ion

he 1 ras ad

which

nomi ce-Pr=

Reagont. Mary's Adds Ten to its Faculty and Staff

nded We taste new foods experimenwing lly: they are strange, alien, a Nint scary. Warily we venture a uglasbble and discover that though n vielley may not be our favorite ion vorites, each concoction adds a stinct dimension to the realm food. New teachers are like w foods: we approach on tipthe es to people who in time will nent, lovingly, Familiar Faces.

The new head of the foreign retioninguage department is Mrs. Joent le Gatling, a Paris-born Francomerican, who has experienced ation everal linguistic enterprises. Als us aough she attended a French ey liveée, she received her college depath rees at Bryn Mawr and Middlendwury Colleges. Mrs. Gatling was translator for Universal Film f company on location in Cannes. on the was a researcher at the French Embassy in New York. the the has also taught at East Carotude ina and Meredith. She was atsix racted to St. Mary's because of ty to the Episcopalian foundation and njoys other aspects too, particulectarly the intimacy and warmth. genthirs. Gatling only regrets that she ip las not come into more contact mirrith high school students. Alhough her family is her forenost hobby, she loves teaching around feels it involves more human ns communication than interpreting.

Mr. Stanley Serxner, who Stanley Serxner, Spanish, has lived in of Mexico, Guatamala, and on an Israii bulleting in Israli kibbutz while working in grapefruit orchard. Receiving of his education at Columbia and Rock the University of Florida, he has taught at Shaw University. He is now working towards his doctorate in old Spanish literature at Chapel Hill. The Maryland Foreign Paper Money (lub, an international organization in which Mr. Serxner is an active member. what keeps me off the streets!" He is editor of its quarterly magazine, the "Currency Collectors." Mr. Serxner notes that "St. Mary's seems to have a personal fouch that is lacking in quite a places."

"I don't mind the all-girl environment, but my wife does," announced the new chemistry teacher, Mr. Jamie King, who formal Raleigh home. His formal education at Cornell and Harvard was interrupted by the Korean was interrupted by the Korean War in which he served.

Miss Tucker acquaints Miss Horne with her new dulies

Miss Tucker Leaves St. Mary's Miss Horne Assumes Her Duties

Presidential Nominating Committee Meets

Institutions exist within institutions. It will be hard for the students and the faculty to say goodbye to a person who has given so much of herself to and has become such a vital part of the administration of St. Mary's. Indeed, the retirement of Miss Elizabeth Tucker as registrar of St. Mary's will mean the end of an era. She will be greatly missed.

Miss Tucker came to St. Mary's in 1932 as the secretary to Mrs. Ernest Cruikshank, the school's first president. Miss Tucker had worked with Mrs. Cruikshank when Mrs. Crnikshank was president of the Columbia Institute in Columbia, Tennessee. When it closed, Miss Tucker and Mrs. Cruikshank came to St. Mary's. Miss Tucker later became the registrar. Miss Tucker now plans to move to her home town-Hert-

Sunday afternoon, September

15th, the members of the committee for the selection of a new president for St. Mary's met in the school library. Dr. George L.

Penick, Department of Pathelogy

at the U. N. C. School of Medi-eine, served as convener of the committee. Other members in-elude Mr. W. W. Dukes, Jr. of Orangeburg, S. C.; Dr. Rollie

Tillman, U. N. C. School of Business Administration; Mrs. Mark

Lindsay of Hamlet, president of the Alumnae Association; Mrs.

Seavy Highsmith of Fayetteville;

and Dr. Mable M. Morrison, faculty member and head of the St.

Mary's History Department. The

student members include: Mary

Morrison Pennington, president of the Student Government Asso-

eiation; Pridie Clark, vice-president; and Sealy Cross, president of the Senior Class.

ford, North Carolina-where she will live with her mother. We wish Miss Tucker Godspeed.

Our new registrar, Miss Alice Anne Horne, is a native of Tabor City, North Carolina, She did her undergraduate work at East Carolina University and her graduate work at North Carolina State University at Raleigh, Miss Horne has taught in Raleigh for five years-at W. G. Enloe High School and at Dorothea Dix Hospital. Miss Horne was anxious to go into college work and is quite impressed with the program at St. Mary's.

Change is a way of life. So while we bid Miss Tucker a fond and nostalgic farewell, we welcome Miss Horne and look forward to our association with her with a great deal of anticipation.

Seniors Elect Officers for '68 - '69

On September 26, the first elections were held for officers of the senicr class. There were so many candidates that there had to be run-off election on September 27. The seniors voted for vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and dance marshal.

Beth McLean was elected vicepresident of her class. She is from Bennettsville, South Carolina. Last year at St. Mary's, she was a member of the Dramatics Club, and was on the Stagecoach staff. This year she is a member of these and also a counselor on Julie Badger was elected as secretary of the senior class. She lives in Raleigh. Both this year and last year she has been a member of the Granddaughters' Club and the Glee Club. She is head cheerleader for the Mus. She is also on the Belles staff as well as the Stagecoach business staff.

Suzy Rapp was elected as the treasurer. She is from Charlotte. This year she is on the Belles news staff, and she is also a counselor on 2nd Penick.

Farley Wallace was chosen to be the dance marshal. She is from Shelby. This year she is both vicepresident of Cruikshank and a counselor on 2rd Cruikshank.

New Senior Class officers are Suzy Rapp, Farley Wallace, and Beth Mc-Lean (not pictured).

public and members of the St. Mary's faculty and student body were encouraged to attend. Many faculty members were present, but disappointment was expressed because only one student not directly connected with the committee attended. The meeting was called in order to obtain suggestions about the type of person who might be desired to succeed Dr. Stone. Dr. Penick considered ideas which the faculty and students offered and also answered

The meeting was open to the many questions. At the present the committee is assembling a list of persons who might be desired to fill the office. The ideal age of the candidate is between thirty-five and fifty years. A competent spouse is desired who will actively participate in campus life and represent St. Mary's. Since an able administrator with a sound educational background is essential, a terminal Ph.D. in the classics or history and both business and educational experience are desired. Women are being considered for the office, and religious affiliation is of secondary importance. But a strong moral character must be present in the candidate.

The committee will gradually (Continued on Page 3)

ir com-

affairs. both in and in Carolina, Mary's ted Dr.

ast datpersonai job is raduate.

I really but I p teachghly enof St.

ans Play

II cted for oduction at St. To be Fatherproduc-'s "The tful mufinishing heir love e 1920's, usic and lead is portrayren Rose ss of the)ubonnet. school. by Lena cters ingh Ann Bryan: t Davis; yfriend) also i ca Bittl leigh t e chom rected h mu Bulle e Dra rice pr secret Cathe rer.

(Continued on Page 4)