Forty-two States Send Representatives; Burton To Preside

Fourteen members of the D.E. club of G. H. S. will attend the national convention of Distributive education in Asheville from April 16-19.

They will leave Greensboro Sunday morning at 10 o'clock by bus for Asheville. In Salisbury they will be joined by members of the club from Boyden High School. The group is to stay in the George Vanderbilt Hotel. After registration and a short rest there will be a social hour Sunday night.

Regular sessions will open on Monday morning. Greensboro High's own Frank Burton will give the welcoming address. Frank is the local president, president of the Western District, and state president of the Distributive Education clubs.

There will be many delegates from 42 states attending the convention. On Monday night there is to be a square dance with a regular mountaineer string orchestra and all the rest of the trimmings.

On Tuesday night, the high point of the whole convention will be reached—the banquet. Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, Superintendent of Public Instruction, will deliver the main address. Mr. D. Hiden Ramsey will be on hand to introduce Dr. Erwin.

A Man from Greensboro

Mr. D. O. Tice, of the local Belk's Department Store, who is most interested in the work of the D. E. clubs, will attend the convention.

This is the first time that North Carolina has ever played host to the national convention. Last year, the national meeting was held in Topeka, Kansas. There have been only five meetings before this one.

The group will return by bus on Wednesday night, April 19.

Delegates Listed

Those who are going are Frank Burton, Ronnie Britt, Jeaneen Wells, Doris Vaughn, Esther Wooten, Rachel Slate, Jim Covert, Jean Wells, Dennis Bell, Christine Johnson, Barbara Killebrew, Vernon Hurley, Oma Foushee, Charles Barber, and Mrs. Margaret G. Finch, adviser.

Submit Your Story To O. Henry Contest

Say, Seniors, how was your Junior short story? Did it rate an A? Would you like to have $25.00 or $100.00? Well, by all means, enter the O. Henry short story contest for Seniors.

You may write a new story especially for the occasion, or, if you don't feel sufficiently inspired to spin a yarn, just re-work your last year's masterpiece. Add to it all you like, for there's no word limit. Just be sure that your entry is your original brain storm!

The contest is sponsored annually by the O. Henry Study Club. The first prize of $25.00 and the second prize of $10.00 are offered by the group to two Seniors writing the best short stories. The awards will be presented on graduation night. Judges are members of the English Department here at Senior and are appointed by Miss Mims.

The deadline for entering the short stories is April 21. Submit the story to your English 8 teacher or, if you do not take this course, to Miss Mims in Room 300.

School Will Elect Officers; Candidates Are Presented

The time has now arrived to elect the new officers for the class of next year. The students who are running for offices were presented to the student body in chapel last Tuesday morning, April 4. Students have been given time to debate and decide which of these candidates will best fulfill the required job.

Registration day will be April 24 at the regular places—in the ends of the halls, if the plan of last year is used. All students of Senior High School are eligible to register and vote, but under no circumstances will those who do not register be allowed to vote.

Actual voting for candidates will occur April 25, 1950. Students are urged to vote for candidates during the regular voting time; since only the registered voters' ballots will be officially counted in the tally.

The nomination convention will be held April 24 also. Delegates to the convention from the homerooms will be elected shortly after the presentation of candidates in chapel.

Torchlight Sponsors Annual Talent Show To Fund Scholarship

The Torchlight Society sponsored its annual talent show in Senior's auditorium on April 6. The program, featuring twelve acts, was held during the first period. Money raised will go toward the fund for the $100 scholarship given annually to a Torchlight member.

The first act on the program was a skit by the sixth period dramatics class. Participants were Bill Ferguson, Phyllis Greer, Virginia Harris, Dora Allred, Jack Ogburn, Tommy Hubert, Don Potter, Paul Smith, and Jean Tribble. Bill Zuckerman was reader for the pantomime.

The skit was followed by a violin and piano duet by Jack Gooch and Julia Deskins. Senior's boys' quartet, the Queen's Men, was next on the agenda, followed by a vocal solo by Paul Smith and a baritone solo by Don McCollum.

Sixth on the program was a piano duet by Iris Sharpe and Jeanette Hester. Torchlight then presented its "Mystery Man," who had been publicized throughout the advertising campaign for the show. "The Voice," Roger Gibbs, former student at G. H. S., gave a vocal solo.

Roger was followed by Dot Wulf, who also sang. Carl Brooks and

Bert Wade and Carl Brooks won first prize of $10 with their rendition of "Call of the Wild Goose." The Queen's Men took second place and $5 singing a medley of old favorites. Paul Smith's "Easter Parade" received Honorable Mention.

Bert Wade were the next performers with a vocal solo and piano accompaniment.

Dancers from the Felicia Studio appeared on the program as an added attraction. Coach Smith had trained a group of boys in his physical education classes for a tumbling act at this time. And concluding the program was a love duet by Roger Jewett and Nancy Lou Foust.

A first prize of $10 and a second prize of $5 were awarded to the winners. Judges for the awards were Dr. Carl W. McArthur, Mr. Lorne Grant, and Mrs. Blanche Smith.
