Artists Auction & Gala Scheduled

One of High Point's most popular annual events is scheduled for Friday, November 2.
That is the date for the annual Favorite Artists Auction & Gala. Presented by High Point Arts Council and beautiful art and craft items with a gala evening of fine food and fun.
Reservations are now being taken for this event which benefits High Point Arts Council and its Theatre Art Galleries.

Well known artists and craftspersons are creating work for the auction.
Most of the artists who are represented are professionals are creating work especially for the silent auction. Among those who are submitting work for the Favorite Artists Auction & Gala are: Henry Link; Patricia Bodie; Mary Fay Bodenheimer; Barbara

Cullen; Ann Davis;
Bernie Stadium; Keith
Rose; B. Chandler
Gorbe; Sue Seamon;
Cathy Melesh; Andrea Wheless-Dunham;
David Dowdy; Edward L.
Parker; Marianne Royle; Lucy Spencer; Robert
H. Stone; Jeff Hankins; Elizabeth Michael.

Items up for auction
include paintings, pottery, photography,
sculpture and fiber art.
Those interested in viewing what will be available may do so dropping by the Theatre Art Galleries 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on November 1 and 2.

One of the highlights of the event will be a drawing for two very special items, a portrait by portrait artist Nancy Kirk and a painting by artist Ellen Freeze.
Tickets for the drawing can be purchased by contracting High Point Arts Council.

Tickets to the Favorite Artists Auction & Gala are $17.50 each ($35.00 per couple) and may be purchased by contacting High Point Arts Council at 919-889-2787. The Auction &
Gala will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Friday, November 2, at the Theatre Art Galleries

Freedom Explosion To Hit Triad

A "Freedom Explosion" will hit the Twin City Friday, Nov. 2, at 8 p.m. at the Benton Convention Center
when the Winston-Salem Urban League
Guild presents its 33rd production of the Ebony Fashion Fair
Show.

The famed traveling fashion show is produced by Ebony magazine and is sponsored annually by the Winston-Salem Urban League Guild to benefit its scholarship fund.

Eunice W. Johnson, producer and director of the show, personally selects fashions from the exclusive collections of famed designers such as Frank

Composto, Bill Blass,
Bob Mackie, Giorgio
Sant' Angelo, Fabrice, Halston and Bruce Oldfield.

Mrs. Johnson, the wife of Ebony publisher John H. Johnson, purchases the most spectacular fashions available for the show.

More than 200
exquisite garments, complete with the latest accessories, will be featured. The show will include 10 female models and two male models.
Shayla Simpson will serve as the commentator for the evening.

The Winston-Salem Urban League Guild, an auxiliary of the local affiliate, began sponsoring the show in 1957. Joan

Cardwell is general chairman for this year's show; Velma Friende is Guild president.

During the show, Miss
Ebony Fashion Fair
1990 will be crowned.
The local student selling the most tickets to the production wins the title.

Tickets are available from any Guild member and at the Urban League office, 201 W.
Fifth St. A subscription to Ebony, Ebony Man or Jet is included in the ticket price.
