

"THE ALPHA GAMMA LITERARY SOCIETY"

The Alpha Gamma Literary Society met November 25th, in Room 2. The business was discussed and then an interesting program was given. Edna Bowers gave a current event. Glenn L. Hamil read several jokes. A debate Resolved: "That a country girl has better chances of getting married than a city girl," was then held Valera Smith was the speaker of the negative and Lela Hedrick on the affirmative, but neither had prepared their argument. The president appointed Eunice Hedrick for the affirmative and John Cartee for the negative. They gave very interesting discussion on both sides and Mr. Hunt gave a list of reasons why a country girl had better chances of getting married. The criticism was given and the society adjourned.

The Alpha Gamma Literary Society held its regular meeting, December 2, in Room 2. The social committee was asked for report and the business was discussed. Eunice Hedrick gave a reading and Mr. Hunt read some nuggets. The president appointed Theresa Hackney, Helen Buchanan and Glenn L. Hamil to act as program committee. Miss Zimmerman gave the criticisms and the meeting was brought to a close.

The sixth meeting of the Alpha Gamma Literary Society was held in Room 2, December 9. The president asked the society about getting society pins and she has ordered some samples for the society to choose from. After the business was discussed a very interesting program was given. There were two debates, the first one was Resolved; that Lexington High School should organize and conduct a dramatic Club." The speakers on the affirmative were Mildred Conrad and Dorothy Myers. The negative speakers were Nell Truitt and Edna Chaney. The judges gave their decision and the negative side won. The second debate was resolved; "That a broom is more useful than a dish rag." The speaker on the affirmative was Nellie Leonard and on the negative, Edna Bowers. They gave very humorous points on both sides and the society had a standing vote to see which was the most useful, the broom receiving the most votes. Criticisms were given and the society adjourned.
