Tuesday, April 28, 1970, in Assembly, the annual Belles Song Contest was held. In the contest, which is sponsored by the school paper, each class composes and sings an original song. The Freshman used the Sinatra hit, "It Was a Very Good Year," as the basis for their song. "Puff, the Magic Dragon" was the tune of the Sophomore's song. The Junior class used a tune from "Hair" and "The Cassions Go Rolling Along" to bemoan their financial trouble with The Angus Barn. The Seniors used the Cold Cut's "Medley" to express some parting thoughts to S.M.J.C.

After each song was presented, the judges, Mr. Roberts, Mrs. Stoops, and Mrs. Noe, left to reach their verdict. The Freshmen won first place and the Seniors received the coveted Honorary Award.

A TRAVEL OF LEMUEL GULLIVER

(Reprint from April 18, 1963 of THE BELLES)

By Bonnie Trotter

A CONTINUATION OF THE ONLY CHAPTER

My First Position in the Newly Discovered land was to Be Prostrate on the floor of a Dimly lit Hallway, where Providence had so mysteriously Placed me. I was first made aware of my Spirituality when Herds of females ran in an Inconsiderate manner Through and over My body. The Creatures wore Strange hats Resembling turbans under which Lumps were visible. Their attire was Considerably skimpy and Consisted of veils and ruffles. Entire legs, arms, and parts of Bosoms were exposed Much to my chagrin and Embarrassment. Their shiny faces appeared in some light to Have on them large Blobs of white lard. The females were frightened by a mere Group of three Boys standing on a Nearby Landing. It seemed Apparent that the Unfortunate boys Should have Been quickly absenting themselves but instead were gaily Laughing at the Hysterical females. Two of the females eventually, Bravely pushed the "Offenders" past the Landing and Down the Stairway.

When the Trampers had finished Stamping over My Body, I erected myself and looked for someone who might Tell me of my Whereabouts. At this Time, I surprised myself by Floating, by Mere effort of thought, a few Floors downward, through a and into a Large Parlor there Was quite a Ruckus on. A large Man dressed like a Bobby, Wrestled with Three boys who offended the males. The rug was Asked, a sofa overturned. Spectators Watched with The boys, finally subdued, taken into a Room and The to the Room were shut. I attended to Inquire about Where but was Ignored and Even ed through. Feeling very alone, I passed through the Entrance at the End of the lor and discovered My insensitivity to the difference in the perature inside the Building That of the outside. Finding Thus a very Pleasant evening decided to lie Under a Tree for Benefits of the Enjoyment of Sunrise the next morning.
