

A. Sapp's Fibles

BY A. SAPP

Did you hear about the little moron who held a baseball mitt in front of his face, because he was trying to catch his breath?

One cannibal asked another, "Who was that woman I saw you with?"
The other cannibal replied, "That was no woman; that was my lunch!"

Have you heard about the Kentucky cow who ate blue grass and moped indigo?

Have you heard about the little moron who went up in an airplane with a pick and shovel, because he heard Gene Autry sing "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky"?

Definitions

A toupe: A convertible top.

Quiz Master: Who wrote the best seller, "The Razor's Edge"?
Contestant (after considerable amount of thinking—excitingly): Gillette!

Doctor: Nurse, how is the boy who swallowed the half dollar getting along?

Nurse: No change yet, doctor!

Doug G: What part of the car causes the most accidents?

Bill H: The nut that holds the wheel.

Bill C: Was that your best girl friend?

Henry W: No, just necks best!

Mr. Gilstrap: Darling, I've made up my mind to stay at home tonight.

Wife: Too late, Hazel. I've made up my face to go out.

Mrs. Wall: I had a talk with Betty Anne about the facts of life. You know she's sixteen now.

Judge Wall: Fine. Did you find out anything new?
