STAMEY ADDRESSES NEWS WRITING CLASS ON GOOD REPORTING

Everywhere There Are People There Are Stories, He Says—Good Reporters Needed.

Monday afternoon, at the eighth period, A. W. Stamey addressed the News-Writing class of Greensboro High School in Room 12. He gave as the essentials of a good reporter; accuracy in small things, keen observation, systematic gathering of material, "juggling" a story, simplicity, dignity and clearness of words and hard work. "A good news story is a story containing not a single word not needed and not omitting a single word needed", Mr. Stamey said.

Vulgarisms, trite expressions, limited vocabulary, and lack of synonyms were some of the things against which he warned the young editors. Mr. Stamey is offering remedies for these mistakes

WUNSCH ANNOUNCES PLAY TO BE POSTPONED

W. R. Wunsch, faculty head of dramatics, announces that the play "Just Suppose" scheduled for Nov. 20, has been postponed until some time in December. The exact date will be announced later.

Several members of the cast are sick, holding up progress on the play. Phyllis Penn, playing the part of "Virginia Belle," the feminine lead, has just returned to school after being out two weeks with a severe case of tonsillitis. Harvey "Pete" Wyrick, taking the masculine lead, as the Prince of Wales, has missed a good many practices on account of his going out for football and being laid up with a bad cold. The Prince has received his monacle, ordered some time ago, and, according to members of the cast, presents a truly royal appearance as he struts across the stage, superciliously staring through its single lens.

The part of Lord Kannaby, left vacant by the resignation of James Peterson, is to be filled by Clarence Scott. Regular practices are held three nights a week.

The dramatic class has begun work at the regular class period on a play of its own. This play, The Charm School, will also be presented in December.

STUDENTS HEAR OF "SKEETER" TRIP

Impressions of Trip Given By Davant and Burroughs—Both Realize Value Money

At the chapel assemblies on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 24, 25, and 26, Edward Davant and Dick Burroughs, students of the High School, spoke on their trip to California which they took during the past summer with Austin Comer and Clarence Phoenix.

Edward told of the trip as far as Salt Lake City, Utah. He related how the four boys had left on the morning of July 2 in a Ford "skeeter" with fifty dollars each. Richmond was reached the first night; Washington the next. There they spent the Fourth of July. After visiting places of interest there they moved on through Maryland into Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Toledo, and thence to Detroit, where they toured the Ford plant.

From Pittsburgh the boys moved on through Chicago and out to Lake Park where for the first time their money gave out. There they secured jobs, working ten hours a day shocking oats and receiving two dollars and a half a day and board.

STADIUM DRIVE WILL BE PUT ON HERE NOV. 9-12

Cone Has Donated Land—To Be Erected in Honor of Soldiers Who Fought in World War.

Nov. 9-12 has been set aside in Greensboro for a drive to secure funds to erect a magnificent stadium commemorating the patriotism of the soldiers who fought and fell in the World War. The project is under the direction of the civic clubs. Each was promised 100% whole-hearted support.

According to Mayor E. B. Jeffries, the land for the stadium has already been donated by the Cone interests and a committee has been authorized by the state legislature to carry out the project. Authorities are optimistic in regard to the drive, feeling that the city will contribute enthusiastically to the scheme.

Plans were completed at a luncheon in the Jefferson Cafe Friday, October 23. It is estimated that the stadium will cost around $1,000,000.

G. H. S. ORCHESTRA GIVES ITS INITIAL MUSICAL PROGRAM

Handles Difficult Pieces Very Creditably—Program Thoroughly Enjoyed

ED DAVANT MAKES TALK

Gives Humorous Account of the Trip That He and Other Boys Took to California.

The G. H. S. Orchestra entertained the Sophomore assembly in chapel, Tuesday, Oct. 27, with a program that was enthusiastically received by the audience.

The first number played was "March Romaine" followed by a selection from "The Bohemian Girl." Next came the popular skit, "I want to Be Happy," which drew from the audience a demand for an encore. As the final selection the orchestra played the very difficult "Overture from Raymond," which even the greatest of orchestras find hard to render skillfully. In the opinion of the audience at least, it seemed as if the G. H. S. orchestra had handled the piece very creditably.

Following the orchestra's program Edward Davant talked to the assembly on the trip to the Pacific coast from which he and several other Greensboro boys have just returned.

FACULTY HONORED AT GREENSBORO COUNTRY CLUB WITH PARTY

Mrs. C. C. Fordham, Jr., Wins Prize For the Highest Bridge Score.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Greensboro High School entertained the faculty with a combination bridge and rook party on Thursday, October 22, from eight to twelve o'clock at the Greensboro Country Club. There were about fifteen tables, over fifty persons attending.

The parents, under the direction of the president of the association Mrs. A. B. High, acted as hostess. The teachers were motored out in the parent's cars.

During the evening delightful refreshments were served: chicken salad garnished with pickles, coffee, and orange ice with cake. Afterward salted nuts and mints were placed on every table.

Highest score prizes were offered in both bridge and Rook. Mrs. C. C. Fordham, Jr. received the prize for the highest bridge score, while Mrs. C. W. Phillips took the Rook honors. Two men's prizes were also awarded.

U. S. NAVY BAND RE-NEWERS PROGRAM HERE

Saturday, October 24, the United States Navy band gave two concerts at the Grand theatre, under the auspices of the local civic clubs, and for the benefit of the "Doughboys" stadium fund.

The afternoon performance was cut short and limited to about six selections because of the band's being delayed by a wreck on the way to Greensboro. Scheduled to play at three o'clock, the program did not get well under way until about five. A few of the players, however, were on hand to give a preliminary performance at about four-thirty.

The members of the orchestra showed their regret for being delayed by conducting themselves in a rather informal manner which pleased the audience. Be-

NEW BANKING SYSTEM TO BE IN HIGH SCHOOL

Authorities Hope New Plan May Be Installed By the First of December.

During the first part of December the school authorities plan to install in Greensboro High School a system of school savings which has proven successful all over the country. This system, known as the National School Savings System, is used in nearly 70 per cent of all schools in which a plan of student savings is in operation.

In this system the students make their deposits, which are entered in a regulation pass book, such as is used in all banks, and receive the usual rate of interest on them. It is far superior to the system previously tried in the Greensboro Public Schools, and the school officials express themselves as being confident this system will do much to promote thrift among the students.
