

A. Sapp's Fibbles

By A. SAPP

Mathis: Frequent water drinking," advised the specialist, "prevents you from being stiff in the joints."
Jaybird: "Yes, but some of the joints don't serve water."

Taylor: "What is the most beautiful thing in the world?"
Blalock: "I say a beautiful woman is the most beautiful thing in the world."

Taylor: "I claim that sleep is the most beautiful thing."
Blalock: "Ah, next to a beautiful woman, sleep is."

His point was six,
He rolled a seven.
He grabbed the pot,
He's now in heaven.

Barbara R.: "Now, listen here, how long is this car going to keep stalling?"
Sonny: "Just as long as you do, honey."

Mr. Gathings: "What is your idea of civilization?"
Charles P.: "It's a good idea. Somebody ought to start it."

Johnny R.: Well, good-night. Hope I haven't kept you up too late."
Mary A. H.: "Not at all. We would have been getting up soon, anyway."

J. L. says: A curved line is the loveliest distance between two points.

"Do insects ever get into your corn, Farmer Chaplin?"
"Yep, but we just fish 'em out and drink it anyway."

Dillon: "Something seems to be wrong with this engine; it—"
Mary Jane S.: "Don't talk foolish; wait until we get off this main road."

Teeny R.: "I'm telling you for the last time you can't kiss me."
Holmes: "Fine! I knew you would weaken sooner or later."

Young sez: It's dangerous to milk a cow during a thunderstorm. She may be struck by lightning and you'll be left holding the bag.

Betsy S.: "What's an optimist, Mom?"
Mrs. S.: "An optimist is a man who thinks his wife has quit smoking cigarettes when he finds cigar butts around the house."

Carter: "Did you ever take chloroform?"
Plott: "Naw; who teaches it?"

If you dislike these jokes; their dryness makes you moan.
Just send in, occasionally, some of your own.
