Saint's Sallies

The weekend of March 9th was an exciting one for many Belles because spring seemed to be on its way. Congratulations are first in order for Weezie Key, Carol Biggers, and Stuart Smith. These lucky girls got pinned! Weezie's Chi Phi goes to Emory! We hear that he traveled 500 miles just to present it! "Big" finally got Dabs as her mate . . . no woo did you say? ? Stuart didn't do so bad herself. She won a Beta from Davidson. Spring is indeed here and the Belles are in style with pins on their new frocks.

Allene Keith, Mary Anne Keith, and Micky Crumpler flew to Annapolis for a weekend with the "Middies". Wonder if the boys in white impressed these Belles.

Pat Adams, Barrett Proctor, Judy Keller, and Boo Baker went to pledge weekend at Chapel Hill. To the Pika pledge parties went Louise Cobb, Carol Freeman, Florelle Gwaltney, and Pat Coulter. Everyone vacated the grove.

Here at State there were several parties as usual. The Sigma Nus had a ho-bo party. Cobbie, Page Temple, Catherine Dent, Jennie Tyson, Marie Barnes, Betsy Dent, Bette Lee, Ann Powell, Kay Wilhelm, and Carolina Clark were among those attending. By the way, Page won the prize for being the best dressed ho-bo. She wore a "Senior Follies" outfit . . . was the lady a tramp?

The Kappa Sigs had a cocktail party. Louise Oliver, Sharon Ridgeway, Ann Robinson, Nancy Black, Florelle Gwaltney, Trisha Huske, Katy Copp, Ann Hobson, Sybil Mathis, and Legare Hobbs were among the Belles present.

Also on the 9th, Josie Ward, Weezie Hill, Dotty Peirson, Judy Scott, Sis Young, Betty Bundy, and Mamie Ruth Parks went to a KA patio party.

The big event of March 16th was Weezie Hill's getting charmed to a KA! Talk about story-book romances!!! To think he ordered it after their first date is what slays us! !

Nancy Page Hopkins went to Hampton Sydney for Mid-Winters. Sally Rembert and Schuyler Campbell dated ATO'S at Duke. At Carolina the main interest was the Blue-White game. Bonnie Stone, Betty Howard, Susanne Burton, and Louise Landauer went to the SAE pledge weekend at the Hill. The Phi Gams entertained Anne Morris, Sally Royale, Sarah Nicholson, and Camille Grice. At the Zete House were Helen London and Beth Morrison. DeeDee De Vere and Annie Gray Calhoon visited the Deke house, and at the Sigma Nu house were Jane Bellamy and Jenny Whitehurst.

In Raleigh, the Phi Kappa Taus had an anniversary banquet and dance at Scandia Village. Dana Bordon and Lee Arbogast took part in the fun. Also, the KA's had a "picnic" with Weezie Hill, Dotty Peirson, Joy Howell, Sally Barnes, Camilla Rodman, and Mamie Ruth Parks among those present.

It's All A Day In The Life Of Any Belle Just Before Spring Vacation

Ring-g-g-g-g!!!

"Oh, gosh, there goes the bell. I had better get up. Only five minutes to get to breakfast. Oh, gosh, where's my skirt? What happened to my loafers? Only two more minutes. Hey, Willie, don't close that door! Whew! Made it.

"Wonder what we're having for breakfast? Eggs and toast!!! No, thank you, I don't care for eggs this morning. Hurry up and pour the coffee. I wish they'd open the doors. I've got to do my English. They're open at last. Gosh, I'd better hurry and do that English. The bell is about to ring.

"Good morning Mr. Moore."

Mr. Moore: "Pencil and paper, please. Sally Mustard open that window. It's 'real' hot in here. All right, hand in your papers."

"Thank goodness! My first period is over. Oh, I can't be late for history. I've already got four points! Gosh, I hate to go to this class. Oh, well, it won't last but an hour. Oh, no, our assignment can't be that long! I'll never finish. There goes the bell. Wonder what we'll have in assembly this morning?

"I think that was the prettiest May Day flick we've seen. Time to go to the Little Store and smoke a cig. Only two more classes. Where are my books? I can't find them. Oh, there they are. I've got to check that Biology test. Oh, I dread it. What? I was sure I got this right. Well, I'll pull my grade up next time. The next test can't possibly be this hard. One more class and I'll be through.

"Hello Dr. Parker. Gosh, we have to translate again today. Maybe he won't call on me. He began with the A's last period. Time for lunch.

"Pass the salad. I could eat a bear. What, no skim? Make it twelve plains. Wish they'd open those doors. I have to go by the Dean's office. My name was on the list. Whew! Is that all? I was elated for a while.

"Gosh it's 5:00. Better check the mail. Empty as usual. Think I'll take a little snooze until dinner.

"What, brown meat again. No skim?? Fourteen plains then. Better hurry so I can start studying. I'll be up all night. No, I can't play bridge now. Oh, all right, just one hand. There goes the bell. Time for study hall. Gosh, it's 9:30 already!! Save me that tub when you finish. Of course she didn't wash it out. I'm sleepy. I'll study tomorrow or did I promise roomie I'd go to the show with her? Well, I'll do it sometimes. Anyway, goodnight. I'm so sleepy. I've worked -- so --- hard ----- today."

Watch Out For The Style Show

By Lynn Courtney

In the spring a young lady's fancy turns to . . . to what? If your answer is young gents then you are only partially right, but if it also includes clothes, then you are on the right track. What is fashionable in fashions this year? According to the latest fashion magazines, fashion editors, and clothes designers the look this spring must be fragile. A fragile look with a touch of simple elegance is the guiding light for buying clothes this year. The main thing to keep in mind is that elegance in the basic costume can be accomplished with straight skirts and the use of accessories. The dashing but feminine touch is the latest word in 1957 spring styles.

Costumes should be selected to carry out the fragile colors of spring. Popular colors this spring are lavenders, pale pinks, yellows, sky blues, and soft tones of grey. To give these colors the special sparkle they need, some new ideas in accessories will help. These include wide belts, matching gloves, straw hats, and the new "pointed toe" shoes. Shoe fabrics of rosebuds on a white background, black and white plaid, and green and black figured are being shown both in high and low heels.

A style particularly flattering to slim girls is the straight lined dress with Italian neck boleros. In general the loose lines from the waist up and straight lines from the waist down are in excellent taste. The graceful dresses made of pale chiffons and brocades are the styles for late evening wear.

Here are some fashion ideas that promise an exciting spring for every girl:

1. Large rings to match the costume.
2. Parasols which match your dress.
3. "Pointed toe" shoes.
4. Muted tones of a single color carried out in one ensemble.

Could We Ever Thank

Could we ever thank:

Mrs. "J" enough for guiding the Junior Class.

Dr. Parker enough for being pleasant at all times.

Dr. Brown enough for recording all the highlights of St. Mary's life.

Mrs. Hornback enough for lending our dates ties.

Mrs. Smith enough for transferring those "wonderful" calls to us.

Miss Jordan enough for getting our reservations for the holidays.

Miss Cate enough for leading our glee club.

Mr. Moore enough for his support of the YDC.

Mrs. Blount and Mrs. Barber enough for keeping up with the *Sigm*as and Mus.

Mrs. Seagrove and Miss Jewel enough for taking care of us when we are sick.

Dr. Royster enough for giving us a clean bill of health.
