

LETTER BOX

Since the objectives of the National Honor Society have recently been brought to the attention of the Greensboro High School students, I thought it might be of interest to them to know the accepted interpretation of the rather general terms, Service, Leadership, and Character. Service may be interpreted as a willingness to render cheerfully and enthusiastically any service to the school whenever called upon, and to maintain a loyal school attitude. Leadership may be demonstrated through initiative in class-room activities which leads to higher scholarship for all, through successfully holding positions of responsibility, and through contriving ideas helpful to the civic life of the school. Recognition in Character may be gained by demonstration such qualities of personality, honesty, reliability, promptness, achievement, and morality as are indispensable to young manhood and womanhood. May not all of us strive to score even higher when measured by such standards?

FANNIE S. MITCHELL.

This year the Student Council is trying to function as a governing body, representative of the entire student body through home room and semester organizations and the other organizations represented on the Council. It is offering to the student body a plan by which the students may have actual participation in the government of the school. The success of this plan lies, first, with the Council, whose duty it is to lead the student body in this matter of participation and second with the student body, whose opportunity it is to recommend measures for the consideration of the Council. The Council hopes that the citizens of the school community are interested enough in their government to offer valuable suggestions.

SARAH LESLEY,
Faculty Adviser.

WHY STUDY?

The more you study, the more you know;
The more you know, the more you forget,
The more you forget, the less you know—
So why study?

The less you study, the less you know,
The less you know, the less you forget,
The less you forget, the more you know—
So why study?

Silence is Bliss

"Sambo, do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

"Ah does, sah."

"Well, Sambo, what have you got to say for yourself?"

"Jedge, wif all dem limitations you jes' put on me, ah don't believe ah has anything to say."—Broadcaster, Rutherford, N. C.

A New York actress was giving a benefit performance at Sing Sing. "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage," she trilled.

From the back of the room a deep voice ejaculated, "But lady, how they do help."—Westport Crier, Kansas City, Mo.

WHO SAW THEM?

Reaching G. H. S. from a ten-mile hike, the girls were heard to say:

"Miss Freeman promised that she would leave this door open."

"Elizabeth, try the back, and I'll try the front doors."

"O dear, all the doors are closed!"

"Look! Here's a window that is open. Help me climb in."

After a dozen or so books were passed out of the window a figure crawled out and slowly closed the window.

PATROL LEADERS OF GIRL SCOUTS GATHER FOR OFFICIAL MEET

Discuss Scout Honor System and Various Other Phases of Business Mentioned

THREE TROOP CONTESTS

In Song Contest Groups Will Be Judged According to Diction, Rhythm, Time and Impression

On Tuesday, October 18, at 7 o'clock, a patrol leaders' meeting of the Girl Scouts was held at the home of Dorothy Donnell. Rose Goodwin, the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and then the following business was discussed: Three contests, which began October 1, are now going on between the troops. They are for attendance, subscriptions to the American Girl, and three songs in the song contest, "Hail to the Scouts," troop songs, and any other of their own selections. The contestants will be judged on four things: diction, rhythm, time and impression. At the end of the contests, the points will be added and an award given to the troop which has the most points. A committee of four was appointed to have charge of the pennants; they are, Mary Howerton, Hazel Rawlins, Elizabeth Leftwich, and Mary Johnson. The pennants will be of triangular shape in blue, green, and white, with "G. S." in gold letters on it.

The Court of Honor system was discussed and then the meeting was adjourned.

JUNIOR HI-Y CLUB HOLDS ITS MOTHERS' BANQUET

Otis Phillips Was Toastmaster For the Occasion—Mrs. A. E. Stanley Gives Response for Mothers

SENIOR HI-Y MOTHERS SERVE

The Junior Hi-Y Club held its annual mothers' banquet Monday evening, October 24, 1927, at 6:30 o'clock. The meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A.

Otis Phillips, president of the club, was toastmaster for the occasion and delivered the address of welcome to the mothers. Mrs. A. E. Stanley gave the response from the mothers.

During the meeting, Frank Warner, the young people's worker of West Market Street M. E. Church, rendered a number of songs and banjo selections. The principal address was given by C. W. Phillips. More than thirty members of the club were present.

The senior Hi-Y mothers served the supper.

SEMESTER VIII SENIORS STAGE GHOSTLY PARTY

Miss May Ellen Blackman, Leader of History Department, Bites Harry Gump's Ear in Contest

The eighth semester seniors gave a Halloween party Friday night, October 28, at the Church by the Side of the Road Community Hut.

Everyone was masqueraded and dressed in various Halloween costumes. Contests, stunts and fortune-telling were features of the evening. A parade was held and the Virginia Reel was danced. Ellen Donavant and Juanita Dillon were fortune-tellers. They spun the bottle and held a marshmallow contests; Miss Laura Tillett was the victor. Everybody tried to see how much noise they could make and various methods of hair-raising stunts were staged. Unfortunately, Harry Gump's ear was bitten by Miss Ellen Blackman in one of the contests. Katherine Duffy won the prize for the best costume of the evening. Horns were given as favors, and buttermilk, ginger-bread, doughnuts, marshmallows and apples were served.

"Lindbergh Flies Alone"

Alone? Is he alone at whose right side rides Courage, with Skill within the cockpit and Faith upon the left? Does solitude surround the brave when Adventure leads the way and Ambition reads the dials? Is there no company with him for whom the air is left by Daring and the darkness is made light by Enterprise?

True, the fragile bodies of his fellows do no weigh down his plane; true, the fretful minds of weaker men are lacking from his crowded cabin; but as his airship keeps her course he holds communion with those rarer spirits that inspire to intrepidity and by their sustaining potency give strength to arm, resource to mind, content to soul.

Alone? With what other companions would that man fly to whom the choice were given?—Editorial from The New York Sun, May 21, 1927.

FRENCH CIRCLE HAS REGULAR MEETING

Irene McFadyen Presides—Program Committee Presents French Play

NEW MEMBERS RECEIVED

The French Club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, November 1, in room 4. The meeting was opened by Irene McFadyen, president. After the reading of the minutes by Elizabeth Wilson, Margaret Golding read the Constitution. The Constitution was drawn up to be presented at this meeting for criticism. A committee composed of Margaret Golding, Frances DeVault, and Virginia Shelton wrote the Constitution in English and translated it into French.

After two new members, Ruth Yarbrough and Charles Marsh, were welcomed into the club; the program was turned over to Kathryn Murray.

The program committee presented a play called "Au Restaurant." This was a scene in a French restaurant. The characters were Margaret Bain, grandmother; Ruth Lewis, Marie; Helen Shuford, mother, and Ed Kuykendall, waiter.

After the program, games were played and hot chocolate, pickles and sandwiches were served.

MISS BLACKMON GETS LETTER FROM S.N.H.S.

Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon received a letter October 24 from Scotland Neck High School asking for information about the local Student Council. The letter stated that they had heard of the local council through Anne Bradley, a former Greensboro High student, and wished to organize a council on the plan of the local one.

President Byers says that he expects the student council to surpass all former ones. The new method that gives everyone a direct voice in the government of the school is expected to produce great results. The session rooms and semesters have the privilege of making suggestions that they wish carried out. At the regular monthly meeting of the Student Council, November 3, these suggestions were considered.

PUPILS DRAMATIZE SCENES OF HAMLET FOR ENGLISH EIGHT

Young Players Rivalled Barrymore, Hamden and Cowl. Love Scene Produced

NEW ABILITY IS FOUND

High Points of Interest Reached in Duel Between Hamlet and Laertes, Love Scene of King and Queen

Wednesday, October 26, there issued from room 107 during the first and second periods shrieks, laughter, groans, screams and giggles. Investigation showed that inside the room there was melodrama with a capital M. Farces, tragedies, comedy, romanticism, and realism—all could be found in Miss Tillett's English 8 classes.

The classes were divided into small groups and each was to produce one scene of "Hamlet" on the given day. Each did. With gigantic efforts the young players rivalled Barrymore, Hamden, and Cowl.

Several high points of interest were reached during the productions. At the duel between Hamlet and Laertes, alies Harry Gump and Ed Kuykendall, excitement ran high. There were cheers from the audience. During the love scene between the queen and king, sighs were heard throughout the room. Although her beard hindered her speech and she had a case of the giggles, Margaret High was a noble Polonius. The audience could not decide whether Margaret Bain was better at murdering the king, Francis Sink, or making violent love to Irene McFadyen, the queen.

Since these productions were screamingly successful quite a few future actors are expected as the result.

SEMESTER VII HOLDS MEETING OCTOBER 27

President Hendricks Presides Over the Meeting and Also Makes Short Talk On "Reflector"

STUDENT COUNCIL IS DISCUSSED

Thursday, October 27, there was a meeting of Semester VII in room 106. The purpose of the meeting was to make suggestions for the semester representative to bring up at the next Student Council meeting. The meeting was presided over by Joseph Hendricks, president.

J. D. McNairy suggested that announcements which are made in chapel be made at other times in order to prolong the chapel programs.

Macon Crocker suggested that new types of chapel program be arranged.

A cabinet for the president of the Student Council was suggested by Henry Biggs. A short discussion of a class mascot was held. The president made a short talk about ads for the Reflector.

NEW ARRIVAL AT HOME OF STANLEY JOHNSON

Great Future is Predicted For Tiny Jane Evelyn—Proud Father Declares the Baby Pretty

Sunday, October 23, there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson a bouncing baby girl. The proud parents have named their child Jane Evelyn, after an aunt. Already relatives have predicted a great future for the young lady and even at her early age she is on the brink of many and varied careers. When interviewed, the father stated that he and his wife thought the baby very pretty! "She has my eyes and hair, but aside from that I cannot find any other resemblances."

Although Jane Evelyn is handicapped by her age at present, both the students and faculty of G. H. S. are predicting a great life for her, and we wish her all the success in the world.
