

Bali Hai:

Arguably the most visited restaurant by S&Mers. Perfect the art of stacking with raw meat and vegetables, and the restaurant cooks it for you.

One World Market: Unique, beautiful items are sold in this fair trade store.

Ninth Street

features

Indian food. Who would have guessed by the name? And if you speak Hindi or it's your birthday, you might just get some free naan.

DALE'S INDIAN CUISINE

Elmo's Diner:

sas.

ng in s and os and

de of Milkshakes, burgers, toast...this diner is classic but cheap--always makes for a fun breakfast with friends after an all-nighter.

Nobody really knows what goes down in this sketchy

Biscuit King:

building.

CREATED BY JENNIFER ZHU

Just a short walk from NCSSM is 9th Street, an "alternative shopping district" full of many small restaurants and stores that are only found locally. Filled with good food and cool knickknacks, 9th Street is only one part of Durham that's waiting to be explored by you.