

Sophs And Frosh Elect Officers

At a recent meeting of the Sophomore Class, Eleanor Guyton was elected president of the class and Hannah McNulty was elected vice-president.

The officers had rotated their offices, but this was declared against Parliamentary procedure. Mary Currie presided over the meeting, where it was moved that Eleanor be put up for president of the class and that a vice-president be elected in her place.

Other officers of the class are Anne Fuller, secretary, and Madeline Lotterhos, treasurer.

On Wednesday, October 13, the Freshmen class also elected Mildred Sneed as class chairman. Each year in the fall, the Freshmen elect a chairman who acts as head of the class until the election of a permanent president at the beginning of the second semester.

Others elected at this time were: Mary Payne, stunt night chairman, and Jean Ferguson, chairman of program for rat week. Sybil Trexler was elected Queen Sophomore, one of the principal characters in the Freshmen's rat-week entertainment for the Sophomores.

Dr. Lambie Speaks At Queens Vespers

Introduced as "The man without a country," Dr. T. A. Lambie was guest speaker at Queens-Chicora Vespers on the first October Sunday.

Stirring the hearts of his student listeners, Dr. Lambie, medical missionary to Ethiopia, told of the hardships and trials endured by him and his fellow-workers before and during Italy's invasion of this African country. He described the ways of traveling through Ethiopia and related many incidents of the war and of his contacts with Ethiopian nobility.

His address helped to give the Queens girls a clearer understanding of the Ethiopian situation and the need there for Christian helpers.

304 New Books Are In Queens Library

Miss Harrill has recently stated that there are three hundred and four new books in the Queens-Chicora library.

In Mrs. Lyon's library, which she left to Queens-Chicora, there are ninety-six books of English Literature. Forty-two new books have been placed on the reserve shelves for the use of students taking the new course in Ancient Culture. Others have also been added for use of students and faculty.

This is a large addition to the library and it is hoped that the students will take advantage of this new opportunity.

This attraction of likes is most pronounced in the matter of physical traits, with blondes being attracted to blondes, athletic men favoring athletically inclined women, and men of sedentary inclinations finding small women to their liking.

Love, on the basis of Dr. Kelly's findings, affects the judgment of women more than that of men. The women were inclined to over-rate their men's handsomeness, but the men came closer to the mark in judging the beauty of their women.

Delegates Report On Conference At Davidson College

A very interesting program was presented to the Queens-Chicora students during Sunday night Vespers last week by girls who attended the Davidson conference last June.

The delegates were introduced by Helen Jenkins who led the services. Following a brief worship program, they told of their part in the conference. Describing the courses taken there, the recreational features provided, and the different speakers who brought vital messages to this assemblage of young people, the Queens girls stressed the fact that the time spent there had meant so much in their lives and expressed the hope that many others would have the opportunity to attend one of these summer conferences in the future.

Delegates who brought back reports were: Peggy Sloop, Mildred Lowrance, Lucielle Gwaltney, and Vivi Taylor. Other delegates on the stage were Mary Louise Spratt and Carolyn Reynolds.
