

SENIOR SAINTS

Saint Sallies

LINDA THOMAS

Town: Asheboro.
 Hair: Falls on the occasion e.g. rainy weather.
 Eyes: Balls of fire.
 Always Seen: If you look real hard.
 Always Heard: "Hullo."
 Pet Peeve: Semi-platonic relationships.
 Favorite Frat: SEK.
 Ambition: To go rock huntin!
 Hobby: Pong ping.
 Utopia: Harvard graduate school.

MARTHA TAYLOR

Town: Oxford.
 Hair: Brown.
 Eyes: Brown.
 Always Seen: Doing nothing.
 Always Heard: Never heard.
 Pet Peeve: Mmmmmmm-working.
 Favorite Frat: None.
 Ambition: To finesse. (what?)
 Hobby: Doing nothing.
 Utopia: ??

SALLIE THOMPSON

Town: Wendell.
 Hair: Oily.
 Eyes: Droopy.
 Always Seen: Can't be missed!
 Always Heard: "Too true, too true!"
 Pet Peeve: Diets—!
 Favorite Frat: C.H.G.
 Ambition: To be skinny.
 Hobby: Cutting out Bible scripture or playing in gym.
 Utopia: The dining room.

SALLY TULL

Town: Salisbury.
 Hair: Permanented.
 Eyes: The migraine look.

Always Seen: Reading "Long Sam" in the newspaper and borrowing dimes.
 Always Heard: "Get the telephone."
 Pet Peeve: Dayvault doing her laundry at 12:00 M on Tuesday night.
 Favorite Frat: Decisions! Decisions!
 Ambition: To live in a house designed by 6.
 Hobby: Taking aspirin.
 Utopia: The Riviera this summer.

VICKI TAYLOR

Town: Rocky Mount.
 Hair: "... and the gold of her hair."
 Eyes: Dimpled on one side.
 Always Seen: Studying bride books.
 Always Heard: "Who'd you say the phone's for?"
 Pet Peeve: Architectual projects due on weekends.
 Favorite Frat: Sigma Chi.
 Ambition: Abba-dabba happy honeymoon.
 Hobby: Collecting trousseau.
 Utopia: August 27th.

SUZANNE TAYLOR

Town: Ayden, N. C.
 Hair: Styled???
 Eyes: Drooped.
 Always Seen: Pullen' Park.
 Always Heard: "I'm really racked."
 Pet Peeve: "Hey Sue — Where's Ayden?"
 Favorite Frat: The Pikas (Home from the Hill).
 Ambition: To Be Head RHOID.
 Hobby: Wayland.
 Utopia: To have International Outlets of P. R. Taylor.

With the arrival of spring weather and plans for beach parties, the remaining number of unused weekends will steadily decrease for most of St. Mary's "Belles."

"Shades" and strawhats will certainly be the necessity as many of the saints "traipse" to the beach. Among those enjoying the sun at Crescent with the Kappa Sigs were Trudie Johnson, Winston Conner, Ellen Walker, Cydne Wright, Margaret Atkinson, Betsy Eagles, Lynn Roberson, Melchor Lowe, and Susan Purdie. The Dekes entertained Sophia Pike and Betty Copeland at Morehead. If all goes well, the Zeke Party should be an opportunity for many "Belles" to soak up some sun at Morehead. Daphne Connelly, Molly Cooper, Jane Moore, and Erwin Parrott are planning to "make the scene."

Slave Auction Success

The husky voice of an auctioneer was heard around the St. Mary's campus on Monday, April 18th as the Circle-Beacon Slave Auction got under way. Frances Douglas' father took on the role of auctioneer and all twenty-six of the Circle and Beacon members were successfully sold from the auction block for an average $3.50 per person. Martha Taylor brought the highest bid of $6.00. This somewhat "different" project was undertaken to provide funds for improvements in the Hut. The Hut has been the Circle project all year and they have supervised the painting of tables and piano and the buying of several pieces of furniture. They joined the Beacon in raising funds for tile floor covering and possibly a new lighting system in the Hut. The auction brought ninety-one dollars to the clubs' members and was enjoyed by many students.

Along with the Carolina Pika's "Dream Girl Weekend" which provided "party ground" for Em Howell, Elizabeth Triplett, and Susan Poe; the SAE's kept Lou Ficklen, Harriet Houston, Betty Jones, and Jo Anne Rochow busy Saturday night.

The famous "Senior Long Weekend" mysteriously vanished as some twenty seniors hit Morehead.

Rene Dedman, Barbara Johnson, Nancy Couger, Cleve Fletcher, Ann Benson, Susan Keel, Martha Rose Lambeth and Mary Brent Elmore joined in the festivities at Davidson's Spring Frolics.

To those who are going to the beach this weekend: we hope you have better weather than Carter McAlister, Ruth Bowles and Virginia Anderson had, — they froze at Morehead the weekend before Easter. Watch that sun!

Fruit Bowl

- Tangerines for those who find time to steal away to the sun porch.
- Three Big Apples to the three who were granted scholarships for next year.
- Two pears to the fruits who, having been inspired by Fiore, have found their vocation.
- Grapefruits for those lucky girls who made it into the Faculty House Monday night.
- A Holly-berry for her haircut.
- Limes to the nocturnal visitors to the east fire escape.
- Prunes to the four seniors who fulfilled their ambition—and have the fingernail polish to prove it.
- Rotten plums to the teachers who assigned D. P.'s due the 14th of April.
- A Florida Orange in hopes that the "Little Man" will return soon.
- A whole basket of fresh fruit and our appreciation to Dr. Stone for Easter vacation!

Cold Cuts Announce Successors

Last week in assembly, the student body had the great pleasure, as usual, of listening to one of the favorite organizations on our campus, "The Cold Cuts." This time however, there was a different feeling in the air. Along with the usual enjoyment, all felt a slight tinge of sentiment, for this was the final program to ever be given by the original "Cold Cuts." The girls, who seemed to improve with each "performance," were especially good because they added "Handy Man," "Cherry Pie," and "I Wonder If I Care As Much" to their repertoire of songs.

At the end of the program, Lynn Roberson, loyal member, avid fan, excellent piano player, and president of the "Cold Cuts," announced the names of the seven girls who, with the help of any girls they wish to add later on, will do their best next year to keep up the excellent reputation of the group.

These girls are Gay Davis, Lou Uzzle, Betsy Dunn, Muff Nabers, Carter McAlister, Diane Blanton, and Sue Creech who will take Lynn's place at the piano.

Congratulations and good luck to the new members!

Elegy On A Dance

The Junior Class had plans all made to have a dance with everyone's aid. The theme was going to be rather abstract—
 Really good, as a matter of fact!
 But the thing that really ruined our work
 Was the fact that everyone wanted to shirk
 A dance in the gym for a fling at the beach.
 More rip-snorting plans came up for each.
 Some of the girls were lacking dates. Some thought $2.00 was high for rates. Others just didn't want to make the scene.
 They felt the idea just wasn't too keen. But we'll have this dance come rain or shine.
 This is so corny that I'll end on this line.

Amen.

New Books

- Advise and Consent*, by Allen Drury
- Mrs. Arris Goes to Paris*, by Paul W. Gallico
- Exodus*, by Leon Uris
- The Armada*, by Garrett Mattingly
- For 2c Plain*, by Harry Golden
- The Strangers*, by Albert Camus
- Nine Coaches Waiting*, by Mary Stewart
- The Cave*, by Robert Penn Warren
- Gusty's Child*, by Alice Tisdale Hobart