EDITORIAL

Every one is proud of the great record that the basket ball team has made in the past two weeks. The whole school is behind you and has been behind you since the first of the season. All we can say is, go to it, boys, and keep up the same record you have made.

As much as we hate to lose Mr. Price, who has been with us for about a year and a half, we feel that we are very fortunate in being able to get Mr. Phillips. If each and every one does his or her part we can soon make Mr. Phillips feel that he is not a new man, but that he is "one of us."

To the parents and to the pupils we plead for a better support of the teachers and the principal. The parents should know them, and the entire faculty extends to them an open hand. Do not wait until there is some trouble that brings you to the school. Come over and meet the ones that are striving for the best of your children at all times.

What is the matter? Do the parents lack interest in the work of their children? With a student body of about seven hundred and fifty it seems that the Parent-Teachers Association should be much larger than it is. Parents, come over and give the association a trial. If you do not benefit by it, come again and try to help those that are working so hard for the school. Only through the co-operation of the parents can the best results be obtained.

That's What It Says.

John and Mary were talking and their young aunt overheard the following conversation: "I am glad that they have such good things to eat in Heaven," said Mary.

"You silly, they don't eat at all up there," observed John.

"I guess they do, John Marten," answered the eight-year-old Mary, with dignity. "It says in my catechism: "The Lord makes perserves and keeps us."—Harper's Weekly.

Oh, Ye Vocationalists!

Answer on test: A vocationial education is learning how to sing.

 Λ wise suitor heareth the tread of the father at bedtime and is away, while the fool waits for the rap on the parlor door.

He Really Said It!

Teacher—Where did Shakespeare die. James?

James S.—Boston.

Teacher—What three words do Sophs use most?

Soph—I don't know. Teacher—Correct!

Mary was a thrifty girl,

Her debts made her sore.
So she married Doug. Fairbanks,
To keep from Owen Moore.

—Tar Baby.

"Tell me, old man, you've been married longer than I have, do you give your wife an allowance or does she ask you for the money she needs?"

"Both."-Cornell Widow

First Wife—My dear, you have a model husband.

Second Ditto—Thank you, very much. She hurried home and looked up "model" in the dictionary. This is what she found: "Model"—a small imitation of the real thing.

GONE ARE THE DAYS

"Prohibition hit the tin industry an awful wallop."

"In what way?"

"All you needed for a good time in the old days was a tin bucket and tin cents."

—Notre Dame Juggler.

The sick man had just come out of a long delirium.

"Where am I?" he asked, feebly, as he felt loving hands making him comfortable. "Where am I? In heaven?"

"No, dear," cooed his devoted wife. "I am still with you."

BOYS!

Real boys, who require good shoes, here is your opportunity to get the best at a very reasonable price.

Hurley Cordovan Shoes $15.00

Those shoes have been selling all the season for $18.00 and $19.00. They are real shoes and a great bargain. "Ask the man who wears them."

Other leathers and styles at reduced prices.

GIRLS' QUINT CAPTURES TWO MORE CONTESTS

Asheville and Danville Come Out at the Small End of Two Scores.

Saturday night on the Y. M. C. A. court the Girls' Basket Ball team won its sixth game of the season when it defeated the Asheville quintet by a score of 26 to 17. The game was a spirited and hard fought one, the visiting team showing much teneeity in holding on to the ball. The foul goals of Doris Stinnett were features for Greensboro side. Though the Asheville girls put up a hard fight, they probably could have played much better if they had been more rested, as this was the second game they played since they left home. The line-up was:

Greensboro—Stinett, f.; Irvin, f.; Whitely, e.; Fetter, g.; Forsythe, g.; substitutes: Johnson, Meyers and Butner.

Asheville—Alexander, f.; Booton, f.; Nealy, c.; Lyda, g.; Brown, g.; substitutes: Vannemain, Williams and Messer.

Greensboro-Danville Game.

Saturday night at Danville the Greensboro girls defeated the Danville quintet by the close score of 18 to 17. The game was one of the hardest fought and most exciting played this season. Greensboro played on the defensive throughout and the game was played in thirds. The scores of the thirds were 5 to 4, 14 to 13 and 18 to 17, all in favor of G. H. S. The Danville forwards and the Greensboro guards probably did the best work during the game.

The Greenstoro line-up was as follows: Nellie Irvin, f.; Doris Ctinnett, f.; Katie Whitely, c.; Grey Fetter, g.; Maude Forsythe, g.; substitutes: Margaret Meyers for Maude Forsythe in the last third.

The next girls' basket ball game will probably be played here on Friday, the 11th, with Charlotte.

THE INEVITABLE PUFFS

If any girl should chance to meet
A handsome boy out on the street,
Do not bring out the powder-puff,
For fear your nose has not enough!
'Cause if your beau should chance to smoke

(Pray do not take this as a joke)
The match may light your powdered face.
And blow you way out into space.
So beware of powder-puffs so white,
And puffs of smoke blown out of sight.
Roger Mack, please have a care,
And do not smoke 'most anywhere;
For powder-puffs are numerous,
And may not be so humorous.

Hi-Rocket.

GEMS FROM HISTORY TEST

"The Teutons lived simple lives except that the men were mainly drunkards."

"The Romans carried large shields so as to cause the shrapnel to glance off."

"The Romans had a long sword-like thing called a phalanx which had a real sharp end, and they killed people with this"

"Mohammed conquered all the people about him for ninety-eight years and was killed in the battle of Tours."

"The Renaissance was a class of people which lived in Paris and drank wine and frequented the theatres."
