VOLUME XIII

GREENSBORO SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., MAY 6, 1937

NUMBER 1

L. M. CLYMER GAINS HIGHEST HONOR IN SCHOLASTIC RECORD

His Average of 97 for Second Report Period Leads the Entire School.

HE IS TAKING 5 MAJORS

Total of Twenty Students Show Average Grades of 95 or Better; Entire Honor Roll is Given.

L. M. Clymer, a semester 4 student with an average of 97, led the entire school in the scholarship record for the second report period. L. M., a student in session room 10, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Clymer, 403 Blandwood avenue, and the brother of Dorothy May Clymer, who made a brilliant record at Senior High in 1935. It is also interesting to note that he is taking five majors.

Twenty people, making 95 or better, which entitles them to be placed on the special honor roll, are as follows:

Wade Fox, Maribelle Guin, Bill Hemphill, Roy Leake, Paul Pearson, Janet Campbell, L. M. Clymer, E. C. Truman, Jane Webb, Margaret Little, Elfried Pennekamp, Laura Spence, Shirley Weaver, Armstead Estes, Charles Lewis, Annis Hines, Jean Davis, Carl Compton, Mary Elizabeth Barwick, and Catharine Paris.

Those making an average of 90 or better numbered 148. They are as follows:

Room 2—Cassie Kernodle, Edith Lambert.

Room 3—Sudie Clark, Marty Cockfield, Margaret Crutchfield, Bob Fleming, Burron Fleming, Frances Gordon.

Room 4—Francis Fowler, Wade Fox, Sara Lou Gerringer, Jack Gorrell, Maribelle Guin, John Harvey, Geraldine Haynes, Ruth Heffner, Bill Hemphill.

Room 5—None.

Room 6—Lois Baldwin, Charles Bennett, Perrine Bilyew, Nelle Bookout.

Room 7—Sammy Inman, Wallace Lane, Roy Leake, Philip Levine, Margaret Lewis.

Room 8—Jane Murray, Paul Pearson.

HOBBY CONTEST PAPERS ARE GIVEN IN TO JUDGES

Reading Seems to Hold Place as Most Popular Hobby of Greensboro High School Students.

SEMESTERS 3, 4, AND 5 PARTICIPATE

The Hobby contest essays, in which semesters 3, 4, and 5 participated, were handed last week to the English teachers, who in turn handed the three best ones from each class to Miss Mims, head of the English department.

The most popular hobby seems to have been reading, although hobbies involving handwork also seemed to be favorites. One of the most interesting papers proved to be one on "Loafing."

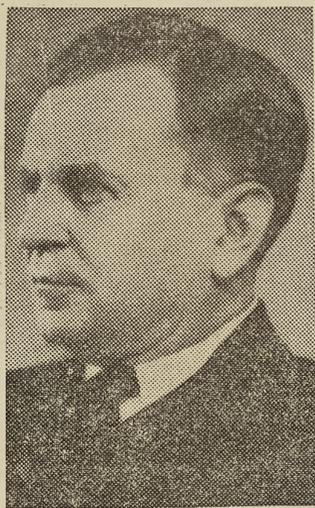

The winners in the contest will be announced in the near future.

SAFETY CLUB ANALYZES AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Recommendations of the City Council for Safety were studied by the Safety club at a meeting held Tuesday, May 4.

An analysis of accidents showing the causes and results of those for the last three or four years in Greensboro was examined. At the suggestion of George C. Eichhorn, director of traffic safety, a map of the city was secured, on which the most dangerous intersections and the heaviest traffic were shown.

Newly-Elected N. C. E. A. Officials

"High Life" Takes on Life After Four Years' Sleep

SUSPENDS IN 1931

Newspaper Will Appear Three Times During This Semester.

IS NOW SELF-SUPPORTING

In Days of Its Former Glory, "High Life" Was Several Times Honored in National Competitions.

Today marks the first appearance in four years of "High Life," famed G.H.S. periodical. Due to the depression and the subsequent lack of funds, the newspaper was discontinued in 1931. It will be published, however, three times this semester by the journalism class, who hope to make it a regular semi-monthly publication next year. At the present time, it is an entirely self-supporting organization, financing itself through its advertising. This has been made possible by the cooperation of the Greensboro merchants and the efforts of Marty Cockfield, business manager, and Elisabeth Mitchell, editor.

"High Life," founded by the class of 1921 under the direction of Miss Inabelle G. Coleman, continued its publication until 1931. In 1933, after a two-year silence, four issues appeared under the guidance of Mrs. Alma Coltrane. This was the paper's last production until the present issue.

In the days of "High Life's" glory, it received national recognition for its outstanding merit, being awarded the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's and the Central Scholastic Press Association's highest rating for a number of years. Also, it is quite likely that it would have been awarded the Hume Cup, which is now permanently in the possession of the Durham "Hi-Rocket," if the paper could have continued in circulation the required number of years.

So popular and well known has "High Life" proved in the past, that today, after a lapse of four years, demands for copies to be used as models are still being made by schools and colleges in such widely separated places as Indiana, California, Hawaii, and South Carolina.

Since the last appearance of "High Life" in 1931, several substitutions have been employed; first, a sheet, "High Notes," under the management of Mrs. Harry Smith Speirs, appeared every Saturday in the Greensboro "Record";

DEBATERS CONDUCT RADIO PROGRAM

Debating Club Has Charge of Weekly Broadcast Over Station WBIG.

PRESENT BRIEF DEBATE

The debating club, under the direction of Miss Causey, was in charge of the regular weekly high school broadcast last night over WBIG, the local radio station.

Graham Bartlett, president, opened the program with a short talk, presenting the objectives of debating. Each member of the first team was allotted five minutes in which to present the high lights of his argument concerning public ownership of utilities. No rebuttals were given.

A violin solo was given by Marty Cockfield.

STATE SCHOOL BOARDS MEET IN CONFERENCE

Guy B. Phillips, Former Superintendent of Greensboro City Schools, is Promoter of Session.

Guy B. Phillips, former superintendent of the Greensboro public schools, is promoting a state-wide school board conference, which is now in session at Chapel Hill. Mr. E. D. Broadhurst, who was also a former superintendent of the city schools and is now the chairman of the Board of Education, will speak on "What a Superintendent Has a Right to Expect From His Board."

A number of members of the Greensboro School Board are attending the conference.

Four Candidates Contest For Presidency of G. H. S.

MUSIC FESTIVAL TO BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

The Greensboro city schools will hold a music festival in the Senior High School auditorium tomorrow night, at 8 o'clock. The band, under Mr. Hazelman's direction, the mixed chorus, and the boys' and girls' glee clubs, under Mr. Brietz's direction, will participate.

The other city schools will have glee clubs representing them. Between 500 and 800 students are expected to take part in the affair.

GIRLS ORGANIZE SPRING SPORTS

Approximately 275 Girls Have Signed Up for Various Types of Sports.

ADD HORSEBACK RIDING

Approximately 275 girls have signed up for the spring sports. Bowling, with 85 girls enrolled, and tennis, with 76 girls registered, have proven to be the two most popular sports.

Girls out for bowling meet every Monday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Peebles, while the tennis team, coached by Miss Sockwell, meets on Tuesdays and Fridays. Betty Lou Walters is the student leader for the net team.

Miss Causey, as faculty adviser, and Ailene Shore, as student leader, are making plans for the 50 girls out for track. A wide choice of events is offered to the girls signing up for this activity, which has been added to the spring sports schedule for the first time this semester.

Baseball practice is held every Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. Fowler as coach, and Edith Swiggett as the student manager. Only 50 girls have registered for this sport, which comes second to football in the eyes of the boys who participate in athletics.

Horseback riding has been included in the spring athletic program for girls, and this sport is coached by Miss Coohon.

COUNTY HI-Y CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT HIGH POINT

Swimming Party Held Friday Afternoon Will Start the Activities of the Day.

BANQUET COMES FRIDAY NIGHT

Pleasure, as well as business, will be the order of the day when the County Hi-Y Conference is held at High Point, Friday, May 7. The fun will begin with a swimming party Friday afternoon. A banquet Friday night will conclude the entertainment. Business will be discussed after dinner, but the nature of the problems which will confront the group has not been divulged.

Bill Brewer, president of the Sewall and County Hi-Y's, in announcing plans of the conference, also mentioned that the Warner and Sewall Hi-Y's plan to participate in the stunt night exercises. The Johnson Hi-Y has not, as yet, made any announcement regarding this, but it is generally conceded that they will enter into the fun.

Greensboro Students Receive Awards

The awards won by Greensboro students who entered in the Centennial celebration contest have been received. The G. H. S. students who won prizes are: Poster contest, Hal Styers; Pen and Ink Drawings, James Dodson; Modeling, Carter Reaves.

ELECTION MAY 14

Hipp, Lewis, Masters and Moffitt Aspire to Leadership of Student Body.

HINES OPPOSED BY HALL

Seven Candidates for Office of Cheer Leader Indicate Warm Contest for This Position.

Four outstanding members of the student body have been nominated for president of the student group for next year. These are: Edward Hipp, who achieved recognition last fall for his work on the football team; Charles Lewis, who is a valuable member of the debating team; Frank Masters, an honor roll student, and Howard Moffitt, the present treasurer of Greensboro High School. The election will take place May 14.

Annis Hines was unopposed for the vice-presidency of the group earlier in the week, but as the school constitution requires that there be two candidates for each office, D. C. Hall was chosen as a second nominee for the vice-presidency.

The contest for the secretaryship of the school offers an even more exciting prospect, however, as Christine Allen, Maribelle Guin, and Ruth Heffner are the nominees for this office, while Jean Yates and Willa Jean Hayes will run for treasurer.

Seven people, the largest number ever nominated for a single office at Greensboro High School, are eligible for the position of cheer leader. These are: Merrimon LeGrand, Jane Murray, Gloria McCall, Lavinia Ellett, Catherine Paris, Joan Hunt, and Billie Coiner.

As very few semester candidates have been chosen by the petition method, the nominating committee, composed of the executive officers in each semester, will select the remaining nominees.

Following is a list of semester candidates who had been approved, at the time this paper went to press, by Graham Bartlett, chairman of the election committee:

Semester 8—President, Virginia Vache and Anne Hayes.

Semester 7—President, E. Pennekamp and Nelle Bookout; secretary-treasurer, Perrine Bilyew; representative, Laura Brown and Carl Compton.

Semester 6—Vice-president, Jack Behrman, Hobart McKeever; representative, J. R. Sowell and James Wolfe.

Semester 5—President, Edwin Booth; secretary-treasurer, Miriam Smith; representative, Jane Webb.

Semester 4—Representative, John Emanuel.

HIGH LIFE IS INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN CONTEST

Event is Sponsored Annually by Extension Division of University of North Carolina.

Greensboro High School has been invited to compete with rival high school journalistic efforts in the 14th annual North Carolina high school journalistic contest, to be conducted at Chapel Hill. The event, which is sponsored yearly by the Extension Division of the University of North Carolina, requires that the local school paper submit at least nine issues from its 1936-1937 file.

June 10 has been set as the deadline for entries, which will be judged on the basis of news values, editorial values, general make-up, and typographical appearance. The results of the contest will be announced in the fall.
