

"SPRINGTIME"

Springtime, Springtime, now is near And with it comes our vacation cheer,

While Flowers are blooming, and birds are singinig,

We seem to hear the fog bells ringing.

For what is the use to be gloomy and sad

When all the world is merry and glad,

And everything looks so bright and gay,

For soon it will be vacation day.

And then we shall all bid good-bye Some with a smile and some with a sigh;

Some will bid farewell for only a year,
Others forever with many a tear.

Miss Gilder—"Betty, where is Switzerland?"

Betty—"On top of a mountain."

Foy—"I bought a typewriter yesterday."

William—"Well, what about it?"

Foy—"I got it too help me spell, but it can't spell any better than I can."

is the small boy in front of a large dish of our pure and tempting ice cream, with the commission to "get outside of it!" He will obey the order without extra spur. Ice cream is good for children because it contains the best elements of nutrition, as being satisfying. Ours excels.
