

GRADUATION TO CLIMAX WEEK'S ACTIVITIES

Pageant Stars Weill, Sloan and J. Patton; Class Day Tuesday

Refugees, tenant farmers, public nurses, factory strikers, and ordinary American citizens will mingle together and come to life on the stage when the senior class presents its pageant, "Our Heritage," Thursday night, June 5, at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

Symbolizing in five acts the high aims found in the preamble to the constitution, the production's plot centers around an immigrant family applying for citizenship papers, Jane Sloan, Charles Weill, and James Patton.

Graduation Climaxes Week

Friday night's presentation of diplomas will climax the week of final social and scholastic activities for the seniors. Because of the increased enrollment of recent classes, there will be no speaker for the occasion.

Principal A. P. Routh will disclose the best all-round student, the O. Henry short-story winner, the senior with the highest scholastic average, and various other school award winners.

Sermon To Be Sunday

The combined glee club and a capella choir, under the direction of Raymond Brietz, will begin the series of events planned for the class with a concert Sunday, June 1, at 4 o'clock. At 8 o'clock of the same night, Dr. Clyde Turner will deliver the baccalaureate sermon in the school auditorium.

On Monday, June 2, the Senior high faculty will entertain the entire senior group at tea in the Alumnae building of Woman's college at 5 o'clock.

Tuesday To Be Class Day

Before the picnic and swim for the seniors and their teachers, which will begin at 4 o'clock on Tuesday at the Battleground country park, the class day group will present the class superlatives, the prophecy, and the last will and testament to the entire student body in the auditorium.

Four main characters, Martie McLennan, Russell Byrd, Eleanor Molen, and Joe Koury, will tell the story in the form of 27 different pantomimes.

On Thursday, June 5, the two main events will be the senior luncheon, at 12 o'clock in the school cafeteria, and the senior pageant, to be presented to the seniors and their guests at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Announcement was made today that the senior dance, which had been originally planned for the graduates, will not be held, owing to the lack of time for preparation and lack of finances.

'Boy-Dates-Girl' Forum To Feature Local Writers

A "boy-dates-girl" open forum, a long-felt want and a result of suggestions from adolescent pupils all over the country, will feature in the September issue of Scholastic magazine, selected letters from high school students, disclosed Miss Margaret Hauser, New York fashion editor of the weekly, Wednesday.

Dutch Dates and Going Steady

Since Senior high school was chosen as a typical school in this section of the United States, Paul Miller, Janet Cox, Gene Thornton, and Aurelia Dunstan, of High Life's staff will submit papers discussing "Dutch Dates" and "Going Steady." Best entries will appear in the initial publication of Scholastic in the fall, Miss Hauser explained.

Each entry must contain not more than 200 words and must express honest opinions.

Editor and Business Manager

Paul Miller, new school paper editor, and Betty Routh, next year's business manager, here learn the intricacies of newspaper work from one of High Life's printers, L. D. Ledbetter.

School Board Names Five New Teachers

Giving its authorization for a coordinator of home economics and the establishment of a local textile school, the board of education, at its last meeting of the year, May 21, confirmed the appointment of five new members to the Senior high school faculty.

The board also accepted printing equipment, a gift of the Greensboro News-Record, for the establishment of a print shop at Senior high school next September, and agreed to excuse members of the football squad from school when they go to Miami, Florida, next fall for an inter-state clash.

Name New Teachers

With the regular business of the meeting came the following appointments to the Senior high faculty for the 1941-42 term: Arlington Kelly, Duke graduate, who will teach history and will assist with track and tennis activities, and Miss Cleo Brendle, graduate of East Carolina Teachers college and of Woman's college, is to have charge of home economics classes.

Paul Frazier, University of Kentucky graduate, will join the English department, while Miss Lillian Seerest, a graduate of Duke university, who is now teaching in Kannapolis, was named to teach English and to assist with school publications.

Mrs. Mary Madlin, graduate of Saint Lawrence university, who is now substituting in the English department, will teach Latin and English at Gillespie Park school next fall.

P. T. A. Representatives Hold Annual Luncheon

Representatives from all Greensboro P. T. A. associations met for their annual city-wide P. T. A. luncheon last Tuesday at 12:30 in the King Cotton hotel ball room. Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president of Guilford college.

Mrs. J. T. Warmath, Senior high's Parent Teacher association president, was proud to report that her school had 19 representatives present, the largest number in several years. Mrs. A. W. Claiborne, retiring president of the Greensboro P. T. A. council, presided at the meeting, and installed Mrs. Claudius Dockery as the new president.

Down In Meadow They Went Fishing

"That's what we'll do; we'll go fishing! At least it's something different," decided the Mariner scouts at their last meeting.

With rods across their shoulders, the eager girls set out last Saturday for Lake Brant for a "fishing good time."

The sun was brightly shining, and the "sailor girls" baked in the sun as they sat for the first hour without catching a thing! But when another hour rolled by, and still not a bite had bitten they just gave up. People all 'round were landing "whoppers," but the poor Mariners, not a fish did they catch.

Billy Halladay To Receive Wake Forest Scholarship

As a reward for his achievements in speech and debate contests in North Carolina during the past three years, Billy Halladay, graduating senior, received word today from Zon Robinson, director of forensic activities at Wake Forest college, that he has been awarded a $100 scholarship to that school.

Halladay, a member of Senior high's debate team for three years, was second affirmative speaker on this year's group.

Leading Seniors to Receive 14 Awards at Graduation

Nearly every quivering junior who trudges for the first time up the "last mile" to G. H. S. has at one time or another looked forward to the day when he will be able to compete for the awards and cups presented outstanding seniors at commencement time. Now that the long awaited moments have nearly arrived, Principal A. P. Routh announces the awards which will be given.

Class Day Awards

Those presented class day and their last year's winners are as follows: Veterans of Foreign Wars medal for the best paper on Americanism, Jane Winfrey; the Frances Jenkins award for outstanding home economics work, Lucille Roseberry; H. Grady Miller cup for excellence in band work, Hugh

11 Girls to Represent School At Girls' State

In addition to Ruth Winterling, whose name was announced in the last issue of High Life, ten more girls making a total of 11 Senior high school citizens, have been selected to attend the annual Girls' State session at Woman's college, June 15 to 21.

Although all applications must have the approval of the American Legion auxiliary, this organization will not actually sponsor the entire group of girls.

The Senior High Parent Teachers association will sponsor Ruth, while the auxiliary will send Betty Shipman and Betty Yost.

Woman's Club Sends Scholar

Greensboro Woman's club will send Martha Sholar to the convention, the Forty and Eight will send Jane Morrison, and the Guilford Pattle chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will send Dorothy Parker.

Other delegates include Peggy Clendenin, Joan Holleyman, Mary Lynn Lewis, Barbara Bond, and Jewell Hyatt.

Charles W. Phillips, director of the institution, has extended an invitation to Martha Hipp and Eleanor Dare Taylor, Senior high's 1940 delegates, to assist with the program councillors.

W. R. Richards Audits School Finance Books

W. R. Richards, general treasurer for all activities at Senior high school, completed the writing of all checks for the school year Tuesday, May 20, and he hopes to clear up all other financial matters connected with the school before June 6.

Editor Miller to Head New High Life Staff; B. Routh Ad Manager

Paul Miller and Betty Routh, of the advanced journalism class, received notification this morning from Eleanor Dare Taylor, editor-in-chief, and Ella Mae Norman, advertising manager, of their appointments as successors to these two major High Life staff positions.

The appointments were made as a result of a board meeting, attended by department heads, when it was decided to abolish the staff election plan of former years. Further positions will be filled next fall by incoming journalism students.

Miller Class President

Aside from his newswriting experience, which has included his being editor of Central junior high school's Recorder, advertising agent, advertising solicitor, and assistant make-up editor for High Life, Miller has also held offices in other school activities, his election to the presidency of the rising senior class being his most recent triumph.

Both Betty and Miller have been members of the citizenship honor roll, the former being president of her home room and vice president of the Latin club, as well as advertising agent, ad solicitor, and assistant advertising manager, during the past semester.

Editor Comments

In addition to those offices already listed, next year's editor is president of the Debating club, vice president of his home room, and a 1940-41 member of both Social Standards and Student-Faculty day committees, as well as a member of the local debate team.

In commenting upon the prospective appointments, Eleanor Dare Taylor declared yesterday, "We must have capable, efficient, and dependable students to fill these two roles, and I believe we have found them in Betty and Paul."

President-Elect Donald To Head New Council

Since the election issue of High Life, the run-off elections held Friday, May 16, determined that Bill Donald, who defeated Bobby Perry, would become president of the student council, while Paul Miller triumphed over Jewell Hyatt for senior class president and Margaret Boren captured the office of senior class secretary over Kathryn Harris.

Ruth Winterling is to be next year's vice president of the school. Other senior officers were: Charles Vache, vice president, and Lelia Atkinson, Jean Garber, Earle Holliday, Daisy Belle Anderson, Joan Holleyman, Virginia Hunter, and Martha Sholar, council representatives.

Speech Class Studies Radio Announcing

To complete the semester's work, the speech class has been studying radio announcing for the past week and practicing on the school loud speaker system, stated Miss Mozelle Causey, adviser, yesterday.

Feature of the class was a talk by Henry Sullivan, WBIG announcer, Tuesday, on problems of radio work and means of solving them.

Other projects of the year's varied program included choral speaking and preparation for speech contests in Wake Forest.
