

LEXHIPEEPERS

WEIU.

Were you disappointed because there wasn't any snow Christmas, or were you satisfied with all the good-looking presents you got? Well, here are a few people who were quite satisfied with their gifts.

Caroll made Joanne B. happy on Christmas Day by giving her a good-looking bracelet. In return Joanne gave Caroll her likeness.

Betty Anne's records will be kept well in the nice big record box that Johnny gave her. She gave him a watch band.

Bracelets! Bracelets! Seems as if the jewelry business really prospered this year, especially over Jane's and Bill's way. Bill gave Jane a lovely rhinestone bracelet, and she gave him an identification bracelet. (He didn't have it long before he lost it, but we are pleased to report that he soon found it.)

Barbara gave Hardrock a billfold in which to keep the money that he made during Christmas which he didn't have after he bought her a lovely bracelet.

Christmas Day, Jimmy brought Mary Anne something for her neck (don't get the wrong impression); it was a lovely string of gold pearls. In return she gave him a yellow sweater which he has worn quite frequently (more than some have done!)

Sue gave Bill a fur-lined jacket to keep him warm. (I guess she is tired.) Bill gave Sue pearls (the logical thing).

Christmas Eve, Pete gave Becky two albums of records, and she returned the thought by giving him her love (and it was very noticeable).

People were very considerate and sensible this year by giving records to those who were fortunate enough to receive record players. Zacky was one of these sensible people he also gave Jane lipstick and a hair clasp. She gave him a sweater and a belt. (These boys ought to be warm this winter.)

It looks as if the sweater business was as good as the bracelet. Right, Tubba? Joanne received a beautiful jewelry box with a lapel pin in it!! By the way, most of these sweaters were green, so if you see any, you'll know they're something special!

Now, Harold, take Mike's hint and use that fountain pen (and also a pretty tie) next year. Mike was in style with a rhinestone bracelet.

This is really getting contagious; I mean engagements of course. Johnny Canady gave Betty York a diamond, and Evelyn also received one from Don Kopley (and a cook book). Evelyn, take that hint and learn to cook! No doubt he likes to eat!!

I hear we're six months late on this news but it's news to us about Ruth Kinny and Buddy Crowell.

Speaking of Ruth, we know she must be pleased to have her best friend as a sister-in-law, even though you did shock us all, June; luck to you, Mrs. Kinney!

Mary Anne received a beautiful ring and locket set in zircons, and she gave Johnnie a good-looking I.D. bracelet.

Even though Gerry spent Christmas in Baltimore, she and Erne had their exchange of gifts. A compact for her and a Ronson cigarette lighter for him!!

Becky Potts received an I.D. bracelet from Steve, and he in turn received her picture.

James Tate's mind is in another vicinity which leaves him here only in body. We hope he makes a return engagement to Kings Mountain soon!

Now Pat will be able to tell Bill what time to go home since he gave her that good-looking watch (as if she wants him to go home!). She gave him her picture, a key chain and a "if I" knife!

We're sure you all remember Virginia Byers, of the class of '45. Well, she received quite a large and everlasting present. Herbert Rhodes (her husband).

A new case we'd like to mention is "Squirrel" and Enid. They really have been seeing a lot of each other and we think that's swell!

Betsy Myers almost stood on her head when she got a Christmas card from Sonny. She says he's sort of shy, but it certainly doesn't look that way from our point of view!

Martha and Jimmy are really hitting it off, and talk about jitterbugs, they are plenty good together. Martha gave Jimmy a key chain and he gave her a bracelet!

Jack Alber and Betsy Swicegood exchanged pins! A fountain pen for him and a lapel pin for her. By the way, that was a false rumor about their engagement, but it was a good idea!

And so it goes from Christmas to basketball. So we'll see you at the games. We have two very good teams this year, so let's back them up!

THE EYES AND EARS OF LEXINGTON HIGH

—Jack Swaim

Progressive

Freshman: "I wanna go out tonight, Mamma."

Sophomore: "Please may I go out tonight? I'll be in at ten."

Junior: "I'm going out tonight, Dad."

Senior: "Goodnight, folks; I'll bring in the milk."

Girl: "Sometimes my father takes things apart to see why they don't go."

Handsome Date: "So what?"

Girl: "So you'd better go."—Hi Life, Mocksville High School.

Mother: "Tommy, what are you doing in the pantry?"

Tommy: "Fighting temptation."

Mother: "The teacher complains you have not had a correct lesson for a month. Why is it?"

Tommy: "She always kisses me when I get them right."

Friend: "So you're going to make it hot for that fellow who held up the bank, shot the cashier, and got away with the ten thousand?"

Banker: "Yes, indeed. He was entirely too fresh. There's a decent way to do that, you know. If he wanted to get the money, why didn't he come into the bank and work his way up like the rest of us?"—The Cannon Report, Kannapolis, N. C.

Teacher: "What is the head of an Indian tribe called?"

Student: "Chief."

Teacher: "Correct, and what is his daughter called?"

Student: "Mischief."—The Weavings, Concord High School.

Two Chances

You have two chances:

One of getting the germ,

One of not,

If you get the germ

You still have two chances:

One of getting the disease,

One of not.

If you get the disease,

You still have two chances:

One of dying—one of not.

If you die—

Well, you still have "two chances!"

(Exchange editor's note: "Going My Way.")—The Yellow Jacket, Boyden High School.

The small boy had just started to school and after a week he said: "Mummy, the teacher asked me about you and daddy, and if I had any brothers or sisters." "I'm glad to see her taking so much interest," replied the mother. "What did you tell her?" "I said I was an only child." "And what did she say to that?" asked the mother. "Oh, just 'Thank heaven!'"

Two morons were overheard arguing. The first one bet a hundred dollars that his friend couldn't climb up the ray from a flashlight. The friend pondered a while, and then said: "Oh, oh, I'm wise to your tricks. When I get half way up, you will switch it off."—Reeds Echo, Reeds High School.

Compliments
of

ERLANGER
MILLS

SUNLIGHT
LAUNDRY

Corner Fourth Street and Greensboro Road

"Let Our Phone Line
Be Your Clothes
Line"

GENUINE DRY CLEANING
PHONE 428

Lexington Perpetual
Building & Loan Association

PHONE 2321

JOHN A. McCRARY, Sec. & Treas.

Large Enough For Values

MACKS'

5c, 10c & 25c Store

Small Enough To Feel An Interest
In Every Customer

South Main Street

Parker-Miller Co.

"The Jewelers For All Your Gifts"

Phone 308

PURCELL'S DRUG STORE

Phone 577

FRED THOMPSON, Inc.

Shoes, Clothing
Gents' Furnishings

PHONE 2203

Birthdays are milestones in life—good occasions
for a photograph

H. LEE WATERS STUDIO