

226 Students Worked During Yule Holiday, Says Adviser Proctor

One would think that the pupils at Greensboro high school don't get enough work during regular school days, for according to a report made last Friday by A. S. Proctor, distributive education adviser, approximately 226 students put in hundreds of hours of manual labor in various local stores during the Christmas holidays.

The average worker received $2.20 per hour during his time of employment. Some worked as sales clerks, others as shipping clerks, and still others labored as package wrappers, mailing clerks and mail carriers.

Woolworth's Employed Most

Woolworth's, with 33 students on its payroll, boasts of employing the most high schoolers, while Meyer's, with 21, gave jobs to the second largest number.

Although all the temporary employees concede that it was hard work, the great majority thought it was a lot of fun, and they found more than ample compensation in their pay checks.

Many students will have part time jobs as a result of their Christmas work.

Woolworth's, 33; Meyers, 21; Kress, 20; Silvers, 13; Belk's, 15; Grants, 13; Big Star, 4; Vanstory, 4; Post office, 2; A. & P., 3; Guilford Dairy, 5.

There were a large number of businesses that used only one or two students; therefore they have not listed each place individually. Approximately 150 of these 226 students have regular part time jobs.

Fiction, Sleuth Books Wanted For Soldiers

With the call to home defense ever growing louder, the week of January 11 has been set aside as Victory Book week. The purpose is to supply the army camp libraries with books for the fighting men of this nation.

"This is one of a few things we can do to help our country," declared Miss Agnes McDonald, who is heading this work at Senior high. Stating that fiction and detective stories are the most popular in the ranks, she urged all students to bring from their homes as many of the books, no longer being used, as possible.

These books can either be brought to the school or taken to the public library with the following note written on the fly leaf of each one: Donated by _____, Greensboro Senior high school.

Herbert Hucks, who will report for army duty shortly, requests that all books be turned in to the book room as soon as possible.

Shop Talk

By SHANNON SCHUMANN

The word defense is on the lips of everyone in America today. Ways and means of protecting our nation are being discussed and followed. Tires, among other articles, have been rationed, and more G. H. S. students will walk to and from their destinations in this time of war. But if you are smart you will take your bicycle to the McIVER LOCK COMPANY and let them repair it for your use in the future when America will go almost "carless," or buy a new one from WESTERN AUTO STORES.

Have you seen Jean Lowe wearing her adorable new plaid suit from BROWNHILL'S? It's the last word in style, as are the lovely sweaters in pastel shades, new long-sleeved jersey blouses, and charming dickers which can be purchased at this well-known fashion center.

Orange Given to Royalty as Gift

A member of royalty in England received an orange for Christmas and was more thrilled with this gift than any other. Oranges are a scarcity in that country today. We still have this fruit here in America, and the best place in town to get fresh orange juice is BILLY'S NEWS STAND across from the STATE THEATRE. There, too, you will find the latest magazines, comic books, and pocket book novels.

Even though Christmas is gone, there are still presents to be bought for occasions such as birthdays, anniversaries, and showers. ELAM DRUG COMPANY has a lovely selection of Coty, Max Factor, and Hudnut gift sets at reasonable prices. They can also offer Hollingsworth and Whitman candies, Sheaffer pen and pencil sets, not to mention other appropriate selections that anyone would be proud to receive.

Last but far from being least, don't forget to buy Defense Bonds and Stamps today. A stamp a day keeps the Japs away!

Work of Local Musicians Heard at Euterpe Meeting

At a meeting of the Euterpe club last week, members of the group presented original compositions for piano and voice.

Mrs. Willard Cardwell sang Mrs. George C. Eichorn's composition, "Winter Evening," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Eichorn. "The World is Waiting, Praying," a recent work of Mrs. J. B. Winecoff, was sung by Mrs. O. Norris Smith, accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Hewett.

Mrs. T. Moody Stroud played an original piano solo from her modern repertoire and accompanied Mrs. R. Dewey Farrell who sang "Love's Nearness" and "Considering the March Wind," also written by Mrs. Stroud.
