Freshmen Have Group Advisors

The Hut was a busy place last Thursday afternoon for that was the day for the great Freshmen assemblage. Each girl had been summoned by a very original invitation card bearing upon it the color her group was to wear. When everyone arrived the various groups, consisting of eleven girls and one teacher, were talking busily. Margaret Johanson's accordion playing, and Russian tea and cakes added greatly to the merriment of the crowd.

The purpose in forming these groups lies in the sincere hope that a Freshman may have all the good advice she desires from her group advisor. Perhaps this will lighten the strain on her future schedules; or perhaps it may help to get her into more school activities. Anyway, this co-operation on the part of faculty and students should net results.

Representatives of College Give Radio Program

Virginia Parsons and Iris Bryson represented Queens-Chicora College Saturday night on the radio program given from WBT sponsoring the Liberal Arts movement of the colleges.

Virginia Parsons, a student of Dr. Ninniss, played two classics: The "Little White Donkey," by Ibert and "May Night," by Palmgren.

Iris Bryson, a student of Miss Starr, sang "A Birthday," by Huntington Woodworth.

Other colleges represented on this program were Catawba and Davidson.

Two musical numbers were given by girls from Catawba and Dr. Walter Lingle of Davidson gave a most interesting talk on the importance of this arts movement.

Another speaker on the program was Mr. Dunn, a prominent man in Charlotte.

Choral Club Prepares For Concert

The Choral Club is all set for a big Christmas Concert. The best that has ever been given. Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Starr, the girls all seem to rally and instantly their hearts become filled with the beauty of the music.

But that is all we can tell, you must wait for the rest. It won't be long now for Christmas is near.

Bills For Annual Cuts Sent Out

The annual seems to be advancing fine. Many girls pulled slips from their boxes today and seemed surprised to see that they owed the Edelweiss money. Annual cuts are on! Let's all co-operate with Frances and have the best annual of time.

Former Student Injured in Wreck

Word was recently received that Marion Chambliss, student here last year, has been seriously injured in an automobile accident. The accident occurred on Monday, November 2. Marion was with a party of boys and girls who were returning from a weekend house party at the University of Florida in Gainesville. For some reason, which we do not know, the car turned over and was completely wrecked?

Marion was hurt worse than any of the others in the car. Her ankle and lower part of her leg were cut badly. The leader or tendon was severed. Her back, also, was sprained.

The others got help and rushed the hurt ones to the hospital nearby. It was necessary to take over thirty stitches in Marion's leg. Ever since the accident, she has been in bed with her leg in a plaster cast. She will soon be up, but will have to walk on crutches for at least a month.

This hurt is especially unfortunate for the reason that Marion and a friend had been conducting classes in ball-room dancing. Of course Marion's part of this work will have to stop for quite a while.

To new students and to those who don't know her, Marion was a freshman here last year. She lives in Tampa, Florida, and although she intended to attend Florida State Woman's College, she has been staying at home this winter. Marion was very popular and was a member of the Kappa Delta Sorority on this campus.

"Jelly" Leftwich's Orchestra Added Attraction

The big event of the second quarter will be the entertainment sponsored by the Senior Class on December 9. This class is bringing the Duke Glee Club and orchestra to Queens-Chicora that night.

Last year the Duke Musicians were a great success. The Glee Club is composed of fifty-four Duke men, each of which has a good voice. The program has not been announced yet, but there will probably be some skit or extra act in addition to the songs and choruses.

Another feature of the evening will be "Jelly" Leftwich and his orchestra. Their part of the program will be several groups of popular pieces, with some other orchestrations of more or less classical music. All the old girls remember the enjoyable evening spent last year when Duke came to stay a few hours. New girls are in for a treat and will talk about it for some time to come after this has taken place.

School Aids In Relief Drive

On Wednesday, November the eleventh, Dean McLean and Miss Margaret Lillard, president of the Queens-Chicora Student Body, represented the college at the banquet given in the Chamber of Commerce Building by the workers for the United Relief Fund. Dean McLean presented two hundred and seven dollars to the committee as the donation of the faculty, while Miss Lillard, representing the student body, gave a hundred and four dollars.

The class collections making up a total of seventy-four dollars were as follows: Freshman Class, thirteen dollars and eighty cents; Sophomore Class, fifteen dollars and fifty-eight cents; Junior Class, seven dollars and fifty-six cents; Senior Class, seven dollars and six cents. An extra fifteen dollars was given from the Student Body Treasury. This amount was formerly for the purpose of buying faculty Christmas presents, but at the suggestion of the Dean, it was given over for the use of the United Relief Fund.

Fifteen dollars was made for the fund, by the means of a self denial meal, Monday the ninth of November. This meal was voted for by all members of the Student Body. All meat and butter were cut out from dinner, with the result that this, by no means small amount, was saved.

The drive was sponsored by all the leaders in the city business

Cherniavsky Trio Splendid

The Cherniavsky Trio, sponsored by Charlotte Community Concert Association, gave two very interesting programs at the Central High School Auditorium on Wednesday, November 11. The first program was given in the afternoon for the benefit of the school children wishing to attend. Their main program, which was given in the evening, was heard by a large, appreciative audience.

This famous trio is composed of three brothers, Leo, violinist, Jan, pianist, and Michel, 'cellest. They made their first tour of their native Russia as boy prodigies, and their artistic union has been maintained ever since. As a result of this long experience, which has now covered a period of over twenty-five years, they have developed a mutual sympathy and understanding so rare as to be practically unique. Their program was a most unusual, yet consistently popular combination of solos and ensemble numbers.

S. C. A. Conference To Meet at Mitchell

Three Delegates Represent Queens-Chicora

The Conference of the Student Christian Association of North Carolina, representing the four colleges—Peace, Mitchell, Flora Macdonald and Queens-Chicora—will hold its annual meeting at Mitchell College, November 21-22. Three girls will represent this college: Caroline Lillard and Rebecca McClary who were elected by the cabinet, and Annie Belle Smith, who is president of the state organization.

The program will begin Saturday afternoon at 4:00 and continue through Sunday evening. Several services will be held during the conference period in devotionals and in discussions on the well-known theme: Making Christ More Real on Our Campus Through Faith, Love, Reverence, Loyalty, Gratitude and Service. The first discussion will be led by Eunice Hoyle, representative from Flora Macdonald; the third will be led by Roger Enloe, president of the Y. M. C. A. of Davidson. The Vesper Service at 6:00 o'clock, Sunday, will be conducted by Dr. Price H. Gwyn of Davidson. After a business meeting, followed by the Executive Council meeting, the Conference will come to a close.
