

MISS MARY RUTH HAIG PRESENTS FIRST FACULTY RECITAL

Russell Broughton Is Accompanist for Concerto

Miss Mary Ruth Haig presented her annual piano recital in the Saint Mary's Auditorium on Tuesday night, October 23. It was the first faculty recital of the 1945-46 series.

Miss Haig was very well received. Her numbers were well selected and had genuine appeal to the audience. She opened her program with Schumann's well known "Kreisleriana, Opus 16," divided into the movements "Vivacissimo," "Andante con molto sentimento," "Allegro molto appassionata."

SECOND PART

The second part of her program consisted of two of Chopin's most beautiful compositions, "Nocturne in B flat minor," and "Fantasie in B minor"; Rachmaninoff's "Romance in F minor"; Prokofieff's "Gavotta in F flat minor," and Liszt's very beautiful "Etude in D flat."

CONCERTO

For her final selection, Miss Haig played Schumann's "Concerto in A minor, Opus 54" and was accompanied on the second piano by Mr. Russell Broughton, who played the orchestral score.

Miss Haig's encores consisted of: "Sumare" from "Saudades de Brazil" by Milhaud, and the second movement of Schumann's concerto, which Mr. Broughton played with her also.

EVERY-MEMBER CANVAS IS SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED

Students Pledge $908.50; Faculty Pledges $339.10

The campaign for the Every-Member Canvass under supervision of Mr. William C. Guess has been successful this year with 100 per cent of the students making a pledge. The amount pledged by the students is $908.50, and the amount pledged by twenty-nine members of the faculty is $339.10, bringing the total amount to $1,247.60.

Normal expenses for the Chapel during the calendar year usually amount to around $1,000. This money is used for the diocesan church program maintenance fund, and local expenses. Contributions in excess of the amount necessary for these expenses is used to build up a surplus for unusual outlays, as for example, vestments for the choir, which should be gotten some time soon.

Miss Peggy Hopkins assisted Mr. Guess in canvassing the faculty. Those canvassing the students were: Katherine Royall, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, assisted by Margaret Martin, Jane Lewis, Sallie Lee, and Dab-

Stamps Are To Be Sold At Little Store

The next and last War Loan Drive opens October 29. The quota for Wake County is $4,200,000.

The booth down by the Little Store will be headquarters for the sale of stamps here at Saint Mary's. Every afternoon until Christmas this booth will be open Monday through Friday from 5:45 until 6:15 for the sale of ten and twenty-five cent stamps. This is a good opportunity to complete books not finished last year. It is hoped that many will buy a bond by Christmas. If 90% of the student body buys at least a ten-cent stamp during the last days of October we will be able to fly our Minute-Man Flag during November.

On November 2 there will be a big Victory Bond parade here in Raleigh.

Miss Morris Sketches

Behind The Coal Pile

You might find her in the Art Studio, but more than likely you will find her out sketching with a class in some very unusual place, such as behind the coal pile. She is Miss Kathrine Morris, Saint Mary's new art teacher.

Saint Mary's isn't so strange to Miss Morris, however, because, aside from the fact that she lives right across the street in the Boylan Apartments, she came to school here herself for four years. Also she stayed an extra year, teaching Art History when the regular teacher was in an accident, and also holding the position of assistant physical education teacher.

Miss Morris continued her art training at the Raleigh School of Fine Arts, and then went to the Abbott School of Art in Washington. From there she went to the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, and also took special courses under Gregory Ivy and Eliot O'Hara.

After teaching at the Raleigh School of Fine Arts for several years, she became director of the Federal Art Projects in North Carolina.

For the past few years she has been directing the State Art Gallery in Raleigh. In addition to her classes at Saint Mary's, Miss Morris is the adviser for the newly-organized Art Club.

Miss Morris is very interested in wallpaper designing. Although she hasn't worked much on it lately, she has sold several designs to New York concerns.

Miss Morris has quite a few likes. Her favorite sports "for watching" are horse-racing and football, and she is very fond of travel, especially boat trips, because, as she says, "I can make interesting sketches to work up later."

We asked her the usual interviewer's question, What are your hobbies? "I have two, but I can't indulge in either of them. One is gardening, but the weeds have defeated me; and the other is reading, but I recently strained my eyes and can't do much of that," Miss Morris said with a twinkle, as she got up to go back to her outdoor sketchers behind the coal pile.
