this week-end. . . . Betty Ann Cooper will go up to Davidson for the dances, and Betty Grif to Carolina. . . . Carolyn Holland is giving up going to New York just to go home to see the "pin-up" boy. . . . Bobbie, Katherine, and Ella are excited about the coming dances at State. . . . And all the freshmen and sophomores are looking forward to their dance.

Mystery has come to Saint Mary's. Jean Campbell received a strange unsigned letter Monday, and Rose Wallace has an unknown admirer too—first a Christmas present and now gardenias.

Tuga's marine sent her another picture from the Pacific, and Wood has just gotten a Deke pin from an ensign in the same ocean. . . . Betty Griffin got some pictures from Saipan last week and also a bracelet made out of coins taken from a dead Jap on that island.

Mary Arden Tucker and Sallie Robertson are now about the two most envied girls in school since they got to go to the Jimmie Dorsey dance last night.

CAMPUS NOTES

Miss Florence Davis entertained her book club January 23.

Hall Partrick, Mrs. Theodore Partrick's son, visited his mother last week before going overseas with the French Field Service.

Mary Ann Manship is managing the badminton tournament, which is scheduled to be played early in this semester.

Amie Watkins is manager of the Mu basketball team and Mary Ellen Wellons is managing the Sigma team this season.

Tuga Wilson has recently been asked to become a member of Orchesis.

Alma Young ('44) visited Saint Mary's January 29. Mary West Paul also visited here the week-end of January 27.

Miss Ann Christian, former business teacher at Saint Mary's who is now studying at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, visited Miss Betsy Blount January 26.

Anna Margaret Moomaw went to Cambridge, Ohio, last week-end to see her brother, Pvt. Ben Moomaw, who is a patient in the General Hospital there. Pvt. Moomaw has recently returned from the Eastern Theater of Operations.

Marcia McMillin, Louise Eichhorn and Gwen Hughes, members of the harmony class, gave a program of Madrigal on January 15 for Miss Mabel Morrison's English history class. They presented the same program January 23 for Miss Morrison's book club which met at the home of Mrs. Eliot Stoughton. Russell Broughton also gave a talk on the Madrigal.

Betsy Scott Thompson (ex '45) is singing the leading role in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Gondoliers," which is being given in Chapel Hill, beginning January 26.

Jean Conover, Joan Reese, Frances Avera, Cissie Mull and Bobbie Blum participated in a community sing at State College on January 17.

Bess Parker Banks will leave Saint Mary's February 13. Bess says that she may join the WAVES when she is twenty at the end of this month.

Nancy Mercer will not return to school until February 12 because of illness.

Lt. Carl A. Haller of the United States Army Signal Corps spoke to the student body February 5.

The TIME Current Affairs Test was taken by the student body February 7 in assembly. The results will be posted as soon as possible.

Bettie Gaither ('44) visited the campus January 27.

Hall Council Campus has been changed from Wednesday to Wednesday to Tuesday to Tuesday.

There will be a room inspection Saturday morning, February 10.

Sibyl Goerch is boarding in Holt for about two weeks while her mother is out of town.

Betty Griffin is secretary to the President Pro Tem of the Senate, Archibald Gay, during the present session of the North Carolina State Legislature.

Mrs. Ernest Cruikshank visited her son, Ernest Cruikshank, Jr., for several days last week at his home in Sewarren, New Jersey.

The Rev. Mr. Israel Harding Hughes visited his father, the Rev. N. C. Hughes, D.D., and his sisters, Carrie and Elizabeth Hughes, during the week of January 29.

The first of our Lenten preachers will be the Rev. William S. Lea of Christ Church, Raleigh, who will preach on Ash Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank P. Spruill of Rocky Mount, the mother of Kate Spruill, former alumni secretary, was a visitor at Saint Mary's during the week of January 29.

Rev. James McDowell Dick of the Church of the Good Shepherd preached in the Saint Mary's Chapel on January 28, exchanging pulpits with the Rev. Mr. I. Harding Hughes.

The Rev. Mr. I. Harding Hughes performed the marriage ceremony of Miss Catherine Gantt and Craven Smith, both of Greensboro, in the Saint Mary's Chapel on January 26.

Members of the Saint Mary's faculty and staff attended a reception at Meredith College on Founder's Day.

Ensign I. Harding Hughes, Jr., expects to visit his parents on February 18. For the past five weeks he has been attending the Fleet Sonar School in Key West, Florida.

Georgia Murphy (H. S., '44) visited the campus on January 29. She is at present attending George Washington University.

Miss Peggy Hopkins attended an alumni meeting in Rocky Mount on January 26 at the home of Mrs. Vivian Davenport. Twenty alumni from Rocky Mount attended the meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Hollis, head of the business department at Saint Mary's last year, has accepted a position at Campbell College.

The Canterbury Club is sending ten delegates to a convention at

Off Campus Capers

The week-end after exams really proved profitable for lots of the day students. Betty Terry went to Winston-Salem to attend the Bowman Gray Medical Dance, and from all reports it was really superb. Jane Winston attended a dance up at Woodberry Forest.

Frances Bickett, Bettie Kendrick, and Betsy Tom Lawrence had that certain gleam in their eyes Monday morning which told of their wonderful week-ends.

Wasn't the State-Wake Forest basketball game exciting? Betsy Buchanan thought so, but we bet she doesn't know that State won 57-37. Many of the day girls enjoyed parties at the Sigma Pi's and Pika's at State. And Saint Mary's was well represented at the State Mid-Winters; Mary Helen Wilson was a sponsor.

Betsy London Cordon is sponsoring the Southern Conference Tournament. Ann Cutts had a lovely time over at Duke.

Sibyl has deserted us for a few weeks. She is living at school with Mary Dickey and Eleanor Thomas.

Lib Bell just got back from New York and can't seem to get settled down, but who can blame her? Rumor has it that Sue Tuck and Jane Lee Parker met some very attractive football players last week-end.

Now that exams are over, we'll have more time for our capers—so here's to them.

Duke University. The delegates are Susan Thorp, Betsy Durham, Ditty Robinson, Sister Smith, Roberta Bryant, Ginger Young, Caroline Long, Katherine Royall, Penny Fagan, Catherine Foard.

Helen Batchelor and Bobby Cherry (bus., '44) visited Saint Mary's February 3.

The present total of funds raised for the Centennial Campaign is $154,135, including some $7,500 donated during December. This total shows an increase of about $10,000 over the total as of November 27. Approximately $35,000 of this total amount is the issuance value of United States Bonds.

Saint Mary's is now entitled to fly the Treasury E Flag for Schools at War because over 90 per cent of the student body has bought War Stamps during January.

Any girl wishing to buy a War Bond should see her hall representative, who will be glad to fill out a request and see that the bond is bought and delivered.

Kate Broadfoot, Mary Arden Tucker, and Sara Coe Hunsucker will attend a meeting of the Student Executive Committee at Meredith College tonight.

May Bunn has been elected president of the Letter Club to replace Bess Parker Banks in that office.