CO-CAPTAINS CARTER AND KEPLEY ELECTED

Harold Carter, ace "Jacket" back, and "Big Rob" Kepley, gigantic tackle, were elected co-captains by the Lexington squad prior to the Elon game.

Carter, a triple threat tailback, has played a major part in this season's Yellowjacket victories. He excels in running, which is all-important at the tailback spot on Coach Jimmy Maus' single-wing system.

"Big Rob," a two-hundred-pounder, is likewise a big-gun in the "Big Orange" attack. He holds down the offensive and defensive tackle post.

Incidentally, neither of these boys were first team players last year. However, both are good bets for post-season honors.

L.H.S. HOST TO BARIUM SPRINGS IN HOMECOMING TILT TONIGHT

L. H. S. plays host tonight to Barium Springs, and most fans should find the game exciting and enjoyable since Lexington and Barium are old rivals when it comes to homecoming games.

Following is a summary of scores between Lexington and Barium for the last fifteen years:

1933—Lexington 0	Barium 6
1934—Lexington 27	Barium 0
1935—Lexington 0	Barium 6
1936—Lexington 0	Barium 0
1937—Lexington 0	Barium 26
1938—Lexington 14	Barium 6
1939—Lexington 7	Barium 0
1940—Lexington 13	Barium 0
1941—Lexington 0	Barium 26
1942—Lexington 13	Barium 0
1943—Lexington 6	Barium 0
1944—Lexington 19	Barium 7
1945—Lexington 6	Barium 6
1946—Lexington 25	Barium 0
1947—Lexington 31	Barium 0

A record crowd is expected to be present at Holt-Moffitt field at 8:00 o'clock tonight to witness the 1948 Homecoming Game.

Missing L. H. S. Football Power Found In Various Colleges

Lexington Hi's football team of 1948 greatly misses the power and experience of the graduates of its 1947 team.

Many of the boys are now playing football with different colleges. Last year's co-captains, "Bensy" Walser and Zack Taylor, have both got off to good starts with state university's team. "Bensy" received a scholarship to the University of North Carolina and is expected to show up well this year as a member of the freshman team. Zack also received a scholarship to the University of South Carolina and will probably see plenty of action there.

"Jaybird" McCrary, backfield star, received a scholarship from Atlantic Christian. Having started already as first string quarterback, he is expected to show up well.

"Pete" Clark accepted a bid from Lenoir Rhyne. "Pete," a valuable end for L.H.S. last year, will probably see action in several games.

Charlie "Peahead" Price, another scholarship man, is following the footsteps of brother Vernon. "Peahead" is a valuable player for Catawba College.

"Bull" Blaylock received a scholarship from Duke University. He will play as a member of the freshman team.

Sammy Everhart is playing good football with Atlantic Christian. Sam has shown up fine thus far this year.

Bob Holmes is attending Davidson College and has played in several games for the freshman team.

Tommy Young is now at the University of North Carolina.

Doug Craver and Johnny Newall have become first string members of Coach Uncle Sam's army.

Bill Cook is attending school at Guilford College.

Johnny Arnold and Kelly Beck are being missed in this year's L.H.S. lineup. Kelly is a senior at New Bern High School, where he has made first string. Johnny is attending Military School at Baylor, Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Living up to its reputation, L. H. S. is still feeding material to college football teams. This year has many of last year's graduates on strong college teams, not to mention college upperclassmen who are L.H.S. alumni and who are playing good football for their respective colleges.

BEAT BARIUM!

JACKETS TAKE RAILROADERS WITH 20-0 VICTORY

It was "Katie-bar-the-door" last Friday night for the "Big Orange," after a jittery first period. The "Jackets" just couldn't seem to reach pay-dirt due to two fumbles and a bad pass from center. Had it not been for these three errors, the locals might well have surged into a three touchdown lead in the opening stanza.

Harold Carter, ace tailback, gave his best performance to date. His crackerjack running played a major part in the impressive victory. Bill Eanes' chunkin-arm was hot as usual. Eanes not only completed eight for thirteen pitches, but also scored two "T.D.'s" via the overland route. He tossed to Carter for the other score.

The first score came after a pass interception by Marvin Crow, outstanding end for the locals. Some explosive running by Carter carried the pigskin to the "Railroaders" ten-yard marker. Eanes plunged over for the tally. An attempted extra point pass to Crow fell incomplete, and the half ended with Spencer on the short end of a six to nothing score.

"Cooter" White, scrappy little guard for the Jackets, got things started right early in the second half by recovering Harmon's quick-kick blocked by big Bob Kepley. Eanes then hit Plott for a short gain before chunking to Carter in the flat. Carter swivle-hipped his way over for a score. The conversion was good, sending the "Jackets" to a lead of 13-0.

Spencer, fighting to the bitter end, attempted drive after drive which proved fatal when the "Big Orange" line said "no-can-do".

Eanes commenced to pass to Dillon, who sprinted to the fifteen. Carter's attempt to score was halted in the five. Eanes then scored in two successive plunges. His conversion split the uprights, and Lexington had a 20-0 lead.

However, the game was not all Carter and Eanes. Jimmy Plott, J. L. Peeler, the whole Jacket line and Foyle Wagner, a sub-tackle, and Sonny Timberlake, sub-end, played a bang-up ball game.

L.H.S. RALLIES TO DEFEAT T-VILLE

The L.H.S. "Yellowjackets" and Thomasville "Bulldogs" renewed their rivalry with the 1948 football game at Mills Home field Thursday, September 24.

It took a last minute score for the victorious "Jackets" to pull ahead. It looked as though the locals might have had the game sewed up after a second quarter touchdown, mostly set up by passes and a center plunge by Eanes. But the Thomasville "Bulldogs" had different ideas.

After a see-saw battle had developed during the third quarter, Thomasville showed signs of hitting pay dirt.

The Thomasville eleven threatened twice, once on a 55 yard run by R. K. Grayson straight through the "Jacket" lines. This drive was stopped when "Tubby" Craver recovered a fumble.

Thomasville's only tally came in the fourth quarter after having covered over half the field when a pass from Tobin to Loflin in the end zone was good. Ferguson's conversion was good, giving the "Bulldogs" a 7-6 lead over the "Jackets".

Lexington took the kick off on their own 35. At this time there were only about three minutes of playing time left, and the game became quite an air-fair. After several short aerials which were good to Craver from Eanes, a long pass to Crotts was ruled interference which put the "Jackets" on the one-yard line. Once again Lexington was threatening. On the next play the local lads were penalized for being in motion. The ball was moved back to the six. Here Eanes passed in the end zone to Jimmy Plott, who took it in for several steps and then dropped it. But the referees stepped in to rule that he had possession of the ball long enough to be good, and the Jackets' score stepped up to a 12-7 lead to win the game.
