

HIGH LIFE

From the Gate City of the South and the Birthplace of O. Henry

VOLUME XXXII

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., NOV. 18, 1955

NUMBER 5

C. W. Phillips Speaks To Students, Faculty On 'Operation Honor'

"Operation Honor" was the theme for the assembly program presented to the student body, Friday, November 11.

Bill O'Brien, Junior Class president, awarded the citizenship pins for the first six weeks period. Those students receiving the pins were Gail Kirkman and Leon Boggs, seniors; Libby Garvin and David Craig, juniors; and Sandra Holderness and John Burwell, sophomores.

Scholarship chairman, Zade Turner, presented the plaques to the winning home rooms. Receiving the senior plaque was Mrs. Gambles' home room with an average of 87.23, while Miss Powell's junior home room won first place with an 87.35 average. Mrs. Garrett's sophomore home room, with an 84.51 average, was presented the sophomore plaque.

Houston Gröome, student body president, conducted the devotion. Choir president, Leon Boggs, led the group singing. Assisting him were Eddie Gibbs and Ray Thomas, both senior choir members.

Members of Junior Class To Have Annual Pageant

"What An American Youth Can Be Thankful For" will be the theme for the traditional Thanksgiving Pageant which will be given by the Junior Class in a special assembly Wednesday, November 23.

The presentation is entirely produced, written and directed by the students with Jack Luttrell, Senior High chemistry teacher, as faculty adviser. The central planning committee under the direction of Mr. Luttrell who set up the program are Bill O'Brien, Ann Butler, Allen Thomas, Tom Hudgins, Karl Ray and Camille Merriman. The pageant, divided into five different acts and portraying American Freedoms, will be narrated by Bill O'Brien.

Freedom Of Press—Act I
The first act will be about the freedom of press depicted in two scenes. The first scene will be the Zenger trial, which brought out freedom of the press in America; the second scene is a newspaper office in Russia which contrasts the press in America and that in Russia. This act, with Buck Hoyle as chairman, has these characters: Ed Lowary as Peter Zenger, Ronnie Parks as the judge, Cooper Null as Hamilton; and the jury is composed of Ronnie Fullington, Fred Barringer, Clyde Hunt, Cecil Little, Dennis Maynard, James Ebert, Carl Tate, Frank Dennis, Chuck Wrye, Doug Orr, Alec Decker, and David Des-

Thanksgiving Holidays To Begin November 23

Greensboro High School students will be dismissed on Wednesday, November 23, at 3:30 p. m. for the Thanksgiving holiday and will return to classes the following Monday, November 28. The annual vacation will extend over the Thanksgiving week-end as customary.

Orchestra Performs In School Assembly

Conducted by J. Kimball Harrison, director, the Greensboro Senior High School Orchestra presented the assembly program, Tuesday, November 8, in the school auditorium.

For its first number on the program, the orchestra played "La Folia," which was followed by the "Rhumba Mexicana." Next, Robert A. Fredericksen, assistant orchestra director, conducted a selection from Samson and Delila, "Bacchanale."

Ann Rountree, senior, was the piano soloist for "Dream of Olwen." To conclude the program, the orchestra played several selections from "Carousel."

John Gardiner, Laura Adams Nominees To Attend St. Louis Music Convention

JOHN GARDINER
Clarinet nominee to attend St. Louis Music Convention.

Ann Elder, Caroline Gibbs, Guy McGraw, Carol Stout, and Nancy Tuttle. In scene two Pete Wyrick, Bob Hubner, and Maxine Callisher are students in a chemistry class. In typing class are Patsy Martin, Elwood Hartman, Peggy Lennon, Jane Parkings, and Bill Cannon. David Miller, Randy Dodson, Bobby Poe, Mike Word, and Phil Wilson are students in a drafting class.

The fourth act with Elizabeth Antrim as chairman will be freedom of speech which will portray how America gradually got this freedom. Excerpts of speeches of these will be used: Patrick Henry, Abraham Lincoln, Mrs. Hale, Susan Anthony, and a chaplain. Acting in this part are Stratton Eldridge,
Continued on Page Six

Honor Code Discussions Take Place In Home Rooms

Friday, November 11, immediately following the assembly program, students at Greensboro Senior High School returned to their respective home rooms for a panel discussion on "Operation Honor."

Topics Of Discussion
The general topic of discussion was "Measures of a School Citizen," with specific topics covering social behavior, honesty, attitudes, and responsibility. Under the topic of social behavior was behavior at school; in the classrooms, in the parking lot, at pep rallies, and in assembly. Also there was behavior in public; at open houses, at dances, at athletic events, and theaters, and behavior at home; courtesy in general, and co-operation with other members of the family.

The second topic was honesty, which included honesty with one's self; cheating, taking advantage of one's opportunities, mooching—both mental and material—and realizing that one gets out of anything as much as one puts into it. Also there was honesty with others; keeping one's word, refusing to give or receive help on a test, and refusing to tell test questions to next classes.

Attitudes was the third topic and included attitudes toward au-

John Gardiner and Laura Adams, members of the Senior High band and orchestra respectively, were recently nominated for positions in the national band and orchestra which will perform at the Golden Anniversary Convention of the National Music Educators in St. Louis.

John, first clarinet in both the band and orchestra, was notified of the honor at the fall band concert on Thursday, November 3. Music instructors and band directors met on that day in Greensboro for auditions of students from all over North Carolina who were interested in the trip to St. Louis. Six nominations were made, and approximately four will be chosen for the band from this group on the basis of instrumentation.

John feels that he has a good chance of being selected, considering the definite need for clarinets in a 160-piece band.

Tryouts for orchestra positions were held in Greensboro on Saturday, November 6. Laura, first violinist, was one of the six chosen. Alternates from the Senior High orchestra are Marcia Felt and Dan McConnell, bassoon player.

Robert Frederickson, assistant orchestra director, stated that he is almost sure Laura will be with the group traveling to St. Louis.

Those selected for the trip will have to meet all expenses personally. All of the state nominees are planning to travel together.

Director of the national orchestra will be Thor Johnson, director of the Cincinnati Symphony. Guest conductor will be Joseph Maddy, head of the National Music Camp.

The five-day convention beginning on April 13 will feature in addition to the national music group, a performance by the CHS orchestra.

LAURA ADAMS
Violinist nominated for position in St. Louis Music Convention.

Sales For Yearbook Total Only 925 Copies

Whirligig sales of the 1956 yearbook have been completed for the fall with approximately 925 copies being sold from Monday, October 31 through Thursday, November 3. The yearbook is sent to the Laser Press in Charlotte on February 1 and takes from three and one-half to four months to be printed. The books are sent back around May 20 to Senior High.

The yearbook is rated by the National Scholastic Press Association at the University of Minnesota. They rate service for school newspapers and magazines as well as yearbooks.

The yearbooks are rated on the basis of overall design and plan, quality of photography, copy, art work, and engraving. This year the WHIRLIGIG won an All-American rating for the sixth consecutive time.

The staff members of the yearbook were especially commended for quality of feature shots and copy. Last year's editor of WHIRLIGIG was Susan Graham, who is now studying at Duke University. The engravers for the WHIRLIGIG are John and Ollier Engraving Company of Chicago, Illinois.

Spence; Nancy Key room 24; Leon Boggs, room 25; room 27, Rick Aderholt; rooms 60 and the Band Room, Louise McGee; room 100, Maxine Callisher; rooms 101 and 13, Buck Hoyle, Dick Lambeth, room 102; Pete Wyrick, room 103; Diana Harmon, rooms 106 and 11; room 200, Tom Hudgins; room 201A, Manley Dodson; Bob Herford, room 201B; Bill O'Brien, room 202; room 203A, Valinda Beall; room 203B, John Gardiner; Karl Ray, room 206; room 204, Harriet Wells; room 300, Dick Robinson; Elizabeth Antrim, room 301; Tim Goodman, room 302; and room 303, Bobby Baynes.

Other Moderators
Others are Shirley Smith, room 304; Janie Walters, room 305; room 307, Stratton Eldridge; rooms 22 and 309, Ray Thomas; Lisa Anderson, room 311; Renie Saper, room 313; rooms 315 and 306, Gail Kirkman; and room 317, Zade Turner.

The Thanksgiving Pageant planning committee, left to right, is composed of Carl Ray, Ann Butler, Tom Hudgins, Jack Luttrell, advisor; Bill O'Brien, Junior Class President; Camille Merriman, and Allen Thomas.
Photo by McConnell