God sends his blessings upon the just and the unjust. The Lord is merciful to those who disregard His love and protection. How can thinking men and women neglect their opportunities to serve God, seeing He is so kind and merciful toward them. Every person should give ample time to the consideration of such an important matter. We are not promised to-morrow—now is the time.

The Three Cats.

A Nashville drinking man one morning told his family of a wonderful dream he had the previous night in which he saw three cats; one fat, one lean and one blind, and he wondered what it meant.

"I know," promptly responded his little son, "the man that sells you the whiskey is the fat cat, mother is the lean cat, and you are the blind cat." Good.—The Issue.

(Wonder where the brave little hero would place the people who voted for such law-makers, and the law-makers who gave them the power to make, sell and drink the stuff.)

Easy to Bark.

N. C. Baptist.

A dog, hitched to a lawn mower, stopped pulling to bark at a passer-by. The boy who was guiding the mower said: "Don't mind the dog; he is just barking for an excuse to rest. It is easier to bark than pull this machine."

It is easier to be critical than correct; easier to bark than work; easier to hinder than to help; easier to destroy reputation than construct character. Fault-finding is as dangerous as it is easy. Anybody can grumble, criticise, or censure, but it takes a great soul to go on working faithfully and lovingly, and rise superior to it all, as Jesus did.

After All, It's the Little Things.

Religious Herald.

After all, it's the little things that come to annoy us daily, and make up the sum of our lives. We are often so brave about meeting real hardships and trials, but succumb to the little troubles. Many trials, however, can be avoided by acquiring a knowledge of how to do most successfully the things that must be done.

I write with a view of helping housekeepers, and study to get the best methods, etc.

Now that you are all house-cleaning, let me tell you of a few helps.

To take grease spots out of your carpets, table covers, etc., or wall papers, cover with a mixture of chalk and fullers earth. Let them absorb the grease, then brush off lightly.

To clean and brighten oil cloth, wash with sweet milk instead of water.

To prevent red table-cloths from fading in washing, add borax to the water.

To clean brass kettles and cooking utensils, scour with vinegar and salt.

To wash very dirty windows in cellars, kitchens, wash-rooms and such places, dip a cloth in coal oil and wipe them off. They will be beautifully clean.

To wash your cut and fine china, don't put any soap in the water at all. Add a teaspoonful of pearline to a quart of soft rain-water and wipe dry while hot with soft linen tea-towels, and polish with tissue paper. Your glassware and china will look lovely and clear.

Mildew can be taken out with a weak solution of chloride of lime. A teaspoonful to a pint of water.

—Jane.

Gladstone once said: "You cannot fight against the future. Time is on our side." The social betterment of mankind depends on how you train the children. Sooner or later the world is going to recognize that truth. Why not recognize it now
