

L. H. S. "Struts Her Stuff"

To the left is little Miss Lynn Brown, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brown, Jr., both of which are alumni of Lexington High School. We must say that she attracts more attention than all of our nine cheerleaders together (no discredit to our efficient cheerleaders). Believe it or not, she can go through just as many antics and capers as the cheerleaders can, with just a little more added. Also, Lynn is the niece of Amelia Brown, high school senior and cheerleader. The LEXHIPEP predicts that she will take her "aunt's" place in about thirteen years.

Below, left, is little Miss Bobbie Bruton, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruton. For two years Bobbie has "strutted her stuff" as bandmaster in the parades and on the football field. Perhaps no one band member did more to win the grand prize at the Tobacco Festival in Richmond than did Bobbie when, for four hours, she helped entertain thousands of people. Bobbie is the sister of Henrietta, a senior, Emma, a sophomore and majorette, and Alice, freshman and majorette; and L.H.S. is glad that she can reserve the service of the Brutons for years to come.

Below, right, are the three different managers of the L.H.S. football squad: Tommy Snyder, Buddy Link, and Hayden Hooper. These boys are responsible for the care of all the equipment, packing supplies for trips, and doing anything from a water boy to an M.D. These boys do and take a lot of backstage play that isn't all smooth sailing, but nevertheless they wouldn't swap their jobs for any other job in school.

At the right, last and least, but by no means the least in importance, is little Miss Bonnie Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Belford Wagner, who at the ripe age of fourteen months, attends all games at home and abroad. Bonnie is the future band director for L.H.S., and at any time to give her daddy a rest, she can be seen pointing her one-inch forefinger and directing the band or tooting her one-foot horn to give her mother a rest. At other times, she dances and prances, imitating the majorettes and cheerleaders.

The personalities pictured on this page are a show within themselves (not including the managers).
