

TIME-TU-LAF

Frances — (Going through her father's pockets) "I'm not a movie star, but I certainly can handle this little roll".

Mr. Cowles—What battle was it that Gen. Wolfe, when hearing of victory, cried "I die happy?"

Nat—I think it was his last, but I'm not sure.

Mary Lil—"Billy, will you get my watch? It's upstairs".

Billy—"Aw, wait awhile, it will run down".

Mary Lil—"No, it won't 'cause we've got a winding staircase".

Miss Zimmerman—"Willie, you spelled alibi with two I's"

Willie—"Which one must I take out?"

Ham—(driving car) "can you tell me where I can get some gas?"

Farmer—(slightly deaf) "Hey?"

Ham—"No, this ain't a horse, it's an automobile, and I want gas!"

Odell—"Mother, I found a little green snake".

Mrs. Vestal —(alarmed) "Odell, please let it alone, for it may be as dangerous as a ripe one".

Cloyd—"Does the wind blow much around these parts?"

Charlie—"I've seen it blow so hard that it blew an iron pipe inside out, and a crooked road straight".

Frank—"I passed my exam with ease".

Joe—"E's, what low marks!"

Dave—"How did you get your cold?"

Bob—"I got Chile over the radio last night".

Louise—"Is your brother a muslim?"

Sara Frances—"Why, at the age of six he played on the linoleum".

Helen—"I heard something nice about you yesterday".

Nona—"What?"

Helen—"I heard you looked a little like me".

LEX-O-LIGHTS

The most important thing about Scott is his death.

Dick Walser is so bright that Mr. Estes asked him to represent the sun.

Weldon Shoaf is so rough that a match strikes when he touches it.

One of the most important additions to L. H. S. is the sale of chewing gum.

A modern definition for climax (a figure of speech) is "a well known brand of chewing tobacco".

Miss Ware certainly has an influence as domestic science teacher. Room I always smells like coffee.

A speaker last week remarked that he didn't know what to talk "on"—They usually speak on the stage.

Mr. Hunt, asking a Senior to read a poem—"Rebecca 'I fear your kisses'".

On the first day Mr. Hunt wore his sweater to school, Dick Walser casually informed him that he looked "wretched". Fortunately, Mr. Hunt didn't hear it. It might have hurt his feelings.

In a parlor there were three:
A parlor lamp, a maid, and he,
Two is company, without a doubt,
So the parlor lamp went out.

In the late Junior-Senior row, the Freshmen and Sophomores were almost forgotten. Where were they?

"Ever had any trouble with pneumonia?"

"Yes, whenever I try to spell it".

The seniors are having a hard time trying to decide on one of two plays to be given at graduation time. Both "The Boomerang" and "The Hoodoo" are suitable for presentation and are being given weighty consideration. "The Boomerang" is a comedy-drama and has a fine love plot, including a drop kiss, (what Senior boys and girls would you suggest for those two?) "The Hoodoo" is a war love story. One of the two will be decided on as soon as possible, and parts will be given out. More work will be done on this production than the recent one, and we hope to have a much better success.

For the next two weeks, starting from today, the Hi-Y club will have charge of the chapel programs. These chapel periods will be used in informing the rest of the school of the purpose of the Hi-Y, and for what it stands. From the kind of boys who are in the club, we think that these programs will be well worth hearing, and a worthy example of what the club can do.

Oh, Aspirin, dear Aspirin, my head aches for you.

Printed CARDS

We will be glad to supply Seniors and others with Printed cards. They cost much less than engraving and look about as well—few people can tell the difference.
