

DUEENS BLUES

Z-526

Published Weekly By The Students of Queens-Chicora College

Vol. 18 No. 6

QUEENS-CHICORA COLLEGE, CHARLOTTE, N. C.

October 29, 1938

Broadcast Given Here Wednesday

Roseman And Wishart Featured At Organ And Piano On Program

The weekly radio program of Queens-Chicora College was held on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock over local station WSOC with Claire Wishart at the organ and Marie Roseman playing the violin.

The program was opened with the playing of the college radio theme song by Miss Wishart and Miss Roseman, with Frances Riddle singing the first verse. The two organ pieces were "Come Sweet Death" by Bach and descriptive number, "Canyon Walls" from the "Mountain Sketches" by Clokey.

The violin number was "Nocturne" by Schumann. The campus calendar was written and read by Cree Roberts. Announcer this week was Frances Marion O'Hair.

Next week's theme will be "Autumn" and the program will include a song "In the Luxembourg Gardens" by Eleanor Alexander and a piano solo, "Autumn" from "Woodland Sketches" by Eleanor Guyton.

The theme of the program on November 9 will be peace, in connection with the Armistice Day celebra-

Association Gives Party

The Athletic Association of Queens-Chicora College, headed by Cree Roberts, sponsored a Haloween Hike and weiner roast last night at 5 o'clock, to which the entire student body was invited.

The hikers circled around the Myers Park Club to eat at a spot Where the junior and senior classes had set up booths. Ghost stories and roasted marshmallows were enjoyed after the weiner roast.

Miss Cordelia Henderson is faculty adviser of the Association.

Association To Meet Soon

The North Carolina Collegiate Press Association will meet next week-end, on November 3, 4, and 5, at the Washington Duke Hotel in Durham, N. C., with Duke University acting as host.

All colleges in North Carolina, with the exception of the University of North Carolina, will send delegates. Those attending from Queens-Chicora College will be Sue Mauldin and Ruth Knee, editor and business manager of the Coronet; and Annie Mae Brown and Betsy Springer, editor and business manager of the Queens Blues.

The initial formal dinner of the year was held at Queens-Chicora College on Thursday evening at 6:30 O'clock in the college dining room. Mrs. Virginia Miller Agnew, dean of women, presided, and Dr. W. H. Frazer was the after-dinner speaker.

The dining room was decorated fall leaves of all shades, and orange candles furnished the light.

Left to right: Mary Griffin, Francis Marion O'Hair, and Eleanor Jenkins. The three girls were honored by Sigma Mu this week.

Picture Club Formed Here

The newly organized photography club held its first meeting Wednesday afternoon, October 19, at which time the members made plans for future meetings.

The club expects to develop and print pictures for its own personal use and for the school annual. It will also invite outside speakers to talk on the subject of photography. The shower room in the basement of the Science Building will be fixed for the members to use as a dark room. Those members who do not know how to develop and print pictures will be taught by those who already have some knowledge of it.

Elizabeth Green was made temporary chairman of the club at the meeting. The constitution will be formed by a committee headed by Mary Mildred Thomas, and the dark room and supplies will be supervised by a committee headed by Dorothy Duckett.

Three Girls Go To Meet

Three delegates from Queens-Chicora College are attending a conference of the Student Christian Association at Peace College in Raleigh, N. C., this week-end, beginning today and ending tomorrow night.

Those going from here are Mildred Lowrance, from Mooresville, Katherine McQueen Martin of Maxton, and Olive Croswell of Asheville. The theme of the meeting will be "The Student's Need of the Hour."

Delegates will attend from Presbyterian Junior College, Mitchell College, Flora-MacDonald, Peace Queens-Chicora, and Davidson.

Linnean Club Has Meeting

The Linnean club, organized several years ago to create a greater interest in Biology, held its first regular meeting of the year in the Science Building on October 18.

Officers were elected for the year and they are: Hannah McNulty, reelected president; Gentry Burkes, vice-president; Betty Kale, secretary; Sue McNulty, treasurer and business manager; and Hilda Harmon, reporter and advertising manager. Miss Sara Nooe is the club's sponsor and Many interesting programs are being planned for the year and the hikes are already being enjoyed. One of the largest groups of girls ever enrolled in the Linnean club, and the co-operation it has begun to show, promises to make this a very successful year.

Festival Held In Hartsville

A Literary Festival was held at Coker College in Hartsville, S. C. last Friday and Saturday.

Friday morning after registration at 11 o'clock Mrs. Julia M. Peterson gave a lecture. In the afternoon a seminar in essay and fiction was conducted by James McBride Dabbs. After a lecture in the evening by Dr. Archibald Henderson, an informal reception was given at the college.

Dr. Archibald Rutledge lectured in the college auditorium Saturday morning. Also Paul Mowbray Wheelcr conducted a seminar in poetry. All the guests were taken on a visit to the Kalmia Gardens in Hartsville in the afternoon. The Avon Players presented the "Taming of the Shrew" at

Scholarship Society Honors Three Girls

Leadership Group Meets

Alpha Kappa Gamma Convention Held At Chapel Hill Over Week-End

The eleventh National Convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma, National Leadership Fraternity was held on Friday and Saturday, October 21 and 22 at Chapel Hill.

Four chapters were represented: The Olympian, Queens-Chicora; Athenian, University of North Caro-Farmville State College.

on Friday afternoon. Friday night cach Circle gave a report of the year's

The theme discussion on Saturday morning was "Counciling as it Relates to College Life." Ideas were exchanged on the three phases of counciling: orientation, organizations and vocational guidance.

The early part of Saturday afternoon was taken up with the installation of National Officers who consisted of:

National President, Miss Lodema Gaines, Assistant Dean of Women at the University of South Carolina; Vice-President, Miss Margaret Evans, graduate student at the University of North Carolina; Executive Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Jane Royal, Assistant Dean of Women at Farmville State College; Miss Nancy Mc-Iver, graduate of Queens-Chicora as Recording Secretary and Treasurer, and Miss Sue Mauldin of Queens-Chicora as Editor of Torch Bearer.

Following the installation Dr. and Mrs. Grooks, members of the University of North Carolina faculty, conducted a discussion on "Psychological and Emotional Aspects of Marriage." It was pointed out that although young people of today are having more difficulty in the problems of matrimony and home making, they are more eager than ever to face the problem squarely. He emphasized the necessity of an intelligent selection of a mate, with a careful consideration before marriage of the differences that might tend to break up a home. Mrs. Grooks developed the theory that it was necessary for each partner in a marriage to grow with the mate from courtship to a fine relationship based on self-sacrifice and mutual love.

Mrs. Stacey, Adviser of Women at the University of North Carolina gave a lovely tea Saturday afternoon. The National President of Alpha Kappa Gamma and officials of Women's Association at the University of North Carolina were in the receiving line.

The convention terminated on Saturday evening with a banquet at the Carolina Inn. Dr. English Bagby of the Psychology Department spoke. His theme was "Puritanism." He pointed out the need of the members of every campus to stand above the smugness and cruel criticism of non-conformists which comes with an Miss Sue Mauldin.

Griffin, O'Hair, And Jenkins Tapped By Sigma Mu On Tuesday

The Sphinx Scholarship Society of Sigma Mu at Queens-Chicora College tapped three girls, all seniors, on Tuesday morning in the auditorium at the regular chapel period. Those honored were Eleanor Jenkins of Charlotte, Frances Marion O'Hair of Rock Hill, S. C., and Mary Griffin of Charlotte.

Dr. Samuel Byrd, chaplain of the chapter, led the devotional, after which Dr. W. H. Frazer gave a short discussion of the purpose and requirements of membership into the lina; Florence Nightingale, University | society. Dr. Dorisse Howe, secretaryof South Carolina and the Joan Circle, treasurer of the chapter, announced the names of those chosen and also Appointment of committees and announced that the Sigma Mu comreports of national officers were given petition will be held again this year. Prizes will be awarded for a research paper and for a creative paper at Commencement.

> The purpose of Sigma Mu is to stimulate effort for a high scholastic attainment. Requirements for admission are, for a junior, to have completed seventy hours of work toward the Bachelor of Arts degree and be in upper fifteenth of class; for a senior, to have completed one hundred hours and be in the upper tenth of class scholastic standing; and for a transfer, to have completed three-fourths of the work toward a degree.

> The organization was begun in 1937. The badge is an oblong key with the Greek letters Sigma Mu on each side of a raised Sphinx. Members are in three groups, faculty, honorary, which is alumnae, and undergrad-

> Belonging to the local chapter besides the three new members, are Dr. Frazer, Dr. Howe, Dr. Byrd, R. V. Kennedy, Sara Little, Dorothy Carson, Sue Mauldin, and Helen

Church Scene Of Vespers

The regular Sunday night vesper service at Queens-Chicora was postponed on last Sunday night so that the entire student body might attend the service at the Myers Park Presbyterian Church, at which time Dr. Taliaferro Thompson of the Union Theological Seminary at Richmond delivered an address.

Dr. Thompsons subject was "Friendship." In the course of his talk, he said, "Friendship is one of the most vital and worthwhile things in life. We like a person because of three things-what he, himself, is; what he does for you, what you do for him. It is the same with God. Just as you make friends in everyday life, you make friends with God."

over exaggeration of Puritanism. He urged them to also become openminded to other ideas and to other standards bringing them to the foreground of campus and community

Queens-Chicora was ably represented by Dr. M. Dorisse Howe and