

'DICK' HALLIBURTON, FAMOUS AUTHOR, TALKS TO STUDENTS

Speaker's Lecture Is Based on Theme of "The Glorious Adventure"

RECOUNTS EXPERIENCES

Mr. Halliburton Typifies the Spirit of Eternal Youth and Radiates the Essence of Animated Life

Richard Halliburton, typifying the spirit of eternal youth, and radiating the very essence of vital, animated life, last Monday night recounted to an eager audience which packed the N. C. C. W. auditorium, something of his experiences as he danced down "the royal road to romance," lured on by one "glorious adventure" after another.

Mr. Halliburton is well known as the author of two popular works, "The Royal Road to Romance" and "The Glorious Adventure," as well as for his ability as a lecturer. He is the most outstanding poetic romanticist of the present era.

The subject of his lecture Monday night was "The Glorious Adventure." He told in his informal way the outstanding incidents of his excursion just after his graduation from Princeton, when, sometimes alone, sometimes with a companion, he beat his way around the world.

"We all have dreams," Mr. Halliburton said. "I had three: to climb the Matleham; to run the original Marathon and swim the Hellespont. All of these I did in my own way."

In India he visited the sacred ruins of the ancient capitol of the Hindus where, for months, a million Mohammedans battled that their emperor might possess a fabulously beautiful Hindu princess. The young romanticist spent one glorious night in the Taj Mahal, fought his way across the Malay peninsula, ventured into little known ports of Tibet, and languidly floated for days on a house boat.

To climax his romping adventure Halliburton climbed Fujiyama, the sacred mountain of Japan, in the dead of winter, a thing no man had ever done before.

Thus does the saga of this young man race on to its thrilling finish, and thus did he recount it Monday night.

GIRLS MONOGRAM CLUB MEETS

Rebecca Webster, Irene McFadyen, and Lillian Houck, new members who were not present, will be received into the club at a special meeting soon. Miss Dry also awarded a "G. N. C." to Rose Goodwin and Carl Lane Browne. Duella Walker received a star for a "G. N. C." Duella has more points than any other girl in school.

After the ritual, initiation was discussed and Miss Nellie K. Dry, faculty advisor, was appointed chairman of this committee.

After the business was finished, a social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served refreshments.

FRESHMAN DEBATING CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Guy Hope, Charles Shaffer, Douglas Cartland, Frank Abernathy Become New Officers

CLARY HOLT OPENS MEETING

As required by the constitution, the Freshman Debating Club of Greensboro High, at its regular meeting on December 22, elected officers who will take charge of the meetings until March 15, 1928. A committee consisting of Charles Shaffer, chairman, Frank Abernathy and Virginia Thomas, which had been appointed at the preceding meeting, reported that they had selected at least two candidates for each position to be filled. Candidates were: For president, Guy Hope and Rigdon Dees; for vice-president, Charles Shaffer and Virginia Thomas; for secretary-treasurer, Douglas Cartland and Margaret Johnson, and for sergeant-at-arms, Fleming Shelton, Edwin Garrett and Frank Abernathy. The candidates were asked to leave the room and an open discussion was held. Clary Holt, presiding over the meeting, reminded the members that no talking would be allowed while the ballots were being prepared. The officers elected were: Guy Hope, president; Charles Shaffer, vice president; Douglas Cartland, secretary-treasurer, and Frank Abernathy, sergeant-at-arms. The meeting was then adjourned until Tuesday, January 3.

Mrs. John Davis, formerly Miss Florence Palmer, a student of G. H. S., visited Central High School Monday, January 5. Mrs. Davis now resides in Winston-Salem.

"DIXIE" IS HOMESPUN THEME IN THIRD ISSUE

"Dixie, or The Romance of the Southland," has been chosen as the theme for the third link in the chain of "Romance" for Homespun Magazine. The staff is already busy making out a list of topics which will cover this subject fully in the third issue.

Henry Biggs, assistant editor of the magazine, says that he is sure that this number will come up to all expectations, as it is a topic that all students are familiar with.

LAUNDRY SPONSORS SCIENCE II CONTEST

$2.00 Awarded in Each Class for Best Letter on Why Laundry Should Do My Washing

MR. FOUSHEE IS JUDGE

A month before Christmas, the Science II classes of G. H. S. visited Dick's Laundry in connection with the study of clothing and its care. Mr. Foushee, manager of the laundry, offered $2.00 each to the girl and to the boy who wrote the best letter, not exceeding 300 words, on "Why the Laundry Should Do My Washing," in each science class. The winners in Miss Bullard's second period class were Douglas Cartland and Louise Chandler. Winners in Miss Jones' fourth period class were Guy Hope and Nellie Roger. Winners in Miss Bullard's seventh period class were Treva Williams and Mark Stewart. The winners in Miss Dry's classes were: In the fourth period class, Virginia Clements and Harold Steed; in the sixth period class, Ruth Chandler and Brandon Caudle. These pupils were each awarded $2.00 in cash before the Christmas holidays. The letters were judged by Mr. Foushee.

Exams gimme a pain in the neck,
Cried our little Willie.
S'all right to eat candy by
The peck
But the teachers call it
Silly.
As for doing exams,
I'd rather take a pilly.

GOOD ADVICE

Boys! If your girl doesn't write like you think she should, just cut out these few lines and send 'em to her. They were found in a girl's memory book and had been clipped from some school magazine.

Rules regulating correspondence:

1. If you're saving ink do it some other way than by writing "c" for see.
2. Employ "as ever" only with the proper explanation.
3. Never regulate your love affairs in which I do not figure. Tell the other fellow.
4. The fact that you have other letters to write does not help me to feel content with a few words (27 for instance). I can't help you writing to others (I wish I could).
5. If you really don't know how to write the kind of a letter that I crave, advise me and I will be pleased to forward some very good examples, written by experts, which have been pronounced O. K.
6. Don't fill your letter with "Current Topics" stuff. I read the newspapers occasionally.
7. Weather conditions interest meteorologists. I'm not one.
8. Don't apologize for not having written sooner. Probably your delay doesn't worry me as much as you might suppose.
9. Don't mind saying something. You're not writing for publication.
10. Write legible on both sides of paper only.
11. If I don't write promptly, it means one of two things, either I haven't time to write or I don't want to.—Copied.

THE OLD, OLD STORY

90—Ah, ah! you bet I smile,
No more studying for quite a while.
80—Yes, this is pretty fair,
Long as I make this I don't care.
70—Whew! that's a close shave,
Now watch my pa rave.
60—Well, I'll keep cool,
I'm headed for summer school.

BYERS WELCOMES POMONA STUDENTS

Romeo Le Fort, President of the Pomona Senior Class, Responds to Welcome

BYERS DISCUSSES WORK

Bill Byers, president of the student body of G. H. S., welcomed the Pomona students to G. H. S. at an assembly meeting held at the Odell Memorial building January 5. "I take great pleasure in representing and welcoming to G. H. S. the new students from Pomona," declared Mr. Byers. "No longer will there be two student bodies, but one. We are all forming a new, greater Greensboro High School."

The president proceeded further to describe and to explain to the newcomers the work of the student council and the traffic rules which apply to the new building. He urged everyone to take part in the school activities and to send suggestions to the council.

Romeo Le Fort, president of the Pomona senior class, in responding to the welcome, declared, "You have been so cordial to us and made us feel at home that we are now glad that a change has been made. We hope that we may enter into the activities and become a vital part of Greensboro High."

In the Student Council it was decided that Pomona should have a representative, until the new semester begins. This was put to the vote of the student body and was unanimously approved.
