

Miss Allen Takes Leave Of Absence To Study At George Peabody College

Miss Shaw Directs Physical Education For Girls

Miss Sally O'Neal Allen left her position as director of physical education for women here March 25 for George Peabody Teachers' college, of Nashville, Tenn., where she will continue her education in the field of physical education and French.

Miss Velma Shaw, college nurse, has taken over Miss Allen's physical education classes.

Miss Allen joined the teaching staff here in 1937. She received her bachelor of arts degree at Furman university in 1938.

Miss Allen, known as "Miss Sally" on the campus, was a popular member of the college faculty. Last year she was a sponsor of the senior class. She will be back at her regular duties here next fall.

Write Home During April; Aid Census

(Continued from page 1) than the places in which they are living while attending school or college, however, should be enumerated there. Such students should call or write to the district supervisor for the census if they are not enumerated.

Feeling that college students, like every other section of the population, will benefit from a reliable national inventory, the U. S. bureau of the census is asking them to do their part in making the 1940 nose-counting a success. The bureau needs their help in the gigantic task of assembling facts about the 132 million Americans in two ways. First, by making sure that their parents will report on them to the census enumerator; and, second, by supplying their parents with certain information they will need in order to report on them accurately. The later precaution is advisable even for students living at home, since they may be at class when the enumerator arrives.

Inform Parents

Offhand, it might be thought that parents would know everything about the student which would be called for in the census. The questions which are being asked in 1940, however, are somewhat more complex than those of previous years, reflecting the need for facts bearing on the many problems which have arisen in the United States during the eventful decade just closing.

The queries on which parents are most likely to be uncertain are those relating to employment status. Information is wanted on to him last year by the juniors and destroying his private library. Believe it or not, the local fire engine was pushed to the scene of the fire and with the assistance of the local C. C. C. boys and a few brave student firemen, succeeded in extinguishing the blaze.

Several of the other rooms in the building were defaced by fire and smoke, and the heroic students proudly display scars received while punching their fists through window panes. Repairs will begin as soon as damages are estimated.

the following points:

Number of weeks the student worked in 1939 (equivalent full-time weeks).

Number of hours he worked during the week of March 24-30, 1940.

Present or, if seeking work, last occupation (exact nature of duties performed).

Present or last industry (kind of factory, store, or other place of business).

Present or last class of worker (wage or salary worker in government work; employer; working on own account; unpaid family workers).

Whether at work in private or non-emergency government work during week of March 24-30.

If not, whether assigned to public emergency work (such as NYA) during that week.

If neither, whether seeking work.

If not at work or seeking work, does the student have a job or business from which he is temporarily on vacation, sick leave, or lay-off? (Students on Easter vacation between March 24-30 might be in this group).

Speaker

Pictured above is "Our Daddy" Blackwell, who was the principal speaker at the Easter sunrise service held in the city auditorium of Asheville. Many of the students heard their early-rising president speaking before they were out of bed.

In addition to Dr. Blackwell's address, which was broadcast, were several musical numbers rendered by the girls' glee club of Lee Edwards high school and the men's chorus of the Reed Memorial Baptist church.

McCroskey Is New B. S. U. President

McCroskey's name did not appear on the ballot sheet prepared by the B. S. U., and as retiring president Robert Allred was calling for a vote between Bergen and Rush, Joe Breedlove rose from the orchestra "pit." The whispering and rattling of paper ceased, and Breedlove sang out: "I nominate Harold McCroskey."

When the ballots were counted, McCroskey was declared winner, and he was approved by the religious life and training committee.

Pre-Medical Students Present First Public Program Of New Clubs

In a meeting held Tuesday, March 19, the pre-medical club of Mars Hill college made the first public presentation, before a group of interested visitors and the regular members, of the type of work it is carrying on.

Featured in the program were two extensive research papers read by Buck Fowlkes and Roy Totherow. The two papers, which formed the bulk of the program, were rather lengthy and presented in some detail the subjects with which they dealt. The reading of the papers was arrested at intervals in order to give listeners an opportunity to ask any questions that might have arisen. At the end of each address, all who wished entered into a general discussion of the subjects in question. The speech delivered by Mr. Fowlkes dealt with the spirchete pallidum and that of Mr. Totherow with lobar pneumonia.

In this meeting the public was given its first view of the type of research carried on in the club, and, incidentally, some new knowledge of the subjects discussed. Several new members were gained, and visitors were requested to state their opinions of the program presented.

Dr. Palmer Gives Lecture On Art

Dr. Carlton Palmer, noted art critic, gave a lecture on "The Joy of Pictures" in the college auditorium March 27.

Dr. Palmer, who was accompanied by his wife, had in his collection several valuable paintings.

He is in demand as a speaker and he is thorough in his discussion of pictures.
