

JOKIN' AN' JOSHIN'

THE BRIGHTER SIDE—By Lawrence McDougale

Once an old man claimed to have certain symptoms, he went to the doctor, and among other personal questions the doctor asked him:

Doctor: "George, how are your kidneys?"

George: "Well, Doc., some of them is grown up and married."

Wife to her husband—"Tom, wake up, I hear a voice down stairs!"

Sleepy husband—"Allright go to sleep, I'll oil it in the morning."

Baxter: "Do you ever chase women?"

Rowdy: "Lots of them."

Baxter: "Say I didn't know you were that kind of a guy, adventurer."

Rowdy: "I'm not, I am a bouncer at a night club."

Sargeant: "Yardbird! Orders are from headquarters that you stay on that horse and ride him."

Yardbird: (with a salute) "Yes sir, but the horse gave me orders from hind quarters."

Wife to husband—"Come here John, the baby has cut a tooth."

Husband angry—"Listen Mary, I have told you about leaving the butcher knife around on the table."

Witty Landlady: "Indeed! By the way, how did you like the steak?"

Witty Boarder: "Ah, your steak is like the weather evening, madam--rather raw."

Witty Landlady: "Your board bill is like the weather--too unsettled."

Boss: "I noticed there were 35,000 people present on the afternoon your grandmother was buried."

Office Boy: "(rising to the occasion) "I couldn't swear to that, sir, but grandma was always popular."

There is a difference between talent and genius. Talent does what it can; genius what it must. But it is the little more that makes the difference.
