

Meyer's Fashions Going To School

By MELL ALEXANDER

With only a few more weeks left to start making decisions about what Easter costume to buy, you should certainly let the "Teen Shop" on Meyer's fourth floor help you decide upon one of their outstanding outfits for the Easter parade.

First a Dress

To have that "dressy" look for Easter, you should see one of the many assorted types of silk and rayon spring dress creations, in all colors and styles. An especially cute number is made up of a light green and red silk print with a fluffy ruffle down the front fitted into a torso waist. It is set off by unpressed pleats in front and a full flared back skirt. This creation also comes in a red and white print for $7.98.

If you like sharkskin, you will particularly like a dress of light blue or white sharkskin with a tailored neckline and gored skirt effect with matching belt and corded belt for just $5.98.

A two-piece accordion pleated skirt outfit is a dream of open blue or rose silk rayon for just $5.98. Another style for the same price is a Mexican novelty print with bow knot buttons and knife pleats in the skirt.

Now for a Coat

Brilliant and excellent styles mark the numerous spring coats waiting to be yours. All pastel shades are supposed to be very good this season, and you can really find any pastel coat, or in any other color for that matter, to fit you! Boxy shetland weave coats in tomato red, open blue, camel beige, aqua and rose colors with a double or single-breasted row of large pearl buttons, can be had. They also have the ray twill linings which complete the smart effect for only $12.98 to $16.98.

Fitted and tailored coats of dark blue, tomato red and beige can be found for the same prices.

A new and smart outfit in the dress jacket style is a gray and tomato red silk print with torso style and tiny red buttons marching down the front! A boxy waist length jacket of tomato red linen brings out the red in the dress. A matching belt of the linen on the dress accents the combination. The dress also comes in a dark blue and red combination and is just $5.98.

Pastel suits with extra coat length in gay plaid combinations range from $10.98 to $16.98. Pleated skirts and fine tailored lines make these suits the thing for your spring wardrobe.

Don't Forget Sweaters and Skirts

Good-looking plaid skirts of all colors should not be overlooked in the Easter rush, for they are really smart and the very latest styles for only $2.98 and $3.98. Impossible? Go up and see for yourself! Matching or contrasting sweaters are just the thing to complete that Easter egg effect. Short sleeve sweaters are just $2.25 and sleeveless V-necks are only $1.98. You'll be amazed at the quality of these sweaters for the low price.

Cotton Dresses for Spring Chickens

Bright, gay and inexpensive cotton dresses of large stripes, floral designs and prints are made up in cotton, chambray and pique materials at $2.98 and $3.98.

Special two-piece seersucker spring suits are just the thing to usher in the spring season. They come in all color combinations and also bright stripes for $3.98. Open-neck collars and large pearl buttons style the jacket, while the skirt is a full pleated affair! Cool chambrays are shown in all pastel colors with torso and dirndl skirt styles and the V-neck or Peter Pan collar styles. Any imaginable color, style or size can be yours for as little as $3.98.

Slack suits of rayon gabardine and cotton are made up in all styles and Forfeit Gives Neil Beard Legion Oratorical Contest!

After his selection as Greensboro high school's representative in the intra-school tryouts on Wednesday, March 11, Neil Beard, member of the local speech class and debate team, was declared winner by forfeit, of the Guilford County American Legion Oratorical contest, held at the local courthouse on March 13.

If the local speaker's oration, "Our Constitution—the Guarantee of American Liberties," is declared winner of the High Point meet, Beard will then enter the state meet to be held in Raleigh the latter part of April. The winning contestant here will enter the sectional meet, and the victor there will enter the national contest. Winner of the finals will be awarded a $4,000 scholarship to the college of his choice.

In deciding the school representative, Beard ousted Edgar Alston, member of the second debate team. Judges were Miss Sara Mims, Miss Mozelle Causey, and Miss Cleo Brendle.

To Place Art Work Throughout School

"Watercolors, tempera paintings, pottery and other examples of student's art work will be displayed throughout the school, beginning this week and lasting throughout the semester," announced Mrs. Callie O. Braswell, Art club adviser, March 13.

She stated also that a wooden frame has been constructed for permanent use in the cafeteria in which a different piece of work will be displayed every few days.

The committee appointed by Bennie Lowe, president of the art club, to work on the school circle displays includes Dora Kirkpatrick, chairman, Anne Sigler, Muriel Gillie and Marilyn Younce.

Members of the senior class, who, with an average of 90% or better, made the general list are as follows: Jennie Lou Jones, Martha Sink Koontz, James Lee, Hubert Greene, Jack Groh, John Taylor, Martha Faulconer, James Lowdermilk, Bill Morrison, Wallace Overman, Lamont Webster, Kathleen Mangum, Helen Marks, Sara MacDonald, Carmen Edwards, Charles Folgerman, Margaret Hoffman, Neil Beard, Jack Watson, Rachael Whiteside, Edith Webster.

Herbert Hattaway, Helen Hayworth, Lolene Harrison, Edythe Snyder, Jeanette Stephenson, Jack Tilley, Alice Trosper, Dorothy Varner, Antoinette Anderson, Evelyn Barnhardt, Kenna Beal, Margaret Boren, Beverly Branson, Bobby Clark, Billy Donald, Alyne Roseberry, Oscar Sapp, Mary Lou Sawyer, Edgar Sikes, Helen Pappas, Martha Pearson, Robert Perry, Merle Pickard, Joe Powell, Bill Reynolds, Earle Holliday, Jewel Hyatt, Sylvia Johnson, Anne Newton, and Betty Yost.

Hall, Moring Capture Lead Roles In Thalias' Play

Ed Hall and Martha Moring have been selected to play the leading roles in the Thalian spring production, "His First Shave," announced President Rita Bernstein Wednesday. Ed will appear as Don, and Martha will portray the grandmother. Other characters are: Harry, Charles Tate; the mother, Rita Bernstein; Betty, Rachel Johnson; Marion, Frances Coble; the father, Bill Andrews; the cook, Kathryn McNairy; and the little sister, Alice Varner.

The play, to be presented in chapel April 21, is a comedy dealing with a boy's first shave and the difficulties attached to it. The characters were chosen by vote of members.

Jr. Music Association Initiates Spring Drive

Beginning March 30 and continuing through April 15, students of Greensboro high school will have the privilege of joining or rejoining the Junior Civic Music association for the spring season at the membership fee of $1.10, announced Mrs. Christal Bachtell, president of the association, last week.

E. Raymond Brietz will have charge of the sale of tickets at Senior high.

"Last fall our initial campaign went over in fine style. We hope that our membership this year will be greater than ever," stated Mrs. Bachtell, in commenting on the campaign.

Torchlighters Tap 13 In March 10 Chapel

In an impressive candle light ceremony in chapel March 10, 13 students became members of Torchlight, national scholastic honor society. Those tapped included Bob Perry, Neil Beard, Jack Groh, Joe Powell, Billie Gene Phipps, Anne Edmunds, Margaret Hoffman, Charles Swaringen, Edwin Gentry, Gertrude Archer, Mary Neese, Tim Warner and Martha Weidler.

Before becoming members of Torchlight, a candidate's record is checked for scholarship. Then those found eligible have their names submitted to the faculty, the members of the society and their fellow students, who then vote upon them on the basis of leadership, character and service.

Good Friday To Begin The Easter Holidays

Students at Senior high will be dismissed at noon on Good Friday for Easter holidays and will not return until the following Tuesday.

Heretofore students have observed Good Friday as well as Easter Monday but because of the recent snow holidays, they will remain in school until noon; however, this will eliminate the necessity of going to school an extra day at the end of the term, as students will receive report cards and be dismissed for the summer holidays on May 30.

Council To Recognize Work of Cage Team With Steak Supper

To celebrate the success of the Whirlwind basketball team this season, the student council voted to honor the first two teams and all the lettermen at a steak supper during the first part of April. President Bill Donald stated March 12.

"Since these fifteen boys have played clean, fast basketball for the high school and almost succeeded in coping the state championship, the council wants to show its appreciation for the entire school," he continued.

To Recommend Elevation of Walks

At the last session of the council, March 10, a committee, consisting of Dacia Lewis, Martha Sholar, Jean Garber and Ruth Winterling, volunteered to recommend to Superintendent Ben L. Smith, in writing and in person, that the existing walks and the new ones to the technical building be elevated to prevent a collection of puddles during bad weather.

The council also discussed at this meeting the suggestion that the students be allowed to dance during lunch since the school now owns a nickelodeon. "Because of the use of the gym during lunch periods, this is an impossibility now, but next year Miss Doris Hutchinson, girls' physical education instructor, has assured us that boys and girls may dance in the girls' gym any time that it isn't in use," explained Mrs. Estelle LeGwin, adviser for the council.

Model Planes, Blue Prints Made In Drafting Classes

"Drafting classes have been busy and expect to stay so for a long time, for part of the students are working on model airplanes for national defense and five students have drawn blue prints for the new high school stadium as well as the walk-ways to the technical building," announced David Waltrip supervisor, March 12.

The boys are working voluntarily on the model airplanes at the request of the United States office of Education and the Bureau of Aeronautics. They hope to make 250 during the semester. Mr. Waltrip hopes to get the Greensboro civic organizations to help make the project city-wide.

Bob Campbell, Ed Poindexter, John Linder, Thomas Styers and John Cline have drawn the blue prints for the new stadium and walk-way to the technical building practically unaided.
