

Spirited Debates With Varied Themes Spark MH Societies In Joint Meeting

At 8:00 P.M., February 13, 1959, the Philomathian and Clio Societies consolidated for a joint meeting, one of the four that are held annually. Joe Greene, Philomathian president, called the meeting to order. Greene then gave the welcome address and read the customary letters. A devotional hymn was sung, followed by the devotion on "Love's Character," as presented by Mike Dalton, chaplain. Dalton and Van Ramsey then sang "How Great Thou Art."

The evening's program was inaugurated with Dot Searle directing the members in a series of society songs. Guests of the society were then recognized by the president. A trio, composed of Ruth Teague, Patricia Robinson, and Ann Melton sang an appealing selection.

The attention of the members present was then turned to endeavors in the field of debating. The query for the evening was, "Resolved: That Cupid should at least be allowed target practice on the Mars Hill College campus." Sue Campbell and Nancy Brunt supported the affirmation, with the negation being composed of John Stanton and Doyle Moore.

While rebuttals were being prepared, Henry Snyder was unexpectedly called upon to offer some entertainment by way of his dubious musical talents. Snyder resorted to performing the hula, realizing his musical deficiency. Following this assumed dance, the debating teams presented their rebuttals. The judgment was left up to the individual.

To top the evening, Bob Young, attired in such apparel as a black derby, a yellow vest, and a black string tie presented an interpretation of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

"One World" was the theme of the February Non-Eu joint meeting. The program was dedicated to Dr. Robert Seymour.

Numbers on the program included the delivery of speeches originally given by great Americans on historic occasions and music and folk-lore from other nations. A debate on the topic "Resolved that the United States is losing first place in psychological warfare" was decided in favor of the negative.

The program was marked by serious consideration of problems which young people face and showed evidence of thoughtful tolerance of differences in this "one world."

BTU Officers

(Continued from Page 1) elected Melinda Duncan as president, Peggy Lois Tatum as vice-president, Vicky Norris as secretary, and Mary Etta Mann and Lanny Cross as group captains. In the RADIATOR'S Tucker Gibson serves as president, Linda Barbour as vice-president, Virginia Gibson as secretary, and Lydia Spivey, Stan Jackman, and Barbara Capell, group captains.

The officers in DADDY BLACKWELL are Jeanne Coleman, president; Gloria Little, vice-president; and Loretta Millsapps, Louis Hudson, Jean Parker, and Carol Lankford, group captains. NEW HOPE elected Bob Hancock, president; Connie Linville, vice-president; Doug Joyce, secretary; and Karen Hopkins and Larry Fink, group captains.

Also, EMOCLEU has Jean Threatt for president, Bill Milne for vice-president, Maxie Welch for secretary, and Glenn Hodge and Brenda Poston for group captains. In CHRIST FOR ME, Don Davis is president; Hildy White, vice-president; Peggy Brown, secretary; and Marilyn Gillespie and Joyce Hendricks, group captains.

The PRO-CHRISTO class has for their new officers Sarah Jane Stainback as president, Bobby Cutts as vice-president, Helen Kelly as secretary, and Gail Dowdy, Shirley Edney, Morrison Lawing as group captains. The members of H2 SO4 C elected Mel Luther, president; Ronnie Erwin, vice-president; Frances Shirley, secretary; and Doris Lominac and Ronald Miller as group captains.

In the JOHN LAKE class Marvin Gold serves as president, Bobbie Jordan as vice-president, Carol Sutherland as secretary, and Lucy Rhodes, Daphne Huffman, and Bill Beaver as group captains.

This list is not complete because not all of the unions have turned in their report.

Various Clubs Remain Lively

Club life around MHC is as lively as ever. The Nursing club has begun the semester with a bang by introducing a unique way of familiarizing its members with hospital work. Each weekend up to and after Spring holidays two club members will spend the weekend at Asheville Memorial Mission. Miss Sara Johnson, head obstetrician, is responsible for giving the girls this opportunity.

The Home Economics Club presented a fashion show with clothes made from cotton and feed bags at the February meeting. Home Ec majors were in charge of the show. Those modeling the novel kind of sack look were Verna Dryden, Ann Fisher, Ann Moore, Annette Hall, and Karolee Lowe. A variety of colors and styles were viewed by the guests, and refreshments were served afterwards.

New members of the Logothia honor club are Peggy Cabaniss, Dorothy Denton, Peggy Hill, Northrup L. Hood, Wilma Lane, Anne Mercer, Jackie Hutchings, Robert L. Hancock, Phyllis Evans, and Wilma Matthews.

Kenneth Hayes is president of the club, Jeannette Robinson, vice-president; and Judy Faust, secretary.

Additional Spanish Club members include Evelyn Lawton, Douglas Brown, Florence Starn, and Julia Van Proyen.

Officers of the Science Club are president, David Trawick; vice president, Joyce McCormick; secretary-treasurer, Lynda Ridings.

Ciardi

(Continued from Page 1) Prix de Rome fellowship award for a year's study in Rome in 1956-1957.

He has published several volumes of poetry, two of the more recent ones being entitled As If and I Marry You. Other volumes are in the process of preparation. He also is doing a translation of Dante's Divine Comedy of which the Inferno is off the press. In addition to his books, Mr. Ciardi has written numerous single poems and critical articles for leading magazines.

room scales is in front of your refrigerator.

An expectant mother, elevator-bound to the maternity ward in the hospital was startled to hear the operator murmur: "Second floor—broken bones, ingrown toenails, pretty nurses." The third floor brought a low recitation of "Operations, plai nand fancy, clean beds, costly doctors" and the fourth, "bandages, sprains, rheumatism and lumbago." She strained her ears to hear how her destination was announced. It was simple: "Fifth floor—American Production Company."

—Submitted by Readers' Digest Ass.

Dr. Robert Seymour Travels To Hill; Becomes Binkley Memorial Pastor

Dr. Robert Seymour is moving to Chapel in mid-March as pastor of the Olin T. Binkley Memorial Baptist Church, organized in September, 1958. Dr. Seymour feels that his unwieldy name will eventually be abbreviated to the Binkley Church.

At present there are approximately 60 members, one-third being students at the University of North Carolina. For

Dr. Robert Seymour, pastor of the Mars Hill Baptist Church, has been called from Mars Hill to become pastor of a church in Chapel Hill. Dr. Seymour has been minister to the Mars Hill church for the past four years. Prior to coming to Mars Hill he served as assistant to the pastor of Myers Park Baptist Church in Charlotte and as pastor of the Warrenton Baptist Church, Warrenton, N. C. See the accompanying article about the church in Chapel Hill.

Minister Provides For Varied Faiths

Under the leadership of the pastor, Dr. Robert Seymour, and the minister of education, the Rev. Dean Minton, the Mars Hill Baptist Church is extending a special ministry to students other than Baptists enrolled in the college.

Three groups in addition to the Baptist Training Union are now meeting on Sunday evenings. The church cooperates with the local Methodist pastor in ministering to 77 Methodist students through the Methodist Youth Fellowship. The church also sponsors the Westminster fellowship for the 48 Presbyterian students enrolled.

The Canterbury club, consisting of 18 Episcopalian members, was organized last fall, since then meeting regularly on Sunday nights in the Fireside room of the church. J. B. Phillips' book, Your God Is Too Small, has been program topic for the past few weeks. The organization has had several guest speakers.

Recently five members of the club attended an inter-college retreat at "In-the-Oaks" in Black Mountain. Guest speaker at the

Charlie's Shoe Service
We Appreciate Your Business

MARS HILL COLLEGE BOOK STORE
Special
LUCKY STAR NOTE PAPER
5c a Package
February 28 - March 7

See Our Hand Lotion Specials
MARS HILL PHARMACY

DAVIS FLORIST
Flowers, Greeting Cards, and Gifts
"We Wire Flowers Anywhere"

FINE FOOD ANY TIME OF THE DAY
at
Mars Hill Soda Shop and Cafe

College Humor Is Ubiquitous

Girl graduate: "Four years of college! And whom has it got me?"
College glamour girl to suitor: "By 'secret engagement' I suppose you mean no ring."

A student who was asked by his dean whether he was in the top half of his class replied: "Oh, no sir, I'm one of those who make the top half possible."

UPS AND DOWNS
The wife of a middle-aged business executive met him at his office late one afternoon. As they were going down in the elevator, it stopped and a high-octane secretary got on. Poking the executive in the ribs she said gaily, "Hello, cutie pie!"

Unperturbed, the executive's wife leaned over with a smile and announced "I'm Mrs. Pie."

America is no longer a melting pot—it's a pressure cooker.
This is a country where people in all walks of life prefer to ride. Defined Points: Hot Dog—the only animal that feeds the hand that bites it.

Hangover—something to occupy a head that wasn't used the night before.

Grandfather — a grandchild's press agent.

Patience—the ability to idle your motor when you feel like stripping your gears.

A Word to the Wise:
One way to save face is to keep the lower half shut.

It's better to give than to receive—and it's deductable.

The best place for your bath-

The Annual

XXXIII

Bryan Morehe Marships

Eugene Price and Thom of Greenville are two of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

is president of the B. S. Philomath and the former the Scrible

We Have a New Spring Top

and Ban Lon Sweet R. S. GIBKtra" In F CO.

We Specialize Mouton and "Man Made Fur Coats" MARS HILL CLEANERS