Wishing Well Banquet

250 Attend D.O.-D.E. Bosses' Banquet As Students Fete Employers March 25

Wishes will come true for the 250 guests and their hosts who attended the 11th annual D.O.-D.E. Employer-Employee banquet at the Moose Club, Thursday night, March 25, at 7:30.

Everyone who entered the banquet hall was presented with a new penny by D.O. fairy Joyce Owens, and D. E. elf Jerry Sherrill. The pennies were cast into a wishing well as the wishes were made secretly.

One hundred and eight Diversified Occupation and Distributive Education students at Senior High School with their co-ordinators, Mrs. Kathryn McEntire, Mrs. Margaret Hodden, and Mr. A. B. Raester, were hosts to the employers who co-operate in the D.O.-D.E. program and other special guests in the Greensboro school system.

Master of Ceremonies, James Lester, introduced Helen Mangum, who gave the invocation. James then wished the bosses well and thanked them for giving their time to the part-time student employees. Mr. Chester Arnold of Cone Mills responded in behalf of the bosses. Mr. W. L. Cannon gave a brief talk, "Wishes for the Future of the 'Co-op.'"

"Bosses Will Shine Tonight" was sung before a roast beef dinner was served. During the meal Burt Ozment introduced all guests. Boss-

GHS Spanish Club Formed

A Spanish club was formed by the combined Spanish classes of Miss Maunida Wales and Mrs. Jessie Gorrell on Tuesday, March 23, in room 313.

At the initial meeting Faye Fuquay was temporarily in charge. Such pertinent business as election of officers, requirements for membership, committees, and projects were discussed.

Eugenia Hickerson, Barbara Lindley, and Henrietta Reed were elected to draw up a constitution. Faye Fuquay, Ruth Matthews and Mary Lou Wall were chosen to decide a name for the group.

A passing average is the only requirement for membership, and a person must have a C average to hold an office.

Bible Club Hears Theme Friends Around The World

"Friends Around the World" was the theme for the monthly meeting of the GHS Bible Club last Tuesday at the Mayfair Cafeteria.

President Bootsie Fowler introduced the guest speaker, Carol Butler, a student at Greensboro College. Carol last summer went to a Methodist work camp in Europe and Great Britain. "The majority of our work was in Germany," she explained.

Color slides were the featured event of the program. Carol explained various phases of her summer's work through the use of these. The six weeks' tour of the continent was during the summer of Carol's junior year at college. The major part of the time spent in Germany was used in building churches and doing all kinds of manual labor.

Plans were announced for a novel program for the April meeting. Program chairman, Allen Fry withheld further information of this meeting.

High Life Positions

Anyone interested in becoming photographer or cartoonist for the 1954-55 HIGH LIFE is invited to bring samples of their work to Miss Paul Abernethy in room 10 by Monday.

Convention Delegates Select Candidates As 52 Vie For School's Top Positions

Class Day Committee Reveals May Plans

Three chairmen for the Class Day exercises May 20 have been announced by Betty Bell, committee head.

Sophomore year script chairman is Gloria Gilmore; junior year head, Amanda McConnell; and senior year, Joe Clapp. Miss Eula Tuttle, Senior Class adviser, is in charge of the music.

At a recent meeting of the committee a theme was adopted, and special events were assigned the class chairman.

Seniors participating in the annual event will be chosen from the sixth and seventh period study halls. Some of the practice sessions, which are scheduled to begin the first of May, are to be held after school and, according to plans, only those students willing to stay for these will be used in the production.

Amid cheers, posters, and balloons, the student body met Tuesday and nominated two candidates for each class and school office, to be elected in today's voting.

By roll call of the home rooms, Donnie DeSanto, R. B. Arthur, and Jimmy Jordan were nominated for student body president. DeSanto and Jordan were placed on the ballot by a second roll call. Miss Mozelle Causey was declared parliamentarian of the convention.

Since there were only two people seeking each of the other major offices, it was not necessary to eliminate by roll call. Vying for vice-president of the student body are Sue Simmons and Julie Redhead, while Gail Kirkman and Janie Walters are running for secretary.

Dickie Robinson and Leon Boggs are opponents for school treasurer. Candidates for the office of traffic chief are Bob Cowan and Steve Arthur.

After the major part of the student body returned to class, the junior and sophomore dele-

Queen's Men Take First In Annual Talent Show

Taking first place in the Torchlight Talent Show given in assembly on March 23 were "The Queen's Men."

In a variety of 10 acts, the quartet, composed of Stewart Cass, Fritz Apple, Eddie Robbins, and Bill Turner, sang their way to victory with their arrangement of "A Woman."

Second place honor was taken by a new discovery, "The Clover Buds." The singing trio, made up of Donald Varner, Don Heath, and Bill Leonard, received more than the usual applause for their interpretation of "Lovey Dovey."

Kenneth Cates and Gloria McQueen received honorable mention for their song and dance duet of "When You Wore A Tulip."

The other seven acts included comedies, songs, and dances.

Tommy McDonald, who displayed his talent for the first time in public in last year's show, sang "From Here to Eternity." He was accompanied by Rachael Kincaid. "The Mellow Tones," a band composed of Dick Frank, Jimmy Atwater, Bob Phillips, Jack Thurman, John Gardiner, Charles Woods, Harold Nicholson, Freddie Hutton, and Jerry Eller, played their arrangement of "Tuxedo Junction."

A dance solo was performed by sophomore Carol Horney.

A comedy act, "Niagara Falls," was enacted by Jack King, Tony Stone, and Jimmy Price.

"The Bell Bottom Blues," sung by Irene Thomas, carried out the Navy theme with Irene dressed in navy and white; Irene was accompanied by Jo Ann Hobbs.

Returning to comedy, a satire of "Romeo and Juliet," was given by the Shakespearean class. Por-

Photography editor for the annual will be Frances Thompson, assisted by Dan McConnell. Robert Hewett and Harold Moss have been assigned the position of engraving editors, and Martha Williamson is the new printing editor.

Sports' editor is Edwin Lashley. Betty Sink and Sylvia Kimbro have been chosen as Senior Class editors, and Hilda Heathcock and Carolyn Whittington as Junior Class editors.

Members of the literary staff are Phyllis Brooks, Julia McNairy, Jerry Matherley, Ann Armstrong, Tim Goodman, Martha Wilkins, and Leah Miller.

Business staffers are Brokie Lineweaver, Don Wall, Douglas George, Sally Jordan, Ann Frye, Emma Garvin, and Buck Carson.

Two Named Winners Of $760 Scholarships

Betty Colmer and Alan Tuttle were named as winners of the $760 Wake Forest scholarship last week.

They were picked from 30 boys and 10 girls over the state of North Carolina. Also in the finals from GHS were George Cox and Tony Stone.

The first step in the contest was on February 26 when 250 seniors took an achievement test based on the knowledge of history, literature, science, and math.

The 40 finalists went to the college Saturday, March 20. While spending the day at the college they took a final I. Q. exam and had five minute personal interviews.

Both seniors modestly replied, "I was really surprised to receive the scholarship." Alan related the incident of having his mother sympathetically greet him at the door with his envelope from the committee making him sure of his loss.

The students have to stay in the upper one-tenth of their class to remain eligible for the scholarship. Betty plans to major in French during her college stay, while Alan will take pre-med.

Five Delegates Attend Annual Torchlight Meet

Host chapter for the 1954 National Honor Society Convention being held today and tomorrow is Rocky Mount, North Carolina.

Five official delegates are representing Torchlight at the two-day conclave. They are Stewart Colson, Susan Hege, Rita Boggs, Joe Clapp, and Joyce Steele, president of the local chapter. Miss Sara Mims, Torchlight adviser, is with the group. Several unofficial delegates are also attending the business session and will return tonight.

Group meetings on the responsibilities of National Honor Society members to the home, community, and school are scheduled for this afternoon. A delegates' luncheon will follow this morning's introduction and business meeting, and election of state officers will take place tomorrow.
