

THE OPEN FORUM

HOW ABOUT SOME SENIOR PRIVILEGES?

The senior class has now reached the place where some senior privileges would be very much appreciated. During our three previous years of toil and tough school work we have all often looked forward to the time when we would have at least some of the privileges, that we feel are due to any class of seniors. One reason that we have so hopefully looked forward to this time is that the senior classes going before us have enjoyed senior privileges. We feel, therefore, entitled to the same. Have we not done as much as they to earn it? We really feel that we have done more, for more is being required of us this year. I know that I am voicing the opinion of the whole senior class in this. Here's hoping that this will meet with favorable results!

—A SENIOR

WANTS BETTER ARRANGEMENT

Mr. Editor:

Please let me call to your attention a few facts concerning the arrangement of articles in the Lexhipep. I note that some of the most important articles are placed upon the back pages while some of less significance are put on the front page. I believe in putting first things first. It seems to me also that it would be a good idea to classify the work of the different organizations. Take athletics, for instance, would it not be a good plan to place all articles relating to that subject under one head? There are also other organizations in our school which are worthy of a column of their own and should be recognized. What do you say about this, Mr. Editor? Is it not a good plan?

—CLIFTON CONRAD.

JOE WANTS A BASEBALL TEAM

Mr. Editor:

I wish to call attention to the lack of a baseball team in our High School. Although this article is rather early for this kind of sport, if followed will turn out for us a good team next spring. Lexington High School needs a baseball team to represent her and carry her on to championship. A baseball team is just as much a part of High School Athletics life as a basketball, football, or track team. Four years ago Lexington had a good high school baseball team, but since then interest seems to have dropped concerning this sport. We have nearly three hundred students in our high school, and why can't we make a baseball team out of them? Every boy knows the elements of baseball, and with a little training we can develop a team capable of winning a state championship. We have the material. Now let's start something, and bring home the bacon.

—JOE MOFFITT.

Mrs. Walser—knocking at door—
"Eight o'clock! Eight o'clock."

Beck—sleepily—"Did you? Better call a doctor."

***

Mrs. Hunt—"Did you break this dish, Helen?"

Helen—"No, ma'am, I only dropped it."

COMING TO The Lexington Theatre

MONDAY

and

TUESDAY

NOVEMBER

24th and 25th

"The Sea
Hawk"

You Use Ice Cream
Anyhow—Why Not
Use the Best?

Everybody knows its value as a food as well as its universal appeal as a wholesome dessert.

Every kid dances a jig at the thought of it, and their grand-dad smiles at the sight of it.

GRIMES'
ICE CREAM

