ASSEMBLY PROGRAM INTERESTING

In an assembly on February 15 everyone was delightfully entertained by the performance of Mr. Tate and Mrs. Stamey who presented a dramatic reading of an excerpt of the Shakspearian play Macbeth. Mr. Tate, dressed in coat and tails, and Mrs. Stamey, in flowing violet silk, performed their readings in quite an original manner. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the performance and the display of the actors' great abilities. The assembly was claimed by many to be one of the best seen at St. Mary's for a long time.

On Tuesday, February 20, Miss Geraldine Cate presented several of her voice students in an assembly program of classical and art music. The program, which involved hard work and talent, was received with much appreciation and enjoyment by the audience.

On February 22, Mrs. Ben Williams, the head of the Art Department, conducted an interesting and informative assembly program.

Clothes From Norman's Modeled

If St. Valentine was watching over St. Mary's auditorium on his day, February 14, 1962, I'm sure he was amused at the sight of five Circle members as they gaily stomped across the stage decked in lovely outfits from Norman's Side-shop. The models were Patricia Armstrong, Sarah Broadhurst, Jane Brooks, Cornelia Hines, and Betsy Nichols. The girls first modeled suits and dresses. The Cold Cuts then gave the audience a delightful fifteen minute performance. After the Cold Cuts the models returned wearing skirts and blouses, culottes and bermuda shorts.

Mrs. Wanda Delancy, the wife of "Norman", was kind enough to moderate the fashion show and to aid the models in picking out the clothes they wore. After the last outfit was modeled the audience of approximately one hundred and twenty students waited breathlessly while Miss Richardson drew the ticket. Cindy Schwartz was the owner of the lucky ticket, and she received a gift certificate for a blouse from Norman's. The consolation prize, so generously contributed by Normans, was a cumbersome and a pair of knee-socks. The consolation door prize went to Jackie Baublitz.

St. Mary's and State Glee Clubs Present Concert

Thursday night at eight o'clock the St. Mary's Glee Club joined the N. C. State Glee Club in the St. Mary's auditorium to give a concert which proved to be doubly enjoyable. These two Glee Clubs have been under the excellent directorships of Miss Geraldine Cate and Mr. J. Perry Watson respectively. The audience was welcomed by the St. Mary's Glee Club and a group from the N. C. State Glee Club singing a few of the sacred songs of the early masters. The combined group also sang four of Brahm's love waltzes. The eighty male voices of the N. C. State Glee Club followed the performance of the mixed chorus with delightful songs including "Set Down Servant", "Echo Song", "Do-Re-Mi," and a "Russian Volga Song". The N. C. State quartet and Herbert Little's solo "Without A Song" added to the variety of the performance. The songs were enthusiastically received by all who wholeheartedly joined in the spirit of the occasion.

St. Mary's Wins Game With Peace

On February 14, Valentine's Day, St. Mary's Sigma-Mu basketball team played in its first inter-collegiate competition game of the season against Peace College. St. Mary's stomped the Peace team by scoring a total of fifty-six points to Peace's thirty-two.

The starting line up of the Sigma-Mu team consisted of Carol Hardy, Helen Watson, and All-American, Verna Gillam, as forwards. The starting guards were Mary Larsen, Flo Pitts, and Ann McKinney. Others participating in the game were: Nancy Baker, Peggy Woodard, Lee Hopkins, Nelson Pemberton, Lucy "Pocahontas" Southall, and Sally Wright.

The quarters and half were marked by the retort of Kee Wheelless' cap-pistol. All of the old St. Mary's girls were delighted to see Frances Douglass Bridgers who helped referee the game.

The scoring was as follows: Gillam—27, Hardy—9, Southall—4, Watson—9, Woodard—7. Congratulations Saints!

St. Mary's Has All-American Basketball Player

Verna Gillam, a junior at St. Mary's this year from Windsor, has been selected out of all last year's high school seniors in the country to be a member of the All American basketball team.

In the four years she played basketball for Windsor High School, Verna played 257 quarters in 77 games and scored 2,483 points for a 9.3 per quarter and a 32.2 per game average. In her senior year she averaged 14.8 points per quarter and 46 points per game.

At Rocky Mount last spring Verna played in a tournament of 32 teams on an Ahooskie entry. In the four games in the tourney she scored almost 200 points. She gathered most of the tournament honors including most outstanding, most points scored, and most versatile player.

She played starting forward in the all-east tournament against an all-west team at Selma last spring. She was on the all Roanoke River Conference first team all four years in high school.

What a prize the Mu's have!!!
