

Highlights from the 20

Lett poses in front of the poster displaying his high-ranking project ideas.

photo from http://www.siemens-foundation.org/en/competition/2009_winners.htm

A fresh graduate of Science and Math (a.k.a., a grand senior), Lanier Lett earned Fourth Place at the national Siemens Competition in Math, Science, and Technology.

From left (men), Philip Rash, Akash Ganapathi, Bryce Taylor, Damian Jiang, Matt Jordan, (women) Kathleen Lan, and Christine Ye and two international students pose for a group photo.

Photo from www.facebook.com

From left to right, Su, Bell, Zhang, Zhu, and Stone enjoy a break from their busy day concocting the perfect nutrition bar.

photo from <http://www.conradawards.org/>

Then juniors, Sam Stone, William Su, William Bell, Angela Zhang, and Violette Zhu, a.k.a. Team Rocket, earned the 2nd highest score in the Conrad Spirit of Innovation Awards Competition with their nutrition bar, "Peanut Butter Rocket-Chips."

Academics

Six students from NCSSM earned high ranks at a competitive international math modeling competition in Singapore. One team tied for second place, while the other was in the top half of participants, a total of 60 teams from 17 countries.

Last year's softball team made it to the quarter finals of the NCHSAA tournament, losing 0-2 to Midway High School in the second round.

Members of the softball team dress up for a girls' night out.

photo from www.facebook.com

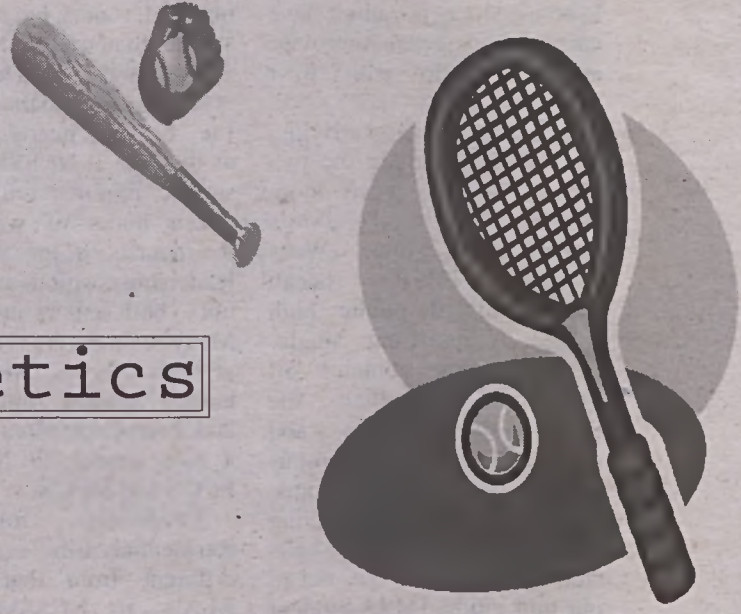

Athletics

A proud track team poses together, all members wearing the 1st and 2nd place medals they earned.

photo from <http://www.facebook.com/>

NCSSM's men's spring track and field team won the 1A State Championship and the women's team earned 1A State Runner-Up.

The men's tennis team made a racket on the court when it earned the 1A State Runner-Up spot, 4-5 against Mt. Airy High School.

photo courtesy of NCSSM Athletics

