Fourteen GHS Girls Work As Typists At Mid-South Business Exposition

Recently fourteen girls from GHS, all members of Cooperative Office Practice, worked as typists and receptionists at the Mid-South Business Equipment Exposition.

The Exposition was sponsored by the Piedmont Chapter of National Accountants Association. This exposition was the largest display of new equipment south of New York City. The exhibit was attended by business people from Richmond, Virginia, to Atlanta, Georgia.

Several times a day, during each day of the Exposition, COP girls demonstrated their capabilities to these viewers. Wednesday morning, Audrey Greeson and Cathy Chiusano demonstrated their talents. Wednesday afternoon Brenda Younts and Diane Harrington typed, and Thursday morning, Sybil Felder and Marie Mitchell.

COP

Cooperative Office Practice is designed primarily for students who expect to enter the business world after high school graduation. The plan enables students to attend school in the mornings and use their typing, shorthand, book-keeping, or filing skills in business offices in the afternoons. Students are placed on jobs in offices that have been approved for cooperative training. These part-time workers are known as students-learners. In addition to the salary earned, school credit is given for the supervised work experience.

At school the student enrolls in a class known as D. O. Office with the Office Practice Co-ordinator being Mrs. Kathryn McEntire. The purpose of the class is to study business information and business manners. These business habits will help the student perform satisfactorily on the job, adjust to the business world quickly, and lay the foundation for future progress.

Two credits are earned each semester by each student learner for his or her D.O. classwork and supervised work experience. Each student learner is required to take two regular high school courses and these are selected after counseling with the co-ordinator.

Home Ec. Groups Discuss Possibilities of FHA

GHS Home Economics group is discussing the possibilities of starting a Future Homemakers of America Club.

The FHA would be sponsored by the Home Economics Branch of the Office of Education and the American Home Economics Associations. It would be an incorporated non-profit youth organization.

Any pupil taking homemaking, or who has previously taken the course in senior or junior high school, would be eligible to join the club. The club would work on a completely voluntary membership.

The goal of the FHA would be "to live better today in order to live better tomorrow." The organization would function in a manner similar to that of the GHS Future Teachers of America Club.

The business manager for the play is Harry Noland, and the Assistant Manager is Lynn Wentworth.

A great amount of publicity has been arranged for the play. Monday posters will go up at the school describing the forthcoming event, and Thursday announcements will be made over the radio and a news article will appear in the DAILY NEWS.

November 19, a skit will be presented in a general assembly attended by the student body. A news article will appear in the teen-age section of The Greensboro Record on the same day.

The tickets for the event are on sale for fifty cents.

Honor Roll Announced; 398 Members Included

Total regular honor roll listing for the first report period included 398 members.

The Junior Class had 38% of the total membership or 150 members. The Senior Class had 37%, or 147 members, and the Sophomore Class had 25%, or 101 members.

Mrs. Roe's homeroom 200, had the majority of complete honor roll members in the Junior Class—14 members.

GHS Orchestra To Play At Clinic On Nov. 10

November 10, several of the GHS orchestra members will play in a clinic at Aycock Auditorium together with several other schools.

Dr. Stanley Chapel from Washington State will conduct the musical presented by the N.C. music educators. Among the pieces played will be the fourth movement from the "New World Symphony," and the first movement from the London Symphony.

The program will begin at 8:15 p.m. Those orchestra members who are not playing in the clinic are urged to attend.

Assembly

The orchestra will also play in an assembly program on Tuesday, November 12.

November 7, the Singing Strings, a small portion of the GHS orchestra, provided dinner music at the West Market Street Methodist Church. Selections were played from "My Fair Lady," and "The Sound of Music." Henry Adams was featured as a soloist on the bass fiddle. He played a selection entitled "Bach Hir."

Also presented were a minuet from Berenice, and "A Rumanian Fantasy."

TV Shows

On October 29, an orchestral group presented a half-hour program over Channel 4 at Chapel Hill.

Amy Murray played a piano solo—"La Plus que Lente" by Debussy. Gwyn and Nancy Coble presented a piano duet entitled "Jamaican Rumba" by Benjamin. Lauren Scott, accompanied by Amy Murray, presented a cello solo—"Apes Un Reve" (After a Dream) by Faure (transcribed by Casals).

Concluding the program, the string ensemble presented their versions of "The Song From Moulin Rouge" by William Engvick, "Over The Rainbow" by Harold Arlen, and "Blue Moon" by Richard Rodgers.

Playing in the string ensemble were first violin—G. H. Sharp, Nancy Coble, Gwyn Coble, Gail Sadler, Amy Murray; second violin—Barbara Long, Charleen Pyron; viola—Robbie Tatum, Marian Scott; cello—Lauren Scott, Kathy Lilburn; bass—Joe Leonard, Susan Henley; and piano accompanist—Dede Kent.

Pins

After making honor roll seven consecutive times, a student is entitled to a silver star. While wearing this star, a Junior or a Senior may exempt one exam provided he is taking a given number of majors.

After making honor roll for 13 consecutive times, a student is given a gold star. Any Junior or Senior who is wearing this star may exempt two exams if he is taking a given number of majors.

If, however, any student misses a marking period, he must start over again with the copper star.

Students making honor roll are given pins in the shape of a star indicating their status. Each time a student makes honor roll he is allowed to wear a copper star, which must be turned in when he misses honor roll.
