

2nd Generation Abbey Students

Patrick L. Bisese, a junior environmental science major, is the son of Dr. Samuel S. Bisese ('58). Sam is a dentist in Portsmouth, Va., where he and his wife Blanche live.

William J. Farley, Jr., a freshman in the pre-med program, is the son of William J. Farley, Sr. ('50). William, Sr. is a math teacher in the Baltimore Public School System. He and his wife Dolores also live in Baltimore, Md.

Carolyn E. Mullally, a sophomore recreation major, is the daughter of F. Joseph Mullally ('59). Joe is a district manager with the Van Straaten Chemical Company of Chicago, Ill. He and his wife Leanna live in Mooresville, N.C.

Several members of the Golden Hearts and Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity posed for a group shot following the Parents' Phonathon.

Laura L. Campbell, a freshman majoring in biology, is the daughter of Edward Warren Campbell ('56) of Taylors, S.C. Warren is a salesman for the S.C. Port Authority.

Alan Richard Jones, Jr., a sophomore business administration major, is the son of Alan R. Jones, Sr. ('62). Alan, Sr. is an assistant chief with the Government's Division of the U.S. Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. He and his wife Mary live in Bowie, Md.

Theresa R. Perry, a freshman English major, is the daughter of Dr. Joseph L. Perry ('57). Joe is a dentist in the U.S. Army and is stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he and his wife Lenore live.

Andrew T. Doris, II, a sophomore business administration major, is the son of Bernard J. Doris ('29). Bernard and his wife Maude live in Augusta, Ga., where he is president of Doris Jewelers.

Michael J. Masotti, Jr., a freshman at the Abbey, is the son of Michael J. Masotti, Sr. ('44). Mike, Sr. is a salesman for Southern Knitwear of Charlotte, N.C., where he and his wife Tresa are living.

Marianna Wade, a freshman sociology major, is the daughter of Charles P. Wade ('59). Charlie is the coordinator of employment and job services for the department of secondary education in Portsmouth, Va., where he and his wife Maria Ana live.

Luke Robert Lenahan, a sophomore distribution management major, is the son of Luke J. Lenahan ('58). Luke, Sr. is the athletic director of Madison Township High School in Old Bridge, N.J. He and his wife Dolores live in South Amboy. Luke, Jr. was recently elected president of the Student Association at the Abbey for the 1979-80 school year.

Katherine M. Preston, a sophomore history major, is the daughter of Robert A. Preston ('53). Bob is the academic vice president of Loyola University in New Orleans, La., where he and his wife Helen are living.

Not Pictured

Melinda A. Brown, a freshman at the Abbey, is the daughter of J. Marvin Brown ('63). Marvin is the owner of a chemical plant, Chematron, Inc., in Charlotte, N.C., where he and his wife Grace are living.

John C. Jarrell, a junior sociology major, is the son of Dr. William A. Jarrell ('50). Bill is a dentist in Charlotte, N.C., where he and his wife Dorothy Ann are living.

Stephen J. Naso, III, a junior history major, is the son of Dr. Stephen J. Naso, Jr. ('55). Steve, Jr. is the president of the Mecklenburg Surgical Association P.A. in Charlotte, N.C., where he and his wife Ann live.

Parents' Pledges Total $6000

During the weekend of March 24 and 25, Belmont Abbey College students manned the WATS line of Good Will, Inc. in Gastonia to call the parents of Abbey students for contributions to the 1978-79 Annual Fund. The students raised nearly $6,000, bringing the total parents' support to the Annual Fund to nearly $8,000.

The Golden Hearts (a sisterhood associated with Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity) comprised most of the callers, under the direction of the college's Development Office. This was the third year the Golden Hearts worked during the Parents' Phonathon. The other student callers were from Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

The funds will be added to the college's general operating budget. Letters were sent to those parents who were not contacted.

Students participating in the phonathon were: Karen Beam, Robbin Flanagan, Mary Zysk, Judy Probst, Maureen Donahoe, Laura Cameron, Carolyn Mullally, Sharon Riley, Tom Lloyd, Kathy McMahan, Tricia McIlmail, Joe Eger, Paul Alexander, Jane Healy, Ronnie Zayarto, Celi Koncul, Vincent Schaefer, Bill Suffer, Mary Brophy, Cathy McIlmail, Jo Anne Greene, Karen Polard and Carol Murphy.

BAC President Named To Board

Father Neil W. Tobin, president of Belmont Abbey College, has been elected to the Board of Directors of Worldwide Marriage Encounter. This board of eighteen is responsible for the development and coordination of the movement in the United States.

Along with Jack and Sandy Fullen of Alexandria, Va., Father Tobin will also serve as district coordinator for Worldwide Marriage Encounter in an area comprising Ohio, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, the Virgin Islands, and the military bases in Germany, Spain, and Italy.

The Worldwide Marriage Encounter movement is concerned with helping spouses come to a new appreciation of their love for each other; this is achieved through a weekend experience of forty-four hours in which a technique in the communication of feelings is developed.

The Encounter is a Catholic faith experience open to couples of all faiths. Three couples and a priest alternate sharing presentations prepared from their own experiences. Following each presentation there is a time for personal reflection; then each couple privately discusses their thoughts and feelings about the presentations and reflections.

In addition to the Catholic expression, there are weekends given within the framework of a variety of other faith expressions, such as Episcopal, Lutheran and Jewish.

The Board of Directors is chaired by Tom and Jayne McGuinness and Father Bob Uzzilio with headquarters in Los Angeles. The Encounter movement in North Carolina is directed by Jim and Marge Hakel for the Charlotte diocese and by Jim and Marylyn Kaus for the Raleigh diocese.