Walter M. Williams Opens 1957-58 Term Under Revised School Administration

Mr. Ridenhour Mr. Thomas Plan Policy Changes

Mr. Lester Ridenhour, principal, announced today the new members of the office staff and changes in the administration for the 1957-58 school year.

The new administrative staff includes Mr. Harry Thomas, assistant principal and counselor of boys' student affairs. In regard to his new position, Mr. Thomas stated, "I'm looking forward to a good and constructive year and hope that all students will feel free to let me help them with any school problems that might arise during the year."

Miss Kathryn Ray was appointed counselor of girls' student affairs. Her duties include conferences with student concerning college information and scholarships. As girls' student advisor, she will counsel in the Guidance Office located in Room 223.

According to Mr. Ridenhour, one of the major changes in the administration will be the procedure of registration of students. In the future more time will be spent in channeling students in courses for college entrance requirements.

Mr. Ridenhour stated earlier today, "We would like to instill in students the desire to stay in school and to keep trying to improve our instructional program. Through the student council, we hope to build the spirit and moral of the student body in order that they might discipline themselves."

We sincerely ask for the co-operation of the students and teachers in order to make our program a complete success."

Barker Staff Members Select Five New Junior Assistants

Members of the Barker staff today elected five juniors to serve as assistants on the editorial staff for this year. They are Mike Barham, Phil Deaton, Nancy Lorimer, Malcolm Kilpatrick and Ruth Lupton. These juniors were elected on the basis of journalistic achievements and have been assigned to specific page editors.

Mike Barham will be the assistant feature editor. He is also chaplain of the Jr. Civitan Club and a member of the band.

The assistant news editor will be Phil Deaton. Phil is a member of the Key Club, Monogram Club and also participates in various sports.

Nancy Lorimer has been chosen as assistant front page editor. She also serves as a majorette in the band.

Malcolm Kilpatrick, other than being the new assistant sports editor, is secretary of the Civitan Club and student store assistant.

Ruth Lupton will be the assistant society editor. She is also a member of the Civinettes.

Jr. Civitan Club Donates U. S. Flag

U. S. Senator Kerr Scott secured a United States flag from the Senate in Washington, D. C., for the benefit of the local Jr. Civitan Club. The club will present the flag to the high school in the near future. The flag will be flown over the front lawn "every day the sun shines."

Last year the Jr. Civitan Club presented a victory flag to W. H. S. This flag has been flown after every athletic victory.

Key Club To Present Sixth Annual Directory

Within the next few weeks students will receive their Williams High Key Club Directory. According to Jim Copland, chairman of this committee, the directory will go to press by the third week in September, and should be available to all students by the second week in October.

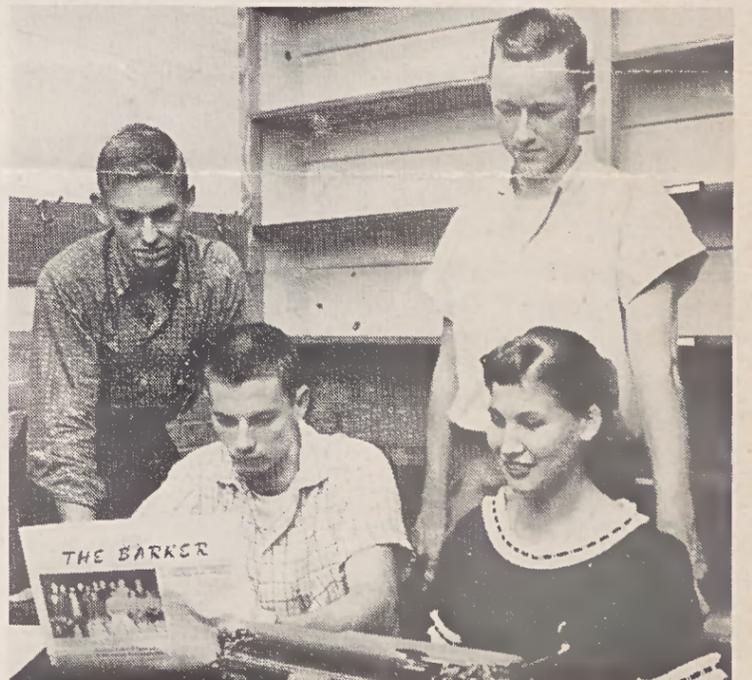

This directory is composed of the street addresses and telephone numbers of all the students and faculty members in the high school. They are listed according to their separate classes, and are in alphabetical order. The Key Club prints 1700 of these books and will distribute them, free of charge, to all members of the student body.

This year the directory will be considerably larger than past years, mainly because of the increased enrollment at the school. However, the Key Club is planning additional improvements in their directory. On the second page there will be a list of all the necessary "emergency calls" such as the police department, doctor, and fire department. Also on the center page there will be a large picture of Williams High, such as the annual staff uses in the yearbook, the Doe-Wah-Jack. Further improvements will be made upon suggestions from other members of the high school and Key Club.

Since the third week in August, members of the club have been selling ads, enabling them to put out this directory. In regard to the progress of the directory, Tommy Neal, Key Club president reports, "The ads are coming along very well, in fact much better than they have in previous years."

Members of the directory committee are: Jim Copland, chairman; Don Newlin, Bobby Kennan, John H. Veron, George Best, Clyde Gordon, and Tommy Neal.

New Barker junior assistants are: Nancy Lorimer and Phil Deaton seated at the typewriter, Mike Barham and Malcolm Kilpatrick standing. Ruth Lupton, also a Jr. Assistant, was absent at the time the picture was taken.
