

Magazine Receives Prize in National Paper Contest

LAUD HIGH LIFE

Meeting Held at Columbia University in New York, March 11-12

MANY DELEGATES THERE

Award Made to Florida Delegation For Largest Number Coming Greatest Distance

Homespun, the magazine of Greensboro High School, won first place in class C, and HIGH LIFE, G. H. S.'s newspaper, won third place in class B in the contest of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Convention. The meetings were held at Columbia University in New York, March 11 and 12.

Eleven hundred delegates attended the convention from all parts of the United States. A delegation of four from Tampa, Florida, received an Underwood typewriter for being the largest number of representatives coming from the greatest distance to the convention.

The papers winning places in the same groups as the G. H. S. publications are as follows: Senior High (Continued on Page Six)

LITERARY PROGRAM GIVEN AT TEACHERS' MEETING

Frederick Archer Reads List of Books. Distributes Lists to Teachers Present—Library Report Read

SEVERAL TEACHERS MAKE TALKS

Books and school libraries were the central theme of the general teachers' meeting held Saturday, March 12, in the high school auditorium.

Mr. Frederick Archer discussed libraries and expressed the hope that poetry clubs would be organized in the schools. He read an interesting list of statistics on the circulation of books in the libraries. A list of books introduced by the comment, "Not one of the books listed is a 'duty' type of book. Each one more than pulls its own weight in the wealth of interest," was given to the group.

An interesting innovation at this meeting was book reviews by representative teachers from each of the faculties present.

The following talks were made on books selected from the distributed lists: This Singing World, Miss Mary Morris; The Advancing South, Miss Mary Sparrow; What Literature Can Do For Me, Miss Rena Cole; A New Decalogue of Science, Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, and The Dreams of Zank Peters, by Miss Kate Betts.

MISS NELLIE BROGDON GIVES TALK AT P. T. A.

Miss Nettie Brogdon, rural supervisor, gave an interesting talk to the Parent-Teacher Association at Jesse Wharton School Friday, March 11. She discussed the required standing for an approved elementary school.

One of the major objectives of the Parent-Teacher Association is to try to standardize every school. The meeting at Jesse Wharton was for this effort.

Miss Brogdon also addressed the Brightwood Parent-Teacher Association on Wednesday evening, March 9. This talk concerned the changes in education which are constantly taking place.

EDITOR OF HOMESPUN

CARLTON E. WILDER

TEACHERS LEAVE TO ATTEND ASSEMBLY

Will Be Held at High Morson High School in Raleigh

SUPT. ARCHER SPEAKS

Seven high school teachers are representing G. H. S. at the State Teachers' meeting at Raleigh, March 24-26. The general meetings are being held at the city auditorium and the departmental meetings at the Hugh Morson High and Thompson Elementary schools.

The principal speakers of the meeting are Dr. Ernest Horn, Iowa State University; Dr. George Dutch, Peabody College, and Dr. Sigmund Spruth, of New York. "The Need of a Dean and the Standardization of Her Work" will be the topic of Superintendent Frederick Archer in one of the departmental discussions.

The delegates from G. H. S. are Miss Fannie Starr Mitchell, Miss Ione Grogan, Miss Lilly Walker, Miss Amy Caldwell and C. W. Phillips.

KIWANIS ENTERTAIN MEMBERS OF STAFFS

Gives Luncheon at Hylmore Tea Room at 1 o'clock on Afternoon of March 24

The Kiwanis Club entertained representatives from HIGH LIFE and Homespun at a luncheon Thursday, March 24, at 1 o'clock, in the Hylmore Tea room.

Betty Brown, editor-in-chief of HIGH LIFE, made a short talk on the history of HIGH LIFE and Homespun. The student representatives of the two publications attending were Betty Brown, Henry Biggs, Dick Burroughs, Mary Lynn Carlson, Finley Atkisson, Harry Gump, Beverly Moore, Carlton Wilder, Sarah Mendenhall, and Clyde Norcom. Mr. Frederick Archer, superintendent of schools, Mrs. Mary Ashford, HIGH LIFE adviser, and Miss Laura Tillet, Homespun adviser, also attended the luncheon.

Former Student Returns

Margaret Smathers, former student of G. H. S., and a member of the sophomore class, has returned from Charleston where she attended school last semester.

"GOOSE HANGS HIGH" PRESENTED AT ODELL BY SCHOOL ACTORS

Play Presented by High School Actors Under Direction of Miss Marian Bliss

JUSTIFICATION OF YOUTH

Work of Jane Harris, Ruth Abbot and Herbert Jones Is Outstanding. McIver Has Leading Part

In the opinion of many of those present, the high school actors surpassed all previous efforts when, under the direction of Miss Marian Bliss, they presented the three-act play, "The Goose Hangs High," at the Odell Memorial building, Saturday night, March 19. Both the plot and the cast were superior to the majority of plays presented by G. H. S. in recent years.

Particularly was the work of Jane Harris, Ruth Abbott, and Herbert Jones outstanding. Charles McIver's acting was also worthy of recognition; but then the entire cast acquitted themselves in an unusual manner.

"The Goose Hangs High," which is the work of Lewis Beach is a justification of modern youth. Bernard Ingals, played by Herbert Jones, loses his position through the influence of corrupt politicians. The reaction of the children when they learn that their par-

(Continued on Page Five)

TRAINING SCHOOL BEING HELD FOR SCOUT HEADS

Scout Activities, Handicraft Featuring Tenderfoot, Second and First Class Requirements

UNDER AUSPICES SCOUT COUNCIL

"A training school for scoutmasters is being conducted by the Greensboro Boy Scout Council. The increase in the number of boy scouts has made the need for such a school more pronounced," says Mr. R. D. Douglas, president of the council.

Scout activities, handicraft featuring tenderfoot, second-class and first-class requirement will be included in the courses. The meetings are at 7:30 o'clock on the evenings of March 15, 17, 22, and 25. On the final night of the school the men will visit several troop meetings with older scoutmasters of the city.

R. D. Douglas delivered the main address at the opening meeting, March 15. Others who are helping are: C. D. Benbow, Jr., Wallace White, L. L. McAlister, F. R. Casper, R. J. Tysor and Frank Hutton. Greensboro men who have entered the school are: Jack Harder, A. M. Hopkins, H. F. Summers, John Betts, Scott Robertson, and R. H. Frazier.

MANY BOYS ATTEND SESSIONS OF HI-Y CLUB

During the month of February 230 boys attended 16 sessions of HI-Y clubs. The boys are planning and carrying out the program for the year. The Junior HI-Y Club has been organized with 20 charter members in the past month.

Under the leadership of F. C. Boyles, plans for completion of the department for the unfortunate boys of the city are being carried out. Also a camp for the boys is being planned.

The membership in the boys' department totals 261, but the goal set is 500 regular members and 200 special members.

Future Events

March 28-29, Triangular Debaters in chapel.

March 30, Miss Dry's session room in chapel.

March 31, Mr. Gilbert Powell speaks to boys.

April 1, High Point debaters come here; Wake Forest meet; Ed Stainback in declamation contest; track meet.

April 7, Mr. J. W. Zellner speaks.

April 8-9, Guilford meet; recitation and declamation contest; track meet.

April 12, Deputation team from U. N. C. in chapel.

April 14-15, High school week at U. N. C.; track team; debaters, and tennis.

April 23, Annual grammar track meet at Stadium.

April 30, Annual Civitans meet.

April 30-May 7, Boys' Week.

May 7, Senior play.

May 25, Senior exams begin.

May 29, Baccalaureate sermon.

May 30, Regular exams begin.

June 2-3, Commencement exercises.

EDGAR GUEST TALKS AT LOCAL COLLEGE

Large Audience Seems Pleased With Selections Given—Several Calls For Encores

RECITES FAVORITE POEM

Edgar A. Guest recited his "bits" in the Odell Memorial building on Saturday, March 12th. A very large audience listened for about the space of two hours and then asked for more.

Most of the people had already read his homely little verses, and so were won before he even came on the stage. They could anticipate with pleasure many of the lines he was going to speak next.

Mr. Guest started with his more humorous poems, and gradually introduced others of a more serious theme, and worked up to a climax with perhaps his best known poem, "It Takes a Heap o' Livin' to Make a House a Home."

But when he stopped the audience who had liked his reciting so well, applauded for more. In answer to this request he gave the poem on the rejoicing in heaven over the return of James Whitcomb Riley, written when the Indiana poet died, and "Just Wait Till Your Pa Gets Home."

TRIANGULAR DEBATERS HONORED BY BANQUET

Will Be Held on April 21 in G. H. S. Cafeteria For Local and Visiting Debaters

Thursday, April 1, the annual Triangular Debate Banquet will be held in the high school cafeteria. This is held in honor of the local and visiting debaters, and is a part of the activity of the Debating Club.

The local affirmative team, and the negative forces of either high Point or Winston will be entertained. George McSwain of the Debating Club is toastmaster of the occasion. Speeches and talks by various members of the club will make up the program. Those present will include the local and visiting debaters, the members of the debating club, and guests invited by them.

Following the banquet the Triangular Debate will be held in the high school auditorium.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY DELEGATES MONDAY AT CHAPEL HOUR

Carlton Wilder Tells of Happenings of C. S. P. A. Convention—Watson Presides

NEW YORK EXPERIENCES

See Many Buildings and Shows While in New York—Spend Ten Days in Metropolis

To the tune of the Aida March, "The March of the Conquerors," the staffs of HIGH LIFE and Homespun entered chapel, Monday, March 21, to celebrate their recent victories in New York. Willard Watson, president of the student government of G. H. S., exhibited the six cups won previously by the two publications, after which Mr. Frederick Archer said a few words of praise to the staffs. He stated that he had always held an inward longing to be a member of these "teams."

Watson then introduced Betty Brown, editor-in-chief of HIGH LIFE. She in turn introduced the editor of Homespun, Carlton Wilder, who told of the most interesting events of the convention.

The convention was held at the McMillan theater, where the delegates were welcomed by Dean Hawkes of Columbia University. After the general

(Continued on Page Six)

MISS A. BINZELL TALKS ON "HOW MANY CHANGES"

She Hopes Change in Times Will Bring G. H. S. New School

NATIONALLY KNOWN LECTURER

"How Times Change" was the subject of Miss Alma Binzell, a nationally known teacher and lecturer, in chapel Tuesday, March 15.

In connection with her subject, Miss Binzell started her talk with the remark that she hoped times would soon change and bring G. H. S. a new building.

Miss Binzell said that she wished that the parents of today had had some course in the training of children and had learned just how to teach little Mary the meaning of the word "No." Most every child knows some way to get just what he wants from his parents. Every parent should know how to deal with children who have tantrums and crying spells. The fundamental proposition in dealing with conduct is learning to say "No."

In conclusion, Miss Binzell stated that schools and colleges are becoming interested in pre-parental training and are introducing many courses in conduct and behavior.

THREE SCHOOL SITES SELECTED BY BOARD

Three school sites were selected at a meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday, March 22. The Market-Elam site will be used as a grammar school for that section. The Jennings-Suites property was selected for the Glenwood site. The site of the negro school will be in the eastern section of the city on the Sherwood property.

The high school site has not yet been obtained. Several tracts of land are under the consideration of the board, which is composed of E. D. Broadhurst, J. M. Millikan, and Claude Kiser, will negotiate with the owners of the prospective site.