

"HIGH LIFE" IS AWARDED SHIELD AT SCHOLASTIC PRESS ASSOCIATION

Martha Broadhurst Represents "High Life" in Editing The "Spectator."

HISTORICAL PLACES VISITED

Virginia McClamrock, Martha Broadhurst, P. B. Whittington, and Miss Isabelle Coleman Attended.

Winning the Columbia Scholastic Press Association shield and having a part in editing the Columbia Spectator were not the only events that made the trip for the delegates to the Scholastic Press profitable and pleasant, but many places of historic interest and of sheer beauty were visited by the Greensboro students representing HIGH LIFE. Miss Coleman chaperoned the group consisting of Martha Broadhurst, Virginia McClamrock, and P. B. Whittington.

Quite liberal in the awarding of prizes were the organizers of this initial convention for young high school journalists. Twenty-four awards were made. The schools were first divided into A, B
(Continued on page two)

OLD SCORES EVENED IN GAME WITH FACULTY AND GIRLS

Dressed As Flappers the Boys' Team Receive Loving Cup for Victory Over Girls' Sextet.

Greensboro High School's basketball season was brought to a close at Caldwell gym Thursday evening, March 12, by a game between women members of the faculty and the high school girls. A pie-eating contest, and a game between the G. H. S. boys' team dressed in girls' costumes and the girls' sextet that defeated the faculty, completed the evening's program.

The faculty team took the court in a crippled condition with several members on crutches and others wearing bandages. The appendages were discarded after a circuit of the court, and the game was on. The faculty defense crumbled in the second period after holding the opposition to four points the first quarter, and with little difficulty the girls completely fooled the teachers the remainder of the game and won 20 to 4.

Miss Rankin and Mr. Farthing represented the faculty and Judah Shohan and Edgar Young the seniors in the pie-eating contest. The students were easy winners. First prize was awarded Edgar Young and it proved to be another pie, which he proceeded to devour.

Thunderous applause marked the appearance of Bill Scott, and all of the boys' team in girls' costumes, with roll of stocking as well as roll of curl and use of lipstick, rouge and powder. The victorious girls' team came on the court and the first battle of its kind began. Referee Park was unable to control the participants and many comical plays developed.

WILL GREENSBORO BRING BACK THE CUP NEXT YEAR?

March 16, 17 and 18, the members of the HIGH LIFE staff who attended the Journalistic Convention held in New York gave very interesting chapel programs. Miss Coleman presented the shield to Lois Dorsett, editor-in-chief of the paper.

Many were disappointed because the representatives didn't bring back the cup. The reason, explained by Miss Coleman, was that HIGH LIFE contains too many ads and is thus barred from competing with self-supporting papers.

The students, however, have decided that next year there will be no ads in HIGH LIFE. The school itself will support the paper so that the representatives at the next convention will bring back the cup and the glory of having the best school paper in the country.

TRIANGULAR DEBATE March 27, 1925

QUERY: Resolved, That North Carolina should adopt the Port Terminals and Water Transportation Act.

At Greensboro: Greensboro's affirmative, High Point's negative. At Winston: Winston's affirmative, Greensboro's negative.

At High Point: High Point's affirmative, Winston's negative. Greensboro's Affirmative: Henry Biggs, John Larkins. Alternate, Edgar Kuykendall.

Greensboro's Negative: John Mcbane, Carlton Wilder. Alternate, J. D. McNairy.

Debaters' Banquet, 6:00 p.m., at High School Cafeteria.

G. H. S. DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS "SEVENTEEN"

The Proceeds to Be Divided Between "High Life", the "Reflector" and the Dramatic Club.

On Friday night, March 13, in the auditorium of North Carolina College for Women, the High School Dramatic club presented to a packed house "Seventeen," Booth Tarkington's comedy of youth, love, and summer time. In just a word, it was a grand and glorious success on the part of all—the presenting company, the audience, and last, but not least, the cash box of HIGH LIFE, the Reflector, and the Dramatic club, each of which received a third of the proceeds.

To those who went expecting to see the usual amateurish school-boy and girl half-hearted attempt at melodrama, the interpretation of "Seventeen" was a relief. The cardinal sin of over-acting, most frequently met with in such performances, was avoided. Under-acting was also absent, although not so markedly, several members of the cast obviously not being in character at several points in the play. "In commenting, however, it must be remembered that 'Seventeen' is not the easiest of plays to produce successfully and artistically, and that for
(Continued on page six)

DANTE'S INFERNO NOT COMPARABLE TO G. H. S.'S

Pain, Wretchedness, and Unhappiness Abound in "Naughty" Room.

There is somewhere in this universe a room that has seen more weeping and misery than any other similar place. A brief description of it is this: It is large and dismal, with all dark colors predominating. As one enters he feels the air of pain and wretchedness all about him. Going farther into this dungeon he sees the remnants of previous victims who have been condemned to the same fate. Everything suggests torture and unhappiness.

As a victim enters he goes slowly and sadly, with a gloomy face, hoping even yet he may escape or perhaps warn others who might fall into a similar fate. As he walks he tries to beg mercy, but with no success. At last he sits down and receives his punishment. But only once is he convicted of such an offense, for one hour spent in this hole is worse than life imprisonment in our worst jails. Much misery might be ended if it were only possible to warn the people how to keep out of it.

This dungeon of horror is the "naughty, naughty" room or detention-hall in room 5 of Annex C; and the lazy student who suffers too much from spring fever to report to classes on time or who otherwise breaks the school rules may give the most effective advice on how to avoid it.

TORCHLIGHT BEARERS HONOR NEW MEMBERS WITH FESTIVE BANQUET

Meaning of Phi Beta Kappa Explained to Neophytes—Ideals Pointed Out by Garnett Gregory.

"GOAT" AROUSES FALSE FEAR

The fearful and trembling candidates for the Torchlight Society were greeted cordially as they arrived at the High School Cafeteria for the initiation banquet on Thursday night, March 19. The mysterious tales circulated about a "goat" and the compulsory speeches had brought the new members to the initiation, despairing, but prepared for the worst.

After the delightful four-course dinner, the new members were greeted by the president of the society, Miss Betty Harrison. Miss Stone gave a brief account of the history of Phi Beta Kappa,
(Continued on page three)

PONZI'S NINE FROM WENTWORTH BLANKED

Fife and Bennett Hold Visitors to Two Hits and Fan 15—Locals Win 21 to 0.

Greensboro High School inaugurated its baseball season Saturday by administering a 21 to 0 shutout to Coach Harry (Ponzi) Dorsett's inexperienced Wentworth nine. The game was played at Cone park before only a handful of spectators, and due to the one-sidedness of the score was called in the seventh inning.

Bill Fife started on the hill for the locals and had the visitors at his mercy. He was a trifle wild but in the five innings he hurled he fanned 10. Bennett, who succeeded him, whiffed five in two innings. Wentworth garnered only two hits, a clean double by Carter to open the fifth and a single by Meador, opposing pitcher, in the seventh. Carter's lick went for naught when he overran the
(Continued on page three)

THREE-FOLD REQUIREMENT GIVEN FOR GOOD HEALTH

Dr. Kephart Tells Girls How Prevention Is Better Than Cure.

Friday, the 13th, the girls' forum enjoyed an interesting talk on health by Dr. Kephart, of N. C. C. W.

"Millions of dollars are spent every year for pills, but not one cent for prevention," said Dr. Kephart. He indicted us for biological treason and imposed the sentence of:

1. Guardianship (and we would have to be our own guardians).
2. Daily vigorous exercise.
3. At least a week or ten days spent away from home in the summertime at some camp or "doing something different."

Many expressed the wish that Dr. Kephart would come back and tell something of his summer camp for girls.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS GIVE DINNER FOR SCHOOL BOARD

The members of the Board of Education were the guests of the second year Home Economics girls at dinner Tuesday night, March 17, at the Greensboro High School. The guests were received in the clothing room, where they were occupied in looking over the hats made by the girls of both classes.

After that dinner was served in the food laboratory. The color scheme of green and yellow was very effectively carried out. The girls of the class had planned the menu, ordered the food, prepared and served it. The Board was generous in expressing its appreciation for the pleasant evening.

Those present were E. D. Broadhurst, J. N. Wills, S. M. Bumpass, T. A. Glascock, Lee H. Edwards, and Miss Hyames.

DAVIDSON FRESH WIN FAST TRACK CONTEST

Two Unofficial State Records Cracked—Charlotte Second—Locals Score 10 Points.

Two unofficial state records were cracked at Davidson Saturday when Fisher, Salisbury, clipped three and one-fifth seconds off the half mile mark and Reed, Charlotte, shaved one-fifth of a second off the record for 120-yard low hurdles.

It was an ideal day for a track meet and the Blue Devils' cinder path was fast as lightning. Davidson Freshmen won the meet with 43 points, while Charlotte Hi was second with 40.

Participating high schools and their points follow: Greensboro (10), Charlotte (40), Winston-Salem (17), Oxford (7), Statesville (13), Davidson Fresh (43).

For G. H. S. Goodwin was the individual man, making five of the 10 points scored by Greensboro. The star of the entire meet was Currie, Davidson, who took first place in the 10-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, and the relay.

Summary (named as they finished): 100-yd. dash—Currie, Davidson; Myles, Oxford; Ison, Charlotte. Time, 10 1-5.
(Continued on page three)

GUILFORD COLLEGE PROFESSOR TALKS ON VALUE OF EDUCATION

Declares That a College Education Helps a Man to Make a Success in Life.

Mr. E. C. Pericho, Professor of Education at Guilford College, gave a most interesting talk to the Juniors and Sophomores of Greensboro High School Tuesday, March 10, at chapel period, on "The Value of a College Education."

After giving several interesting illustrations of his subject, Mr. Pericho said: "I know that you Sophomores and Juniors have an ambition to do something noteworthy for the community, and I am going to ask you that old-time question—
(Continued on page five)

FRANK M'CRAVY SINGS AND GIRLS' BASKETBALL SQUAD PRESENTS PLAY

Sadie Clement Is Shero, Marguerite Harrison Is Villain, and Helen Forbis Is Hero.

MR. M'CRAVY WINS APPLAUSE

On Monday morning, March 9, the students of the main building were delightfully entertained by Frank McCravy, of Laurens, S. C., who sang, talked and yodeled his way into the hearts of the students. He was introduced by Rev. B. K. Mason, pastor of Asheboro Street Baptist church.

His yodeling of "The Swiss Lullaby" made the biggest hit, while his presentation of "A Negro 'Possum Hunt" was very amusing.
(Continued on page three)

ROTARY CLUB HONORS BASKETBALL SQUADS

Many Prominent Men Speak At Luncheon Given At Jefferson Standard Cafe.

On Tuesday, March 10, the Rotary club followed its annual custom by entertaining the basketball teams of the High School with a delightful luncheon at the Jefferson Standard cafe. The club had as its guests, in addition to the High School teams, the boys' basketball team of Guilford High School, winners of the western championship.

Mr. J. D. Wilkins introduced the three teams, after which a most delicious luncheon was served. An artist from the music department of N. C. C. W. rendered two beautiful violin selections. Following this Mr. Smith Richardson told of his recent trip to England. His talk was very humorous as well as interesting. Mr. Richardson then introduced Dr. Ashby Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., who accompanied him on his trip. Dr. Jones made a very brief but beautiful talk.

WINSTON-SALEM PLAYERS WIN IN TRIANGULAR DRAMATIC CONTEST

Greensboro, Reidsville and Winston-Salem Meet in N. C. C. W. Auditorium.

"FIXIN'S" AND "PEGGY" GOOD

Virginia McClamrock and Fritz Firey Do Brilliant Individual Work.

On Friday night, March 20, in the auditorium of North Carolina College for Women, the Reidsville, Winston-Salem, and Greensboro high school dramatic clubs met for a triangular contest. The Winston-Salem cast with its presentation of "Fixin's" carried off the honors, although Greensboro's interpretation of "Peggy" gave the judges a few minutes of thoughtful deliberation before they could decide which of the two, Greensboro or Winston-Salem, deserved the greater commendation.

The entire program under the direction of Mr. W. R. Taylor, head of dramatics at N. C. C. W., and president of the State Dramatic Association, was a creditable one and drew applause from the enthusiastic audience. "Peggy," a tragedy of tenant farm life, was portrayed in a splendid way by the Greensboro cast.
(Continued on page three)

BOYS' CHORAL CLUB FORMED

The boys of the High School have set a new record for the clubs by forming a Glee Club of 100 members. The boys are very enthusiastic and hope to do some good work in the new organization. Mr. Miller has discovered some excellent singers and seems to be well pleased with the whole enterprise.

NEW MEMBERS OF TORCHLIGHT SOCIETY

Maxine Ferree	Martha Broadhurst
Virginia Bain	Marshall Campbell
Paul Scurlock	Elizabeth Hodgkin
Helen Felder	Virginia Jackson
Dorothy Lea	Margaret Hood
Mary Lyon	Bernice Henley
Bob Stone	Arthur Davant

CHAMPION TYPIST IS COMING TO G. H. S.

Holds Envious Record of 130 Words Per Minute.

Mr. Albert Tangora, champion typist of the world, will visit G. H. S. Monday, March 23. Mr. Tangora won the championship in 1923 and again in 1924. His most enviable record was made in New York in 1924 when he typed 7,800 words in one hour, or 130 words per minute for 60 minutes.

The champion comes to the school under the auspices of the Underwood Typewriter Company.

EXPENSE ITEM CUT DOWN MUCH THIS YEAR BY OFFICE

"It costs so much to have a boy or girl to be a member of the Junior or Senior class," is a common complaint of parents in Greensboro. The administration of Greensboro High School feels that the parents should know that the "expense" item of these years is closely
(Continued on page five)