

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETING IN ROOM 4

Six New Members From French Four and Three Are Added to Club

COMMITTEE GIVES PLAY

Margaret Britton Lectures to Members on Historical Places in Paris and France

"Le Cercle Francais" held its regular meeting Monday afternoon, November 28, in room 4.

The meeting was opened with the reading of the minutes, which were accepted. The roll call was answered by each member with a French quotation.

The president, Irene McFadyen, appointed the program and social committees for the next meeting, as follows: Program—Mildred Knight, Helen Shuford, and Ed Kuykendall; social—Martha Sykes, Margaret Bain, and Elizabeth Wilson.

Six new members were voted into the club. They are: Elizabeth Betts and Rebecca Webster, from French 4; and Eugenia Isler, Mary Henri Robinson, Margaret Hackney and Margaret Soekwell, from French 3.

The program was then turned over to Charles Marsh, Ruth Yarborough and Frances Devault. Ruth Yarborough and Elizabeth Betts presented a play called "La Pauppee" (The Doll), Ruth taking the part of Mrs. Martin and Elizabeth taking the part of Fer-lac.

Margaret Britton gave a lecture on historical places in Paris. She discussed the city halls, hotels, Arch of Triumph, which was put up for the victorious Napoleon. She also told about the Laure in Paris, a museum of modern art, the christiam Luxembourg, Clury Museum of ancient arts, and Notre Dame.

After the program, oranges and stick candy were served. The following were present: Irene McFadyen, Ruth Yarborough, Katherine Murray, Mildred Knight, Martha Sykes, Ruth Lewis, Margaret Bain, Francis Devault, Charles Marsh, Elizabeth Wilson, Helen Shuford, Miss Estelle Mitchell and Miss Sarah Hodges. The visitors were Elizabeth Betts and Margaret Britton.

DID IT HIT YOU?

Rumble! Rumble! Rumble!
"Look out, down there!"
"Help! I'm killed!"
"Run for your life!"
"Is anyone hurt?"
"I believe all that snow went down splashed all over me."
"I elieve all that snow went down my back!"

Can you imagine what all these exclamations are about? It was just the snow sliding off of Barn B.

Limerick

A Santa exceedingly Santy,
One morning said to his Granny,
I can bring every gift
That I'm gonna lift
In a little aluminum panny.

YE BOHEMIAN ARTISTS!

"Where's that camel's hair brush?"
"Who's got the green paint?"
"My kingdom for some more orange color!"

"Hey! You second Ed Turner, don't you dare mix those two greens!"

"How do you like 'at 'hootus? Isn't it cute?"

"Where's that article for the next issue?"

"Oh, I wouldn't be bothered with that! Help me finish this 'white elephant.'"

The publication room, ever the scene of bustle and business, has been the vortex of a mad assortment of paints, brushes, cardboard, slang and amateur artists with streaks of orange and green on their noses. Our staid and business-like room has been transformed into a Bohemian art studio, and anyone venturing into the sacred precincts has been seized and donated a paint brush, and often under protest forced to dab around in an ocean of colors. Such has been the effect on the staff, on receiving the honor of being publicity committee for the Circus.

JAMESON TALKS TO COMMERCIAL STUDENTS

Practical Subjects Require As Much Brainwork as Latin or Math, Says Mr. Jameson

BUSINESS PREPARES ONE FOR LIFE

J. M. Jameson, a representative of the Southwestern Publishing Company, talked Tuesday, December 6th, to the commercial students of Greensboro High School.

During his talk Mr. Jameson showed the great opportunities offered by the commercial departments in high schools. "These subjects," said Mr. Jameson, "require as much exercise of the brain as Latin and math. Students do not seem to realize how much these commercial courses help in preparing for one's life work. I am afraid, if we were left to care for ourselves by solving algebra or translating Latin, some of us would starve."

THE GIRL SCOUTS GET READY FOR CHRISTMAS

The Girl Scouts of Greensboro are already busy getting ready for Christmas. They are dressing dolls for the poor children of the city. They have also made red stockings to fill for the empty stockings fund. They will fill them at W. I. Anderson's wholesale house as they did last year.

Last year the girls made wreaths to decorate the "white way" on Main street. This year they are making wreaths again.

Now, children, go home and dust off the dictionary and look up that combustion.

FOOTBALL TEAM AND CHEERIOS ARE GUESTS OF THEATRE

Dr. John H. Cook Boosts High School Team in Talk

AUDIENCE CHEERS TEAM

Clarence Phoenix Yells—Organist Plays "The Spirit of G. H. S."—Many Students Present

The Greensboro High school football team was the guest of the National theater Monday night, December 5. They sat in boxes at the request of the manager. As it was a special high school night many pupils were also present. The feature picture was "The College Widow," with Dolores Costello as the leading lady. "Collegians" was the added feature, which was also a college picture.

Besides some other songs the organist played "We've Got the Spirit of G. H. S.," and the students showed how much spirit they had by singing it for the team.

At the end of the picture Dr. John H. Cooke made a talk boosting the team. "The football team of Greensboro High School is the best it has ever had," stated Mr. Cooke. After his speech Clarence Phoenix, the high school cheer leader led the audience in several yells for the team.

WHAT IS MATH?

"Friends, Romans, countrymen, Math is a bore." This is what Mark Antony should have told the Romans.

A famous philosopher once said: "If you 'X' me a math problem, I'll 'A'che all over, 'B' an angel, and 'C' stars."

Algebra is a pastime by which little boys are kept up until the "wee sma' hours" of the night.

Geometry is nothing but a collection of lop-sided figures that grin at you when you try to place them right.

Trigonometry is a collection of rifle triggers, gun-holes, smoke, and disabled cannon-balls.

Quoting again my friend, Mark Antony, I say: "My mind is in the house doing Math, and I must pause till it comes back to me."
