

Ring-a-ling: "May I please speak to Joanie- Hi, Joan; what'cha doin'?"

"Nothing much, Bets; I'm just sitting around waiting for 'Cootie' to come over. You know, I've been thinking about everyone that we've gone through high school with and hoping that I won't forget all my friends and all the fun we've all had together."

"Gosh, Joanie, I know it. What say that we just make a list or an outline of all the folks we know and put them in different groups—those that go steady or that are engaged, or even married? This way we can save it always, and when we are old and gray we can check our list and remember the good old days."

"You know something, I've already started one. You make one, too, and we can compare them in Trig. I'm sure that Miss Janie won't mind."

"That's a fine idea, Joan; I'll see you then. Bye now!"

Well, faithful gossip column readers, here's our list. Can you add any more?

L. H. S. Valentines

—Henrietta Bruton

"Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Sugar is sweet,
And so are you."

What is your idea of the perfect valentine? Whom do you want most to be your O. A. O. (one and only)? The Trot and Canter Poll has come to Lexington to find out. Although the records are very confidential, yours truly has obtained a few of the reports—maybe from old Professor Groundhog himself. Anyway, if you are interested, here is the latest scoop on the perfect L. H. S. Valentine, male and female.

Lois' Lingo

Dear RAINBOW GAL,

HOW SOON will it be UNTIL we're TOGETHER AGAIN? IT'S BEEN A LONG, LONG TIME, but I GUESS I CAN DREAM, CAN'T I?

The other day I was WALKING WITH THE BLUES down PEACH-TREE STREET under an ORANGE COLORED SKY in A MARSHMAL-LOW WORLD.

BEYOND THE REEF, IT'S RAIN-ING SUNDROPS but NEVERTHE-LESS I'm THINKING OF YOU and saying THREE LITTLE WORDS.

MY HEART CRIES FOR YOU be-cause I have NO OTHER LOVE and YOU'RE THE ONLY ONE FOR ME, so please DREAM A LITTLE DREAM OF ME.

MY DESTINY is MORE THAN I CARE TO REMEMBER because I'm THE ROVING KIND, but WHY FIGHT THE FEELING, IF YOU LOVE ME A BUSHEL AND A PECK?

IF YOU'VE GOT THE MONEY, I'VE GOT THE TIME to go dancing to the TENNESSEE WALTZ close to the HARBOR LIGHTS.

I GUESS I'LL HAVE TO DREAM THE REST IF ANYBODY DOES, be-cause I'M SO CRAZY FOR LOVE that I'LL NEVER BE FREE, so WHERE DO I GO FROM YOU?

THE THING is TO THINK YOU'VE CHOSEN ME, HIGH ON THE LIST, but I'LL GET BY, AND YOU'LL BE HOME so TILL THEN,

SO LONG, SALLY.

A Backward Glance

—Kirksey Sink

Highlighted this month in the Alumni Column are five former Lex- icon High School students who have highly distinguished themselves in their college activities.

The class of 1949 produced three outstanding students, those being Mary McLendon, Paul Williams, and Robert Peeler.

Mary "Mac" is cited for her scholas- tic record which has been of the highest since her entrance in Wom- an's College. She is completing her master's degree at Carolina, where she is majoring in journalism. Re- cently she was chosen to become a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity.

Last year, Paul Williams was starred in this column for his scholastic achievements and campus popularity at Wake Forest. He is completing his senior year and is studying pre-med- ical courses. "Tinker" was elected to Phi Beta Kappa during his junior year, and he has been given the op- portunity to enroll in any of three med schools, Bowman Gray, Harvard, and University of Pennsylvania, the last one probably being his choice.

Important on the Catawba campus is Bob Peeler, who was elected pres- ident of the student body. He has been outstanding during his high school and college careers, for he was one of the most popular people at L. H. S. Bob is also a pre-medical student.

Anytime you wander into the LEX- HIPEP room you'll see a number of exchange papers strung on the wall. Prominent among these is the Ca- tawba paper, "The Pioneer". Upon reading this you will find many arti- cles written by Harriet Leonard, freshman, who has been chosen as a reporter on the staff. Harriet is well- remembered for her fine feature arti- cles enjoyed by LEXHIPEP readers last year.

Not only L. H. S. but also the many Duke supporters around here are proud of our last highlighter, Jim- my Dan Redwine. Graduating last year, Jimmy Dan was one of the most versatile people in his class. He was Sports Editor on the LEXHIPEP, played center on the football team, besides engaging in many other activ- ities. At Duke Jimmy Dan has made the highest grades of any freshman athlete.

L. H. S. is indeed proud of you five. You have done much to bring honor upon yourselves, your parents, and your high school. We wish you the best of luck, though you don't seem to need it, and remember, Alumni, the eyes of your Alma Mater are upon you and proud of you.

Roxanne Disher, the wittiest girl in last year's Senior Class, was recently voted president of the student body of Ashmore Business College. Congrat- ulations, gal; we're proud of you!

be none other than our original staff members, Lois Ann Marley and Bar- bara McCoy.)

You can tell a freshman by the way he acts,
You can tell a sophomore by the jokes he cracks,
You can tell a junior by his looks and such,
You can tell a senior, but you can't tell him much.
