

Four Greensboro Troops Observe Girl Scout Week

WEEK OCTOBER 9-15

Various Activities Each Day Mark Special Significance of This Week

PLANT TREE AT GUILFORD

Grammar Schools as Well as High School Have Programs During Scout Week

During the week of October 9-15 Scout Week was observed by the four scout troops of this city. Sunday, October 9, was the initial day of activities. At either the morning or evening church services the scouts attended in a body in uniform. Dr. Loy D. Thompson, pastor of West Market Methodist Church, preached especially to the scouts, complimenting and praising scouthood everywhere.

The Grammar grades emphasized the "Scout at School" Monday, October 9. At Aycock, the scouts conducted the chapel program, dramatizing the ten laws. Wednesday, October 11, the high school scouts at chapel presented "The Spirit of Scouting."

Tuesday was significant of the scout slogan "Do a good turn daily." Each scout attempted to do something in particular at home.

Community service was stressed on Wednesday. All the scouts met at the office of Mrs. M. W. Stern, County Welfare head, and there work was assigned to individuals. The younger scouts cut pictures while the older girls were engaged in making stockings of red turlatane. These will be used by the empty stocking committee at Christmas.

The Stabeba troop conducted the tree planting at Guilford Battleground, Thursday, October 13. A spot near the General Greene monument was selected for the planting. Leila George Cram, from troop 2 put the first spade of dirt around the small pine.

Meyer's Department Store welcomed the scouts to their Saturday morning inspirational service at 8:30. The scouts, representing every troop, gave several scout songs, among them the Scout Hymn.

A memorial service to Juliette Low, founder of girl scouting, was held at Sunset Hills Park on Saturday afternoon. Songs commemorating her as leader and founder were sung by more than 90 scouts.

This completed the scout week program as outlined by the local council.

LIBRARY NOTES

Cather, W. S.—The Song of the Lark.

Lindbergh, Charles—"We."

Meigs, Cornelia—The Trade Wind.

Scholz, Jackson—Split Seconds.

Students who have been anticipating reading our new books of fiction will be glad to know that they are all now on the shelves and available to borrowers.

The use of the card catalog has been much facilitated by the insertion of printed guide cards. Try the catalog and see how easy it is to find out from it whether the book you want is in the library or not, or whether the library has any books on the subject in which you are interested.

"We wish to express our appreciation of the help which the student assistants are giving in the library. They all work willingly and well and are a great aid to us at the desk and elsewhere," says Miss Mary Broom, librarian.

LIMERICK

A big southern train came choo-chooing up the track.

The teacher said, as mad as could be, "We were having a test; drat this unwelcome guest!"

But the students all laughed in glee.

LENA BOLEY TELLS OF ART INSTRUCTION

Two Different Classes Meet Twice Each Week in New Art Studio

TEACHERS MEET WEEKLY

In the course of making changes around G. H. S., the basement of Barn B has been turned into an art studio. Lena Boley, head of the art department in the city schools, has organized two art classes which meet twice each week. Free-hand drawing is taught in one class and crafts, or industrial arts, in the other. Miss Henri Etta Lee, teacher of crafts, has given her classes as their first project, lessons in making parchment lampshades. Later on an exhibit of the work done in these classes will be given.

Thirty-five of the teachers in the city schools receive instructions along this line every Saturday morning in the "studio."

"I have found some very talented students," Miss Boley said, "and expect great things from them."

GIRLS GIVE SHORT SKIT ON SPIRIT OF SCOUTING

Clyde Norcum Takes Leading Part. Ten Other Scouts Represent Laws of Their Organization

ALL SING "HAIL TO THE SCOUTS"

The Girl Scouts of Greensboro High School gave a short program in chapel Wednesday, October 12. "The Spirit of Scouting" was presented by eleven scouts. The spirit of scouting was represented by Clyde Norcum. Ten other scouts were selected to represent the laws of scouting. Those portraying the different laws were:

Truth—Sarah Howerton.
Loyalty—Mary Grey Korniegy.
Usefulness—Evelyn Garrett.
Friendliness—Frances Crawford.
Courtesy—Carolyn Hay.
Kindness—Mildred Golden.
Obedience—Elizabeth Leak.
Cheerfulness—Kathleen Wrenn.
Thrift—Leila George Cram.
Purity—Polly Moore.

The remainder of the scouts were grouped on the stage. When the skit was finished all the scouts joined in singing "Hail to the Scouts."

MISS LAURA TILLET GOES TO CHARLOTTE

Miss Laura Tillett, well known English teacher, visited the Central High School in Charlotte Friday, October 14, and spent the day looking over the building and observing classes in the English department.

Miss Tillett made the statement that the Central High School English department is doing splendid work. They are having an elective course in Bible. "The gymnasium," stated Miss Tillett, "is splendidly equipped."

GIRL RESERVES GIVE PARTY AT Y. W. C. A. FOR NEW MEMBERS

About 30 Girls Who Might Become Interested in Organization Attend

EVENING SPENT DANCING

Many Games Were Played—Punch Was Served and According to Those Present Everyone Had a Good Time

Monday, October 10, at 8 o'clock, the Girl Reserves gave a party at the Y. W. C. A. hut. Every old girl reserve invited a new girl who might become interested in the organization.

As soon as all arrived each was given a slip of paper with a few words of some popular song printed on it. The girls then got together in groups and put their pieces together. The first group to finish sang their song, after which all three groups sang theirs at the same time.

Dance programs were then distributed. The first number was the Grand March, the third, Virginia Reel and the eighth, Paul Jones.

Punch was served during the evening. According to most all those present everyone had a good time.

VAUDEVILLE GIRLS GIVE PARTY TO TEAM

Coach Woodward, Miss Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Wiener, Mrs. Cone, Chaperones

MISS STERNE IS HOSTESS

The girls in the chorus of the vaudeville to be given by the high school students gave a party Friday night, October 14, at the home of Frances Sterne on Summit avenue.

All the boys on the football team were present and about twenty of the girls in the chorus were present. Mr. L. H. Woodward, football coach; Miss Mary Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Weiner and Mrs. Julius Cone were special guests and chaperones.

A dance was given from 9 to 11:30; punch and cake were served during the evening.

MISS MARY MORROW BACK IN SCHOOL AGAIN

Her Third Period Class Sends Flowers and Magazines During Her Illness. Mesdames Brim and McDuffie Sub.

Miss Mary Morrow, member of the mathematics department of Greensboro High School, returned to school Tuesday, October 18, after a brief illness. This is Miss Morrow's first absence from school for two years. The pupils of her third period class sent her flowers and magazines.

Mrs. Kenneth Brim and Mrs. Roger McDuffie substituted for Miss Morrow during her absence.

Hallowe'en Pranks

Last Hallowe'en someone sawed in two the bridge from Greensboro College for a prank. Ever since the poor school children have had to walk over this precarious bridge. We wish they would give us another one for Hallowe'en.

First Small Boy—I'd like to see a fish cry.

Second Little Dumb-bell—Fish don't cry.

First Ditto—They do, too! Papa said he saw some whales blubber.—The West High Tattler, Des Moines, Iowa.

Mrs. L.: "What modern inventions have done most to help men up in the world?"

Voice from the rear: "The elevator and alarm clock."—The Frankford High Way, Philadelphia, Pa.

TRY-OUTS FOR PLAY "COME OUT OF THE KITCHEN" ARE HELD

Any Student, Whether Member of Dramatic Club or Not, Is Eligible

ANNOUNCE RESULTS SOON

Dramatics Club Consists of Three Groups—Chapel Exercises to Be Conducted By the Separate Groups

The Dramatics Club of G. H. S. consists of three groups. Each of the groups has a faculty adviser. Misses Virginia Hollingsworth, Rachel Freeman, and Katherine Jones, are the advisers appointed for the fall semester. A meeting of the separate groups is held every Friday at chapel period. The last Friday in the month all hold a joint meeting.

Thus far at the meetings the members have been dramatizing pantomimes. Each group has elected a chairman and at the meetings hold discussions on plays to be given. "Come Out of the Kitchen" will be staged by the whole club as the first public performance. Chapel exercises will also be conducted by the separate groups. The advisers when interviewed declared that they were looking for a most successful year and had many plans for the entire club.

Tryouts for the play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," were held in chapel Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, October 19 and 20. The same system of try-outs as the Carolina Playmakers was used. As many persons as desired were permitted to go out for any part they wished. Any student in the school, whether a member of the Dramatic Club or not, was allowed to try out. No memory selection was required and each student read a part from his selected character. The casting committee will announce the results later.

The following are members of the ways and means committee:

Elvie Hope, chairman, Mary Bailly Williams, Gladys Brooks, Katherine Nowell, Margaret Betts.

The advertising staff consists of: Doris Hogan, chairman, Charles Kellenberger, Gage Hodgkin, Carter Williams and Alma Nussman.

Assigned to work on the Entertainment Committee were:

Margaret Britton, chairman, Alma Nussman, Mary Henri Robinson, Lizzie Adams Powers, and Anna Lyon.

HAPPEE SCOUT TROOP GOES ON SUPPER HIKE

Twenty-five scouts of the Happee troop left West Market Methodist Church Friday, October 7, for a supper hike. Miss Marian Gilmer, scout captain, accompanied the troop. College Park had been secured as the place for the supper. This was a three mile hike because the younger scouts were allowed to go.

After cooking supper the scouts were seated around the campfire. The life of Juliette Low, founder of scouting, was given by Elizabeth Leak. A song contest between the patrols was then staged. The mechapot patrol was given the award of a pair of signalling flags as winners. Story hour followed and then all prepared for the march home.
