

2009-2010 school year

The track team choreographed its own running-themed dance number at last year's Airband. photo from www.facebook.com

Some students of NCSSM's Asian community perform a Korean-style dance number at Asia Fest. photo from http://www.facebook.com

An annual production students spend the entire school year looking forward to, Airband allows students to choreograph and perform dance numbers of their choosing (permitted they're clean) in front of the entire school and the greater community.

The school body has multiple opportunities to immerse itself in the cultures of Asia, Africa, and Latin America through their respective Fests. They also have the opportunity to enjoy aspects of Native American culture through the annual PowWow. Finally, students are able to represent countries of their choosing, create booths, and present their cultures to the school at the annual, MPC-sponsored FestivALL event.

Last year's seniors stand in anticipation to find out who is crowned Mr. Uni. Grand seniors A.J. Woodward and Arjee Restar tied for the honor last year. photo from www.facebook.com

Around Campus

NCSSM's male students battle for the crowns of Mr. Uni (for seniors) and Baby Uni (for juniors) in this annual pageant that you don't want to miss.

Though the world-record-breaking total of 509,147 pounds of food was not reached (yet), on March 20, 2010, NCSSM raised 319,990 pounds of food, enough to feed 5,827 people, in the largest food drive in the history of the school and possibly the local community. This accomplishment was thanks to the leadership of SLI Sue Anne Lewis and plenty of student and community volunteers.

After 10 years as NCSSM's Chancellor, Gerald Boarman left the unicorns to take on new challenges.

CREATED BY ADE ILESANMI

NCSSM students pose in the NC Big Cart while it was on campus for the Food Drive. photo from www.facebook.com

Food Drive student volunteers and Sue Anne Lewis pose with the mayor and City Council members. photo from www.facebook.com

From http://www.dailytarheel.com/index.php/article/2010/01/gerald_boarman_to_retire_as_chancellor_of_n.c._school_of_science_and_mathematics

