HI-Y CLUB IN CHARGE OF CHAPEL PROGRAM

The H-Y Club had charge of the program for this week and interesting programs were rendered.

On Monday the program was in charge of Auburn Woods. Fred Wilson read the scripture, after which we were led in prayer by Dick Walser. A speech was delivered by Auburn Woods on "Clean speech and play." But perhaps the feature which delighted everyone most was the H-Y Trio composed of Paul Hutchins, John Hunter and Lester Everhart.

Tuesday we were called to chapel to hear our debating team before they went to Mount Airy, Friday. With Louise Thompson and Dick Walser on the affirmative and Stephanie Bragaw and Cloyd Philpott on the negative we do not see why we should not win.

On Wednesday another interesting program was given by the H-Y Club, with Jimmy Siceloff in charge. Harold Smith read the scripture and then Clifton Conrad led in prayer. A very interesting speaker was then introduced. Mr. Sprull, who made a splendid talk on "Laws and Violation."

Thursday the H-Y Club secured the consent of the Duke University Glee Club to come and entertain us for half an hour. Two beautiful selections were given by the orchestra, which were enthusiastically applauded.

May—"I admire that pianist's finish".

Carl—"Yes, but I always dread the beginning."

Virginia—"Just think, three thousand and seals were used to make fur coats".

Frances—"Isn't it wonderful that they can train animals to do such work"?

On to Chapel Hill

For the first time Lexington will send a representation of track men next week to Chapel Hill to compete in the High School State Track Meet. At the same time our tennis team and our debating teams will be competing with teams from all parts of the state.

We may not win any of the state championship cups this year but we intend to make some of the other teams work harder than they have ever worked before. So, come on teams let's bring some kind of a cup to Lexington this year—If we can't win in the state contests let's make it hard for all of them in the County contests.

HI-Y BANQUET AT THOMASVILLE

Last Thursday night, several members of the Lexington Hi-Y Club drove over to Thomasville and attended what was to be a tri-city Hi-Y Banquet. But although the High Point boys were unable to come over, the members of the Thomasville and Lexington clubs enjoyed themselves very much. The Banquet was prepared by the mothers of the Thomasville Hi-Y boys and they were praised by each of the speakers, as were also the pretty bar-maids, who gave excellent service. Liston Pope of the Thomasville Hi-Y club made a splendid talk on the subject "What Hi-Y means to me." Mr. Fesperman, State Secretary for Hi-Y club, was also present and gave an interesting talk. For the Lexington Club, Mr. Allen, Mr. Estes and Auburn Woods made speeches. Every one of the Lexington Boys had a fine time and we hope that more of these inter-city meetings will be held in the future.

Cloyd—"I wish I could reform the Alphabet".

Louise—"Why, dear?"

Cloyd—"Because I would put "u" and "i" closer together".

LEXINGTON HI DOUBLE WINNER IN DEBATE

Last Friday evening, March 27, Lexington again stood the test and for the fourth consecutive year will send four debaters to Chapel Hill to contend in the contest for the Aycock Memorial Cup.

Louise Thompson and Dick Walser upholding the affirmative side of question "Resolved: That N. C. Should Ratify the Port Terminals and Water Transportation Act", won over Sue May Hendren and Calvin Hoves, the negative team from Mt. Airy.

While this debate was in progress our negative team composed of Stephanie Bragaw and Cloyd Philpott defeated North Wilkesboro's affirmative team, Percy Waters and Thomas Bryan upheld the affirmative side at North Wilkesboro. The negative team was accompanied to North Wilkesboro by Miss Mildred Zimmerman and Mr. E. C. Hunt.

We are especially proud of winning the debates this year because of the handicaps under which we labored. Two speakers contracted the mumps which caused loss of time and continual substitution. Also, material was hard to get on the subject.

All Lexington should be proud of her debaters who have won both of the debates for four consecutive years, and they should be especially proud of them this year since they had to combat "mumps", "danger of fatigue" etc.

So, all hail to the debaters! We wish them luck next week when they journey to Chapel Hill.

Nat—"Where do you have the most difficulty in making a speech"?

Charlie—"In my knees".

Mary Lil—"Ham, you certainly eat well".

Ham—"I ought to, I've been practicing all my life".
