

Truesdale Is To Be Queen Of Parade

Students Elect Maids of Honor

The Charlotte Merchants Association is sponsoring what promises to be the biggest parade ever held in Charlotte on November twenty-first, and a Queens girl, Miss Cornelia Truesdale, has been elected to rule as the Spirit of Christmas.

There will be in the parade five hundred costumed people, six or seven bands, and thirty-five floats.

The maids chosen to attend the Queen are: Marie Pons, Alice Clark, Lucille Blackburn, Harriet Davis, Ollie Meadows, Ann Wiley, Doris Raley, June Escott, Mary McDow, and Lib Brammer.

Holland Is New Head Of Linnean Club

The Linnean Club had its monthly meeting, Wednesday, November 6. Miss Sara Nooe, faculty adviser, discussed the projects for the year. She said that the members are going to make a map of the campus which will show the various kinds of trees and flowers that are on the college grounds. The group has planned also to have a well-kept bird feeding station. Field trips have been arranged for those interested in bird study or other phases of outdoor life. The club also hopes to help in some way with the construction of the outdoor oven which has been promised for the campus.

For the benefit of the new members, Miss Nooe told the two chief aims of the club. They are: to beautify the campus and to enjoy the out-of-doors. She also explained why the club had chosen the name "Linnean." The club is called this in honor of the great Swedish biologist, Linneaus, who did much work on the study and classification of plants and animals.

New officers for the year were elected at this meeting. They are Margaret Holland, president; Judy Scholl, vice-president; Ruth Alexander, secretary-treasurer; and Marian Miller, reporter.

The club meets the second Wednesday in each month. All girls interested are invited to attend.

We Present New Faculty Member

Michigan Grad Likes Queens

Gordon Sweet, one of Queens' new music instructors, did his undergraduate work at Michigan State Normal. He received his master's degree two years ago from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and taught there from that time until the end of last semester. He was initiated into Davidson's chapter of the Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, on Monday of this week.

As accustomed as Mr. Sweet is to the ticking of the metronome, he cannot BEAR to have a clock in his room. But he is the rare personage on our campus who doesn't mind getting up in the morning, just so an alarm clock doesn't do the waking up. He heartily dislikes all shades of purple and all brands of raw oysters. His spare time, what he has of it, is taken up with bridge and golf.

Mr. Sweet is "amazed at the friendship and cordiality which the students offer." He also states that Queens girls "realize their influence on the men-folk and subsequent influence on national affairs." He believes that girls today are taking their education more seriously than ever before.

The concert of the Queens-Davidson orchestra has been postponed. It will be presented in the Queens auditorium on Friday, November 22. The concert will begin at 8:00 P. M. All students, faculty, and friends of the college are invited to attend.

Seniors Are New Champs

"I'd rather be a Senior" can be sung with gusto by the champions of the volleyball tournament. The seniors showed a great deal of team work and their games were characterized by fast playing. Jennie Linn Wright and Mildred Taylor played stand-out ball consistently. The seniors won their first game over the sophomores by the score of 41-53 and topped the juniors with a score of 38-50. The Juniors had previously piled up a 64-14 win over the inexperienced freshman team. The final game between the runners-up, the juniors, and the seniors was perhaps the fastest and most exciting battle. Kitty Elmore played good ball for the freshmen throughout, and credit for almost perfect serves can go to Louise Blue and Gail Griffith of the sophomore girls, but playing honors go to Eva Johnson. For the juniors, Flora MacDonald and Jane Montgomery played good ball.

This Week's Winners According To . . .

It looks as if the games this week-end will have to be swimming parties, but let's hope for a change in weather and a change in my luck at picking teams and say that the Duke-Carolina classic will find the BLUE DEVILS winners. If the Blue Hose can live up to their last week's standard, then the PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE boys should do things to Wofford. Still down in South Carolina for two more games, NEWBERRY has the margin over Erskine, and FURMAN will triumph over the Birds from South Carolina. Coming back to ground most of the girls know pretty well, the DAVIDSON boys should do things to Hampden-Sydney. To The CITADEL, if they put what I really believe they are capable of putting behind that ball, they should defeat North Carolina State. Coming back to Clemson who has given us some big disappointments this season, I still stand behind them and say the mighty CLEMSON Tigers will triumph over the Southwestern boys. I'm still for the undefeated TENNESSEE eleven and so let's see what they can do to Virginia this week-end.
