

From the Gate City of the South and the Birthplace of O. Henry

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., OCTOBER 18, 1957

VOLUME XXXIV

WHIRLIGIG Drive Lasts October 16-22 ForAutumnCampaign

WHIRLIGIG staff members started taking subscriptions for this year's book which sells for $4.50, October 16 through October

22. The art staff, headed by Charlie The art starl, headed by Charlie Mills, is providing the pages with lively sketches. Managing and lit-erary editors, Pat Howell and An-gelyn Stokes, have been arranging pictures and layouts as well as helping all the other staff mem-hear Ming Unging Darrelli areas bers. Miss Virginia Powell is serv-ing as adviser. The "dummy," blueprint of the coming WHIRLI-GIG, has been the nucleus from which the staff works. The business end of the staff has been soliciting ads and sponsor-ships to reach the required quota of $3000. The biggest project yet, of $3000. The biggest project yet, which provides the bulk of the funds, is the sale of the year books which is under way. The "big secret" theme is com-ing along well, and the staff hopes to have the book off to press in record time. They have already decided on a cover design, but, according to Sue, for further de-tails, "BUY YOUR EXCITING 1958 WHIRLIGIG." tails, "BUY YOU 1958 WHIRLIGIG."

Civitan Projects Include Painting Posts, Markers

Painting goal posts and the down markers have been only two of the many projects sponsored by the GHS Civitan Club for the year 1957-58.

Other projects of the Civitan Club concerning the football sea-son include providing ushers for the reserve seat section and keep-ing students off the field during the JV and junior high school games.

games. The Civitan Club has printed two pocket bulletin boards this year. The first was a schedule for the Whirlie football season. Mike Morton will be in charge of the fruit cake sale sponsored by the Junior Civitan Club, where-as Raymond Spaulding is chair-man of all projects.

John Stevenson Receives

Subscriptions Total 1393 For High Life According to Max Snodderly, editor of HIGH LIFE, the total number of subscriptions to number of subscriptions HIGH LIFE is 1393.

Leading in the number of sub-scriptions is Miss Dixie Huske's senior home room with 33 subscribers.

Schers. The cost of HIGH LIFE for the whole year is $1.50. The first payment of 75 cents is due No-vember 13, with the second pay ment of 75 cents March 12.

Representatives of 73 colleges tol Radio Engineering Institute, in and out of the state have been and Catawba. in and out of the state have been invited to attend the College Day at Senior High, October 24. Those invited are from Agnes Scott College, Appalachian State Teachers College, Asheville-Bilt-more, Atlantic Christian, Averett Brenau, Brevard, Campbell, Capi-

Representatives of 73 Colleges Attend

Senior High College Day October 24

HIGH LIFE photographer

net Coble, Ann Elder, and Sandra Holderness, the general committee fr College Day, pose above for Scholarship Applications Are Available;

National Merit and Naval Exams Soon Applications for a number of can businesses, annually provides Senior Class boys is the John M ing the upper 10 per cent of their class, scholastically, have been declared eligible to take the National Merit Scholarship Exam-ination, to be given nation-wide Tuesday, October 22. The National Merit Scholarship Program, sponsored by 67 Ameri-

Applications for a number of can businesses, annually provides different college scholarships are a four-year college grant to 800 now available to interested sen-high schoo lseniors in the na-iors in the office, principal A. P. Routh has announced. About 50 GHIS seniors, compris-ing the upper 10 per cent of their scores on the examination. This same examination may be used for these scholarships. other scholarships.

Top 5 Per Cent

Top 5 Per Cent The upper 5 per cent of the Senior Class in selected high schools throughout the nation, in-cluding GHS, can take the exam-ination without charge. Those in the second 5 per cent scholastic-ally may take the test for a fee of $1. Announced as in the up-per 5 per cent at GHS are Mary Lee Adams, Helen Allen, Brenda Alvis, Blanche Bonner, Janet Co-ble, Connie Coltrane, Jey Deifell, Peggy Earle, Judy Hartsook, Mey-Peggy Earle, Judy Hartsook, Mey-ressa Hughes, Robert Johnson, Charles King, Carolyn Manuel, Charles King, Carolyn Manuel, and Jean Medearis, Also eligible are Rhonda Miller, Laura Pearce, Barbara Phillips, Betty Rose, Linda Royal, Peggy Sink, Max Snodderly, Angelyn Stokes, Don Stokes, and Ann Wilson. In the second 5 per cent are Denny Broadhurst, Ginger Bulla, Anne Davis, Susan De Veney, Gayle Durham, Anne Elder, Mary Henderson, Sue Hodges, Sandra

Gayle Durham, Anne Elder, Mary Henderson, Sue Hodges, Sandra Holderness, Judy Lea, Frances Mc-Cormick, Elizabeth Miller, and Add Penfield. Others in the sec-ond section are Janet Phillips, Ellen Rankin, Glenda Sherill, Frances Taylor, Gloria Tippett, Becky Tuck, Faye Weeks, Kitty White, Wallace Williams, Camille Wimberly, Anne Wolff, Ralph Daniel, and Harry Smith. Applications are now available

Applications are now available for the Naval ROTC Scholarship, for which prospective high school graduates in 1958 are eligible. The examination for the scholarship in this area will be given at Winston-Salam Salurday. December 14 Salem, alem, Saturday, December 14. Another scholarship open to iors.

School Class boys is the John M. Morehead Scholarship, worth about $5000 towards four years at theUniversit y of North Carolina. School officials will choose one of those applying to represent the school in the dictrict competition. The school has also received an to 800 Morehead The school has also received ap-plication forms for the Angier B. Duke Scholarship to Duke University

Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, guidance counselor for the Senior Class, has information available to seniors concerning scholarships and college entrance.

HIGH LIFE Staffers Affend State Meeting

Members of HIGH LIFE staff were invited to attend the 16th Annual North Carolina Scholastic Press Institute which was at Chapel Hill, Saturday, October 12.

The staff attended classes per-taining to the publishing of a high school paper. Schools from all school paper. Schools from all over North Carolina were repre-sented, and students headed panel discussions on various topics. The purpose of these discussion groups was to exchange ideas and opin-ions. Frances McCormick, senior, headed the panel discussion on advertisement,

In tht business session of the conference, Sut Snow, junior, was elected secretary of the Institute. She will help plan next year's con-

Students attending the meeting from the Greensboro Senior High journalistic delegation were Max Snodderly, Add Penfield, Betty Rose, Frances McCormick, seniors; Rinda King, Sue Snow, Angie Davis, and Jane Thompson, jun-

Also invited are Gaston Techni-cal Institute, Georgia Institute of Technology, Greensboro College, Guilford, High Point, Hollins, Guilford, High Point, Hollins, Kings Business College, Lake Erie College, Lees - McRae, Lenior-Rhyne, and Limestone.

NUMBER 3

Further Invitations

Further invitations were extend-ed to Longwood, Louisburg, Mass-achusetts Institute of Technology, Mars Hill, Mary Baldwin, Mary Washington, Meredith, Mitchell, Montreat, N. C. State, Oak Ridge Military Institute, Peabody Con-servatory of Music, and Peace.

On the list also are Pfeiffer Col-On the fist also are Prentier Col-lege, Presbyterian Junior, Prince-ton University, Queens, Randolph Macon Woman's College, Rich-mond Professional Institute, Roa-noke, Salem, University of North Carolina, School of Nursing, South-ern Seminary and Lunior College ern Seminary and Junior College, and a representative from the State Department of Public Instruction.

Others Included

Others included are Stephens College, St. Mary's Junior College, Stetson, Stratford, University of North Carolina, Virginia Inter-mont College, Wake Forest, West-ern Carolina, William and Mary, Wilmington, Wingate, and Wom-an's College of U. N. C.

Completing the list are Yale University and the Department of Nursing Education in Woman's College of U. N. C.

Juniors and seniors are eligible to attend discussions with these college counselors, bringing their parents if possible.

5 Candidates Get Bids For Quill And Scroll

Quill and Scroll National Honor Society for High School Journalists has, according to Betty Rose, president, issued bids to five HIGH LIFE and WHIRLIGIG staff members out of those juniors and senitors who received letters of eligibility.

To qualify for membership a student must first be on the staff of either the student newspaper or annual and maintain a scholastic average of 90 or above. Secondly, the prospective entrant must submit an example of his writing: poem, essay, short story, theme, etc., to be judged by a panel of faculty English teachers and the present members of the organization.

New Members

HIGH LIFE staff members accepted are Angie Davis, Rinda King, June Rubin, and Sut Snow; from WHIRLIGIG is Angelyn Stokes.

Literary entries were due Monday, October 14.

Main Projects

Main Projects The chief project of Quill and Scroll is the publishing each spring of HOMESPUN, a literary maga-zine containing original compo-sitions by GHS students. Any stu-dent may submit examples of his work for consideration. Material is usually obtained through Eng-lish and creative writing classes. In addition to Betty the organiza-tion consists of seniors Sue Le-vine, Frances McCormick, and Max Snodderly. Adviser is Mrs. Judy Milligan, English teacher.

JOHN STEVENSON

percentage of houses on his route he had covered and interviewed customers for their opinions

Newspaperboy Recognition John Stevenson, a GHS junior, viewed his pastor to find out about was recently chosen as one of the his contributions to the church. two GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS Finally they judged John on the